CHURCH NEWS.

Celebration of John Wesley Anniversary—Children's Day Programs in Many Kent Churches.

The Methodist churches will observe next Sunday with special programs, it being the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of John Wesley. Rev. D. L. Greenfield and Rev. E. P. Roberts will each preach on "John Wesley" at the morning service; at 3 P. M. a joint meeting of the Methodist Sunday schools will be held in Christ Church, to be addressed by Dr. Roberts, and at 8 P. M. a joint service will be held in the M. E. Church, to be addressed by Dr. Greenfield. Hymns written by John Wesley will be used exclusively.

Rev. W. M. Poisal filled the pulpit of Christ M. P. Church Sunday, the pastor being absent at the Western Maryland College commencement. Mr. Poisal was on this circuit many years ago. He is a ready talker, an excellent pastor and a fine singer, and although his head has become covered with silvered locks he does not evidence any lack of vigor either in discourse or in voice

Rev. S. B. Tredway, a former pastor of St. James, addressed the children and congregation of that church last Sunday morning.

Bi-centenary services will be held on the birth of John Wesley at the Chesterville M. E. Church South next Sunday at 11 o'clock, and in the afternoon at Trinity M. E. Church South, Millington, at 3. Rev. Mr. Ryder will speak on John Wesley and his influence on the civilization of America.

Children's Day services will be held in Trinity M. E. Church South, Millington, next Sunday night, June 21. All are invited.

Children's Day service was held last Sunday evening in the Lynch's M. P. Church and most beautifully did all the children perform their several selections. One of the crowning selections was rendered by four young ladies, Misses Lottie Copper and sisters, Sarah and Ruthie, and Daisy Jones. Miss Daisy Jones as the tired, sleepy child, was a sweet picture, and Miss Lottie Copper as her guardian angel bending so lovingly over her looked, with her large blue eyes and golden hair, every inch an angel; she even had wings, too. Misses Sarah and Ruth Copper also took their parts most gracefully, and all did well. "When I Get Rich," by Walter Mann and Harvey Melvin, was fine. Lillian Melvin and brother, John, sang a most beautiful duet, "Over the Sea." Miss Daisy Jones sang very sweetly a pretty solo, and Mrs. Etta Akers and brother sang a duet entitled "We Are Building for Eternity." Hallie and Lizzie Toulson, Annie Jones and in fact all of the children, boys and girls, were a credit to themselves and to the young ladies who so patiently trained them. Misses Lottie and Sarah Copper and Daisy Jones were for weeks training them.

The Children's Day service of Kennedyville M. P. FAIRLEE NOTES.

Schools have closed, and teachers and pupils have now their merited vacation. Our village school held a very pleasant and remunerative festival on last Saturday evening. The object of the festival was a deserving one, being to secure ample funds to procure a creditable library fund for the school.

Mr. Walter F. Sparks is critically ill at his home in Fairlee with typhoid fever and there seems to be other complications. Drs. Smith and Hines are in attendance and they are doing all they can to alleviate his suffering.

Mr. Norman Lee, son of Mr. William Lee, on Mr. James P. DeCorse's farm, is ill with typhoid also. Dr. Smith is attending him.

Your correspondent had the pleasure of attending the Sængerfest twice during this week. Truly it was a wonderful musical gathering.

DEATHS OF A WEEK.

Sudden Demise of a Young Lady at the Pippin Hotel in Chestertown—Here Attending Court.

Miss Beulah E. Geathers, of Havre de Grace, accompanied her father to Chestertown two weeks ago to testify in the case of Geathers vs. P., W. & B. R. R. for damages, and in which case the jury rendered a verdict of $1,000. She stopped at the Pippin Hotel. After the trial Miss Geathers was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism. A nurse was provided and everything possible was done to relieve her suffering, but the disease attacked her heart and she died suddenly Saturday morning. The father reached here only a few minutes after her death. She was in her 16th year. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson took charge of the remains, which were carried to Havre de Grace Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Estalena Woodlan Deringer died at the residence of her son-in-law, Dr. J. Horton Kelly, at Kennedyville, on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock from gastritis, brought on by shock at the death of her son, Henry Deringer, who died on Wednesday week. Funeral services were held at the home of Dr. Kelly on Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock, the Rev. Samuel Edson officiating. The remains were taken to Philadelphia on the 8 o'clock train and interment was made in Laurel Hill cemetery. The bearers were J. Herman Ireland, Woodland Deringer, J. Horton Kelly, W. W. Wallis, John Comegys, Wm. Dunken. Undertaker Wm. H. Krusen had charge of all arrangements.

The remains of Mrs. Mary E. Perkins were brought to Chestertown Monday afternoon by special car and funeral services were held in the M. E. Church at 4 P. M. A great concourse of friends and relatives turned out to pay their respect to the beloved woman and to express, not audibly but in action, their sympathy for the honored husband and upright children. Rev. E. P. Roberts, assisted by Rev. Samuel Thomas, conducted the services. The pall-bearers were the eight sons and two nephews, George and Thomas W. Perkins. Undertaker Dodd had charge of the arrangements.

The five-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cohee died Monday morning of cholera infantum. Funeral services were held Tuesday, Undertaker Ferguson in charge.

MRS. JAMES WHITE sent to the NEWS office a sample of her onions that had onions growing on both top and bottom of the stalk.

Mr. B. H. Coburn has a turkey hen with 35 chicks. The old hen died, but had a daughter which came to her before her death, hovered over the little chicks and took charge of them! The young turkey continues to lay and to look after her brood.

A Men's Festival.—The Christian Endeavor Society of Christ Church announce a novel festival to be held in Toulson's new store room, on High street, next Thursday evening, June 24th. The men will manage the whole affair, decorate the room, wait on the tables, make the ice-cream, make the cake and tell your fortune. Among the committeemen are the following: Hydie Thompson, W. A. Wheatley, Dr. H. G. Simpers, J. D. Bacchus, J. Waters Russell, W. W. Hubbard, J. E. Ferguson, Fred. G. Usilton, M. Elwood Baker, Harry and Jack Cannan, Harry Hoyle, W. B. Usilton, Jr., C. S. Smith, Wm. F. Russell, Walter U. Lusby, Ralph Barnett, A. M. Culp, J. H. Sides, Wm. Sutton, J. D. Lucas, Harry Barnett, J. F. Wheatley and many others.

THE STETSON "UNCLE TOM" COMPANY.

Almost true to nature and tradition is the company in "Uncle Tom's Cabin", which is booked to appear in Chestertown under canvas on Wednesday June 24th. All the old melodies are sung in that rich plaintive voice so peculiar to the Southern darkey. "The Old Folks at Home," "Suwanee River," "Picking Cotton" and Stephen Foster's never dying melodies will all be rendered by a large contingent of genuine plantation darkies, male and female. A Mississippi landing with the arrival of a cotton boat and the manner of its unloading, also genuine buck and wing dancing will be shown. In the Stetson Company, a wonderful exposition of life in the Sunny South among the slaves is given. The evolution of the negro since the late unpleasantness is forcibly demonstrated in the great cake walking contest, wherein twenty dusky belles and beaux vie with each other to win the cake. The cast of white artists with the company is said to be the strongest artistically ever seen in this production, while the parade and its many novel features are, we are assured, a revelation in outside display for a company playing in opera houses.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad remembrance of our two babies that are dead and gone but not forgotten. The first one was LILLY JANE who died July 1st, 1891, aged 6 months and 21 days; and the second one died July 3, 1902, aged 6 months and 18 days, daughters of Martha M. and Alonzo P. Foreman.

Dearest sisters, you are both at rest,
And shall forever be;
You could not stay on earth with us,
But we can come to thee. SISTER.

Their little forms are stilled,
Their loving voices hushed;
Help us to bear with the thoughts of them,
At times our hearts seem crushed.
Lord, take those two little buds,
With mother's tears were wet,
And let them bloom around Thy throne,
And say parents do not forget. PARENTS.
