A Frightful Incident.—Mr. Fred. G. Usilton, of the NEWS, met with quite a frightful accident Monday evening while driving down Cross street, Chestertown. After a drive of several miles in the country, he placed in his runabout about a hundred empty medicine bottles, an accumulation of several years, and started to dispose of them, and he did, but not as originally intended. The young horse when near the P.E. Church, took fright at the rattle of the bottles and began to run. Mr. Usilton endeavored to stop him, but he had no breeching and it was impossible to gain control over the frightened animal. He dashed down Cross street at a terrific gait, the bottles smashing at each jump and the buggy striking him on the hind legs as the driver tried to hold him. Mr. U. realized that his life was in danger if he remainded in the vehicle, so with deliberation, he jumped out the rear of the buggy sustaining only a few scratches. The frightened horse ran into Mr. Wm. McKee's porch and fell, cutting his foreleg about seven inches. Dr. Jarman attended the animal. Mr. U. is advising everyone to use breeching.
