

THE SOCIAL WANDERER

DEAR ROAMER:

One of my not too ardent readers told me once that he always knew when I was short of news for on such occasions I went into ecstasies over the butterflies, daisies, and birds of the air, to say nothing of the weather. I didn't deny it, even if it was hard to be caught up on your tricks. My reply was, "Try it every week yourself and perhaps you'll resort to more than butterflies."

Well, I'm at the cross roads once more, and alas! there are no daisies or butterflies in sight, the weather is delightful and so the only bird, or fowl, I know to write about is the delicious wild duck, which one has the good fortune either seldom or frequently to enjoy. Said waterfowl have been the occasion for the past three weeks for many small dinner parties, all of which the hostess is assured of pre-eminent success. Breathes there a man with taste so dead who does not crave the flavor?

But passing on from a discourse on epicurism, the pen slides to the season of Christmas which is on us, approaching with vivid speed. Few of us are ready. We never are.

However, the hustle and bustle sometimes is half the fun. All the college and school crowd will be piling home this coming week, houses as you enter, have that unmistakable aroma of fruit cakes baking, cookies in the oven, and the scent of cedars and pines ready to be used for decorations, or trimmed. Yes, the holiday air prevails. The Country Club will hold its first dance next Friday night, the night before Christmas Eve. Practically all the visitors and home-comers will be here by then, and with spiffy music engaged, the evening promises to be a gay one.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Deringer will entertain at a small supper party prior to the dance and there will no doubt be many other parties, all of which make a dance go over much better.

The other dance at the Club will be New Year's Eve. This one, is always wonderfully attended and enjoyed and so with two outstanding parties on hand besides the innumerable ones which pop up, the holidays will no doubt be one of fun and merriment. Miss Priscilla Granger will entertain at an egg-nogg party before the New Year's Eve dance, and judging from the one last year, the invitation was readily accepted by those on her list.

Miss Patsy Branham continues to be feted. Today, Miss Harriett Louisa Rogers and Miss Mary Woodland Westcott will be joint hostesses at a tea in honor of Miss Branham when they will entertain the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority of which Miss Branham is a member.

Dr. Gertrude Ingles, will entertain the Sorority at tea to-morrow. Sunday afternoon, in honor of the bride-to-be, the holidays will be held at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony will take place in St. Mark's M. E. Church, Baltimore at 7:30 on Tuesday evening, December 27th. Dr. Farr and his bride will make their home here after a wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Lambert entertained two hundred guests at dinner last evening at their home near town, in honor of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. C. Kent Lambert, Jr., whose marriage took place recently. Mrs. Lambert was formerly Miss Alice Marian Sterling.

Mrs. William Ellington and Miss Betty Peach, of Washington, D. C., will be week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Usilton. Mr. and Mrs. Ellington will both spend the Christmas holidays here. Mrs. Ellington, until her recent marriage was the former Miss Nancy Jean Usilton.

Mrs. Catherine Beck Jones, who is spending the month of December at the Sophie Fisher, Inn, has returned from Baltimore where she was the guest of honor at a party given by Mrs. William Bryan and Mrs. Mason Wood.

Prof. Andy Dewling, of Baltimore, was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Crouch.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Bowers and Mr. and Mrs. Conlyn E. Nolan recently held a joint celebration of their wedding anniversaries.

But there are packages to be wrapped, cards to write and a million other little get-readies. Therefore, I'm signing off right now, hoping I'll not be too late for Santa.

Yours for speed,

T W
HE ANDERER

ODDS AND ENDS FROM C. H. S.

By Betty Jeanne Groves
Monday afternoon the shining faces of some students and the disappointed ones of others showed beyond a doubt that this was the day reports had been distributed. After careful checking of marks it was found that the Honor Roll for November consisted of:

Chestertown High seems to have caught the Christmas spirit. Besides the programs by the various classes scheduled for the twenty-third, plans are being made for several parties.

On Friday evening December sixteenth the Boys and Girls Athletic Associations are holding their annual party in the school auditorium. The junior class is also planning a party, which promises to be a gay affair, for Wednesday evening, December twenty-first.

Progress is being made for the production, "The Birds' Christmas Carol" which is to be presented by the faculty and friends of the school on Monday and Tuesday evenings, December 19 and 20 in William Smith

Hall.
