AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Feed for Producing Milk.

The Practical Farmer says: It is well settled in the opinion of all our best dairymen, that bran greatly promotes the milk secretions in cows, and is fed almost universally. About equally mixed with corn meal is the usual proportion. This mixture seems to promote both quantity and quality of milk. From several sources we hear that buck-wheat bran is a great milk producer, and it is now being used considerably among our Chester county dairymen, in about the same proportions as the others.

Thomas Gawthrop, near West Grove, Chester county, also by repeated trials with his own cows, has fully satisfied himself that they do as well with corn and cob meal and bran, as with pure corn meal and bran. The amount of nutriment in corn cobs is so very small that this result will have to be explained on the supposition of the ground cob acting to promote digestion by distending the stomach. The presence of bulky material being necessary to promote digestion and fill up the stomachs of ruminating animals, before perfect digestion can be accomplished, is frequently lost sight of.—Hungarian grass is also found for milch cows to be rather superior to the ordinary run of hay. The last year or two Hungarian grass has loomed up wonderfully in the estimation of our dairy farmers; and a very large scope of land will be sowed with it the coming season. It matures for cutting in about sixty days, and produces from two to four tons per acre—the latter of course on good soils. Three pecks to the acre is the usual allowance of seed. Where a good hay market is convenient, this substitution of Hungarian grass for common hay in home feeding will be a clear additional source of profit.

Rules for the Care of Sheep.

1. Keep sheep dry under foot with litter. This is more necessary than roofing them. Never let them stand or lie in mud or snow.
2. Take up ram lambs early in the summer, and keep them up until December first, following, when they may be turned out.
3. Begin graining with the greatest care, and use the smallest quantity at first.
4. Give the lambs a little mill feed in time of weaning, and never frighten sheep if possible to avoid it.
5. Separate the weak, or thin, or sick, from the strong in the fall, and give to them special care.
6. If any sheep is hurt, catch it at once and wash the wound; and if it is fly time, apply spirits of turpentine daily, and always wash with something healing. If a limb is broken bind it up with splinters tightly, loosening as the limb swells.
7. Keep a number of good bells on the sheep to frighten dogs.
8. Do not let the sheep spoil their wool by chaff or burs.
9. Cut tag-locks in early spring.
10. For scours give pulverized alum in wheat bran; prevent by taking great care in changing dry for green food.
11. Shear at once any sheep commencing to shed its wool, unless the weather is too severe, and save carefully the pelt of any sheep that dies.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Ohio Farmer "having nothing to start with," purchased, on easy terms, "one of the poorest farms in the township," and made it productive. His plan is as follows: First, plow deep, then seed with wheat; in the Spring sow clover on the field; the summer after I took off the crop, I pasture one season, and the next season I let the clover grow up and come out in bloom, and when the heads begin to turn brown, I take my three horse plow and break up the land nine inches deep, and then sow in wheat again. The year following, in the Spring, turn up for corn to the depth of nine inches as at first.

TURKEY RAISING.—Farmers who live in sparse-settled districts, abounding in large dry pastures, can afford to give the time of a faithful and intelligent lad the whole summer through, to be devoted exclusively to rearing turkeys. The young broods must be watched as constantly as ever a shepherd watches sheep in a region infested by wolves. Every night, or during the day, on the approach of rain, they must be driven to a roomy shed with a tight roof. The mother birds and the young can be soon trained to being driven as easily as cows are driven to pasture. Give good forage ground, and keep out of rain and dew, and success is certain.

PROPAGATING APPLE TREES.—A new plan for increasing plantations of apple trees has lately been carried into extensive practice by the horticulturists of Bohemia. Neither seed nor grafting is required. The process is, to take shoots from the choicest sorts, insert them into a potato, and plunge both into the ground, leaving but an inch or two of the shoot above the surface. The potato nourishes the shoot, while it pushes out the roots; and the shoot gradually grows up, and becomes a beautiful tree, bearing the best fruit, without requiring to be grafted.

The above is not vouched for, but given for what it is worth.

DYSENTERY.—The following simple remedy has been known to cure the most obstinate cases of Dysentery, when other remedies had failed. It has the merit of being harmless, and almost always effectual: Take one-fourth of a pint of hot water; vinegar, half pint. Mix. Now add common salt as long as it will dissolve in the mixture, stirring it freely. Give for an adult one tablespoonful every hour, until the bloody discharges cease, or until it operates freely upon the bowels.

AN English farmer who has kept sheep for forty years says he has found rock salt a valuable antidote for liver rot, and that these animals cannot be too liberally supplied with this saving substance. He further declares that in cases of congestion of the liver or rot, he has found two tablespoonfuls of turpentine shaken up in a half pint of water and given to the sufferers a frequent cure unless the disease has made very great progress.

THE NEW TRANSLATION OF THE BIBLE. Bishop Ellicott, of the British and Foreign Bible Society, says that the new translation of the Bible now being made under the superintendence of English and American scholars, cannot be completed for many years, and after that the printing and proving will occupy a long time. The bishop is of the opinion, moreover, that the English public will hesitate before they accept the revised translation.

DR. WISTAR'S WILD CHERRY BALSAM.—This Balsamic compound has become a home feature. Small who suffer, and have in vain attempted to cure their coughs, colds, bronchial or pulmonary complaints, make use of this unequaled remedy. It can be relied upon, the mass of the testimony that has been published since its introduction, being full proof of its efficacy.

MISCELLANEOUS.

CHANGE OF SENTIMENT ON USURY.—A few years ago the grand jury—that is, the same judicial body which lately in New York investigated the matter of the violation of the usury laws—investigated similar charges against pretty much the same people, and presented a number of parties for trial, conviction being obtained in nearly every case, and punishment being inflicted by heavy fines. But on this occasion the grand jury were influenced in their proceedings by the changed sentiment of the business community as to the propriety, much less the policy, of the usury laws, and hence only "present," virtually indict, the laws themselves, and recommend their repeal as far as the city and county of New York are concerned. Thus the rural representatives who share the fears of their constituents that the repeal of the law will eventuate in dearer terms for the use of money borrowed by the farmers and country people upon bond and mortgage, have the opportunity, under the recommendation of the grand jury, to satisfy the business men of the great money centre, as well as their own constituents. But the general belief outside of rural districts is that free money will make easy money under any ordinary condition of things, but hardly so when the anomaly prevails of bands of stock gamblers locking it up under our peculiar financial machinery, and keeping it out of the reach of honest trade. While abolishing the usury laws that pack of harpies should also be abolished by penal laws made for the purpose.—Balto. Sun.

THE TIDE ON THE TURN.—Under this heading the N. Y. Herald makes some appropriate comments upon the result of the recent election in Connecticut. It says, editorially:

"Mr. Haven, the republican candidate for Governor, represented the party ring of the State, and stood before the people as the champion of this ring, and of all the ruling rings of his party at Washington and elsewhere, and of their acts and measures, and of their plans and policy, right or wrong. Hence his inglorious defeat. Local grievances and prejudices will not account for it. The Connecticut people have struck, through him, at those above him and beyond him, and this defeat of Haven is a warning and a rebuke to the Republican party of the State and of the nation. In the results of other recent elections, in St. Louis, Cincinnati, Cleveland and elsewhere, there are evidences or indications not only of general apathy in the Republican camp, but of general insubordination. In the State elections of September, October and November next, from present appearances, this Republican insubordination against party rings and party candidates will be very emphatically made manifest. The issues between the oppssition and the dominant party, growing out of the shortcomings and the corrupt doings of the late Congress, have hardly yet taken a definite shape; but in the interval to the fall elections the Republican budget of blunders at Washington and that at Albany will be fully exposed.

GET THE BEST.—Not only did Mr. Howe invent the First Sewing Machine, but for twenty-seven years of his life labored to render it more simple and effective, until it would seem that no candid observer, examining the simplicity of its construction, and perfectness of its work in all kinds of sewing, but must at once see and admit its general superiority to all others.

Not only is this true of its vital principles and its ingenious devices, but is also true in regard to the perfection of its manufacture. This has been attested by the authority—the machine receiving the First Prize at the Paris Exposition in 1867, and Elias Howe, Jr., the CROSS OF LEGION OF HONOR as promoter of the manufacture of Sewing Machines.—A. M. Gudgen, Chestertown, Md.

HON. JOHN W. GARRETT having purchased the valuable property on the corner of Light and German streets, immediately opposite the Carrollton Hotel, has commenced the erection of a building to accommodate four stores and a bank.

THERE is an anecdote of an English juror who, in a trial for murder, stood out doggedly for acquittal against the unanimous opinion of his fellows, and who confessed, many years afterwards, that he did so because he was himself the murderer.

A WRITER in a New York journal seriously advocates a return by ladies to the ancient Greek sandal, as being far more comfortable, having a handsome appearance, and less likely to injure the foot.

TO FARMERS!
"EXCELSIOR."
1873 1873

Composed of 800 lbs. of No. 1 Peruvian Guano, and 1200 pounds of Soluble Phosphate of Lime, (bones dissolved in sulphuric acid,) Potash and Soda, Forming the most concentrated, universal and durable fertilizer ever offered to the farmer—combining all the stimulating qualities of Peruvian Guano, and the ever durable fertilizing properties of Bones. Excelsior is in fine, dry powder, prepared expressly for drilling, and can be applied in any quantity, however small, per acre; and it is the opinion of many close calculating farmers, after FOURTEEN years experience in testing it side by side with other popular fertilizers, that an application of 100 pounds of Excelsior is equal to from 200 to 300 pounds of any other fertilizer or guano offered for sale, therefore is fully 100 to 200 per cent. cheaper.

Look out for imitations and counterfeits. The popularity of Excelsior has induced unscrupulous parties in this and other cities to copy our trade mark, and resort to other dishonorable means to sell their worthless compounds.

Farmers should see that every Bag is branded as above, with ANALYSIS and OUR NAME in RED LETTERS. All others are counterfeits.

TO THE PUBLIC.
THE subscriber most respectfully informs the public that he has made arrangements with Dr. Thos. H. Whaland to carry on his near Chestertown, for the present year.
His long experience in the business and his reputation as a Miller warrants him in the belief that he can give universal satisfaction.—As soon as practicable he intends to keep on hand a good supply of CORN MEAL,
WHEAT FLOUR of all Grades,
HORSE FEED, &c., &c.,
which he is determined to sell at reduced prices.
He only wants to make the regular toll, and will be compelled to sell for Cash only as his capital is small and he does not intend to keep books.
He will use all means to make the Mill a public convenience as well as a source of profit. A trial is all he asks.
Most respectfully,

THE EUREKA
FANNING MILL.
THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY!
Farmers Look to Your Interest!
THE attention of Farmers and Mechanics is particularly directed to the combined economy, utility and practicability of the Eureka Mill, and to the many other advantages it possesses over every other Fanning Mill which has been introduced to the public.
It is the fruit of long and patient investigation by the inventor, who has made it his constant study for over twenty years. He has secured several patents for Mills, and has always been rewarded with the best of success. But not feeling satisfied with his former attainments, he determined to reach the climax, and he now believes that his new invention will warrant him in exclaiming in the joy of his heart, like the philosopher, Phythagoras—EUREKA!—signifying in the Grecian language, "I have found it." This has given the name to this new Mill.
In this Mill are all the former improvements to which have been added several more, adding still greater advantages than were at first anticipated, or even thought possible by the inventor himself. It embraces the three great essentials necessary in every invention:
It combines ECONOMY, UTILITY and PRACTICABILITY!
THE "EUREKA" MILL
Is small and lighter, and is capable of doing more and better work in a given time than any other Mill ever invented.
IT IS THE ONLY MILL that will successfully remove from wheat all such pests as Cockle, Garlic, Oats, Rye, &c.
Should an extra quality of grain for seed or gristing purposes be required, it can be so arranged as to catch in one box perfect grain, and in the other, grain fit for market or mill. Here is made a great saving usually lost sight of: for nearly one quarter of the grain cleaned in the common Mill is lost when sown, on account of shrunken kernels and inferior grain. The Eureka Mill saves all this, and gives seed every kernel of which will grow when put into the ground, and this saving will, in a short time, pay for the Mill.
HINES & BURCHINAL,
Chestertown, Maryland,
Owners of the Mill, are having them manufactured at the Sash Factory and Planing Mill of Noland & Co., Port Deposit, Md., which is a guarantee that they will be put up in the best manner. jel7-tf.
