F. H. Harper & Son,

STILL POND, MARYLAND

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Anna Maria Maxwell, of Still Pond.—

Her spirit has gone to the source of light
There, all is beautiful, clear and bright.
There hosannas are chanted by Angel bands
In that Regal mansion not made with hands.

Death brings us blessings in disguise,
From the garden of infinite mysteries.
Let us not weep, but rejoice and pray
And await with patience, God's own way.

There is not a cloud on the smiling sky
That He has not fashioned its radiancy,
There is not a songster in realms of air
That He does not notice, with tenderest care.

How trifling and small are the hours and days,
How infinitesimal our earthly ways.
When eternity opens its portals grand
And we get a glimse of the Heavenly land.

And we see the visions of ages gone.
And the splendors of ages yet to come,
Paradise gained is freedom from care
Let us not weep, for Christ is there.

Come weary and sick, heavy-laden and poor
He says come to me, thy comforter.
In my father's house are mansions of gold
Not made with hands, with glories untold.

There love reigns and peace and rest,
Where my loved ones of earth are eternally blest.
Let us not weep but rejoice and pray.
And await with patience God's own way.

ROSALIE MITCHELL SCHUYLER.

DEATH OF MR. FORD.

The funeral of the late George M. Ford who was killed by the falling of a tank last week took place Sunday from his late home in Galena. It was very largely attended and the flower offerings were abundant and beautiful. Revs. Smoot and Prettyman officiated interment in Galena Cemetery. The bearers were Messrs. John McIntyre, Edw. Cannan, Wm. and Daniel Steele, John Newnam, Alex. Powell. About fifty members of the Junior Order were present and the following resolutions were passed:

A TRIBUTE.

The officers and members of Harmony Council, No. 87 Junior Order of United American Mechanics, bow in deep sorrow to the divine will of their Heavenly Father in permitting the removal of our brother, George M. Ford, who was esteemed by all.

WHEREAS, We are desirous of expressing our sense of his worth and sterling integrity. Therefore be it

Resolved—The order has lost a good member who was ever zealous in all things pertaining to the welfare and interests of the order.

Resolved—That by bowing meekly to the dispensation of an all wise Providence, we offer this tribute to the worth of our deceased brother, and that his memory fragrant with exalted virtues will ever be held by us in highest esteem and affectionate regard.

Resolved—That these resolutions be spread in the minutes on a memorial page, a copy sent to the beloved family, and same inserted in one of the county papers.

Mrs. James Johnson and daughters Misses Louise and Flora are visiting at St. Georges.

Politics are very exciting here. Our genial blacksmith, Mr. Medders seems to have things his own way here and it is said will carry the 2nd District.

SASSAFRAS ITEMS.

Bishop Leighton Coleman, of the Episcopal Diocese, arrived at his home on Monday after six months abroad, and will be given an elaborate reception on Wednesday evening.

The sad occurrence of two graves dug on the same day was witnessed here last week. These were the graves of Mrs. Caulk and Mr. Johns.

We were greatly shocked to learn of the death of Mr. James Johns on Wednesday last. And it will be that devoted mother who will most feel his loss. Mr. Johns never was very robust in health, consequently was much with his widowed mother. He died from heart failure. The funeral services were held from his late home Sunday conducted by Rev. F. S. Cain and very largely attended. The interment was in Rehoboth M. P. cemetery. The pall bearers were Alex. T. Laws, Robert S. Johnson, Walter Clayton, John Tarbutton, Arnold Stewart, J. T. Shallcross.

ROCK HALL ITEMS.

There was a "hot time in the old town" on Saturday night. Politics was "biling" over. The organization Democrats had their war paint on and were out for a red hot fight to the close of the primaries. The anti's in the main were ashamed of their "Hope," while a few of them apologized for their machine-built convention by saying it wasn't any worse than the "Smith-Hynson" machine had done for years. The independents replied that jumping from the frying pan into the fire was a foolish way to reform party methods. We were looking for the display of wisdom on the part of the "Barrolites." The Republicans are enjoying the fun, and not a few Democrats are urging the G. O. P.'s to nominate a good ticket, so that an effort can be made to give the Democrats the biggest "trouncing" they ever had in the county; but the present ballot system deters the G. O. P. leaders from encouraging the idea of placing a ticket in the field.

Many regret the withdrawal of big "Tom" from the commissionership contest, but they realize that the muscular Edesville blacksmith is a worthy successor. Wm. Wagner is a man of the people, worthy of the votes of all good citizens.

By the purpose of Capt. Jim Hatcherson to have the eastern line of his farm re-surveyed in order to place a fence thereon, the Barroll faction has lost 12 votes in Allen's Lane. These fellows take very little interest, as a rule, in primary politics. This time, however, they are out for "blood" and are leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to "do" the fellows.

Rev. Warren Burr and party returned from Washington on Friday of last week. They report a most pleasureable trip. They were escorted through the city in an automobile car in their sight seeing, taking in the Treasury Department, Corcoran Art Gallery, Library and other places of interest. The ladies caught a snap shot view of the President through the courtesy of a policeman, but Mr. Burr was more fortunate. On Thursday at 5 a. m. he had a full view of Mr. Roosevelt as he was returning from a horseback ride, booted and spurred in rough rider style. All were charmed in everything they observed, and Mr. Burr was specially charmed in a spiritual sense with the business which called him to the National Capital.

Mr. A. Alexander is about to make extensive improvements to his old store building by removing the south wing and painting the front. Mr. F. A. Shreck will do the painting. Mr. Alexander talks of removing to the old building and conducting the business at that stand, while Mr. M. Alexander will continue at the new store. This arrangement does not by any means suit Madame Alexander, she having built up a first-class millinery trade in the village and thinks it impossible to carry the full trade to the lower store, hence her desire to remain uptown.

The Steamboat Company and Dr. Sharp having failed to agree on the wharf deal, Capt. Gladden, with his power boat, is again serving our shippers and others in the freighting business for the summer.

Mr. George Faucett, of New Jersey, is visiting among relatives here.

Rev. Mr. Burr claims to have the finest potato patch in the district. He is a lover of garden work and his garden is in a splendid state of cultivation.

Mr. William Biggs, one of our young (?) sports, assumed the role of short stop in a game of baseball the other day and caught the ball under his left eye. Since then he has been carrying a prominent bruise on his visage.

Among our farmers corn thinning is the order of the day. Boys of all sizes are in great demand and scores of them are in the fields happy as larks. Why? Because they are getting 75 cents and three square meals per day.

One of the most notable and enjoyable social events of the year took place in K. of P. Hall, Piney Neck, on the evening of May 18th, it being the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Lake. The hall was beautifully arranged and refreshments most delicious and in great abundance were served until a late hour. Miss Mae Saulsman, a splendid elocutionist of Washington, D. C., rendered a fine recitation, after which, to the strains of delightful music, furnished by Prof. Bryden and Messrs. Jesse Bryden, Clarence and S. Edwards, the happy throng indulged in dancing till about 3 a. m., when they departed for their homes, expressing their admiration for the evening's entertainment and wishing the bridal couple many happy returns of May the 18th. The presents were numerous and pretty. Among the guests, besides those mentioned, were: Rev. G. S. Conoway, Messrs. Wm. Crouch and wife, Singleton Bryden and wife, Joseph Ashly and wife, Alpheus Wilson and wife, Henry Mercer and wife, J. Heinefield and wife, James Frazier and wife, Thos. Shriver and wife, Frank Collison and wife, Arnold Bryden and wife, Carroll Shriver and wife, Romie Crouch and mother, John Grant and family, Will Mercer and wife, James Boulter and wife, Jas. Edwards and wife, W. Edwards and wife, R. Elburn and wife, Mrs. Dora Crouch, Mrs. Jennie Kendall, Mrs. Jesse Bryden, Mrs. Clarence Edwards, Mrs. Stewart Edwards, Mrs. Hortense Harp, of Baltimore, Misses Mae Gilbert, of Baltimore, Laura Bryden, Mamie Crouch, Annie Jones, Nora Crouch, Lillian Frazier, Minnie Peters, Ida Mercer, Naomi Harp, Geneva Wilson, Messrs. Frank Parsons, Wm. Jones, Herbert Urie, Edward Urie, Chas. Stevens, Frank Price, John Frazier, Wm. Apsley, Milville Apsley, Lee Edwards, Harry Edwards, Harry Hynson, Wm. Hyland, Gilmore Bryden, John Bryden, Cleveland Ashley, Edgar Strong, Wilbur Cannan, Geo. Ashley, Richard Grant, Henry Mercer, John Dolan, John Grant, Jr., and many others.

Mrs. Leonard E. Plummer and little son Earle, of Worton have been spending the past week with her parent Mr. B. H. Coburn of near Rock Hall.

CHURCH NOTES.

The preparations for the big C. E Convention in Baltimore in July are assuming large proportions. A Choir of 2400 voices is rehearsing in sections and will be inspiring to listen to. Several cities are waging a great campaign to have the 1907 convention meet in their city. Los Angeles, Cal., will send a car load of oranges and serve free orangeade to advertise its merits.

Children's Day services will be held at St. James M. P. Church next Sunday morning; at Salem M. E. Church at night, and in both the Methodist Churches in Chestertown at night.

On The Diamond.—The Kennedyville Club came to Chestertown last Saturday and won two victories. The first was a five inning game, played with the C. A. C; score 9 to 0 in favor of Kennedyville. The same afternoon Kennedyville met and defeated the Chestertown High School; score 16 to 8.

The second team of Washington College defeated the Centreville High School last Saturday afternoon on the college campus. Score 22 to 18.

Messrs. Moody & Lusby, the well-known clothiers, presented the Chestertown High School club with a dozen beautiful pennants in the club's colors, sable and gold.

THE Worton Presbyterian Festival last week was very largely attended and $54 realized.
