SAVED BY A VENTRILOQUIST

Mr. Fred High, The Well Known Ventriloquist And All Around Entertainer Tells The Following Strange Story.

At the Kansas City depot, where I was one time waiting for a train, an Irishman sat down on a rough box that contained a coffin. A faint voice was heard within the box: "Oh, please take me out of here, I am dying." The Irishman looked around, and seemed utterly astonished when he saw what he was sitting upon. The voice still cried: "Please get me out of here." The Irishman said: "Is this the dead speaking?" To this question he only received the faint moan: Oh, oh!"

The Irishman called two of his friends to his assistance and proposed that they open the coffin and rescue the dead man, and as they all heard a faint groan within, it was decided to remove the lid; but as they were in the midst of their work, a middle-aged woman, in widow's weeds, put in a fierce objection. She raged with indignation. It was explained to her that the man was not dead, that he had called for help, but she said: "I know that my husband is dead, and I won't have him disturbed." But the son of Erin would not allow a mere widow to stop him in a humane work. "I heard the corpse call for help," he said, "and if there is any help to be brought to him I'm going to bring it." So, while one man argued with the woman in tears—she wept, sobbed and scolded—they went right on, removed the top from the box, and while the woman shrieked and appealed to heaven, they lifted the lid from the casket, and to their utter surprise found the coffin filled with flasks of gin, whisky and other products of the Kentuck mountains.

The funeral that was supposed to be billed for a small town in Kansas did not take place that day for the want of a corpse.

The supposed widow was smuggling this contraband fire water into prohibition Kansas. When I boarded the train for Texas, I saw all hands were sharing the widow's grief, and, like Rip Van Winkle, were trying to drown their sorrow in the flowing bowl.

NEW CHESTER RIVER LINE.

Representative of Syndicate in Baltimore Seeking Suitable Vessell For Route.

A representative of the syndicate backing the proposed new freight and passenger line between Chestertown, Kent county, Md., and other points on the Chester river was in Baltimore this week seeking a suitable steamer to be placed on the route. The vessell must be of light draft to enable her to touch wharves beyond Chestertown, at the head of the Chester river, and also points which the heavier draft vessels cannot reach.

It is said that the merchants of Chestertown and villages along the route, as well as a number of representative farmers and fruit growers in both Kent and Queen Anne counties, will be asked to subscribe to stock of the new company. A steamboat man well known in business circles in Baltimore, it is said will represent the new enterprise at that end of the line.

It was reliably reported to-day, that the gasoline freight vessells Sarah Wingate and Velma Brooks, of the Chesapeake Freighting Company, operated between Chester river points and this city by Capt. Cecil R. Atkinson, have been bought by Mr. James D. Lucas, a merchant of Chestertown. Because of the narrowness of the draw of Chester bridge, spanning the river at Chestertown, the Corsica has for many years been the only boat of the Chester River Steamboat Company that could pass through to Crumpton and other points up the river beyond Chestertown. In consequence, no regular passenger or freight service has been given an extensive and fertile territory in Kent and Queen Anne counties, which, it is claimed, will be reached by the boats of the projected steamer line and the vessels purchased by Mr. Lucas.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of James T. Hanson, aged 8 died July 1st, 1901.

Time's mill has made another turn
Since last I saw his face,
But still I glance with searching eyes
At his accustomed place
Thou art gone but not forgotten
In this great world of strife,
Thou shalt always be remembered,
As long as God gives me life.
So pure, so good, so fit for Heaven,
I cannot bring our loved one back,
But I can look across the tide
Where in a few more days and years
I will again be by his side,
Where parting will be no more,
Gone but not forgotten.

DRIFTING TOWARDS BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Many people who are neglecting symptoms of kidney trouble, hoping "it will wear away," are drifting towards Bright's Disease, which is kidney trouble in one of its worst forms.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

stops irregularities, strengthens the urinary organs and builds up the worn-out tissues of the kidneys so they will perform their functions properly. Healthy kidneys strain out the impurities from the blood as it passes through them. Diseased kidneys do not, and the poisonous waste matter is carried by the circulation to every part of the body, causing dizziness, backache, stomach trouble, sluggish liver, irregular heart action, etc.

If you have any signs of Kidney or Bladder Trouble commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at once, as it will cure a slight disorder in a few days and prevent a fatal malady. It is pleasant to take and benefits the whole system.

How to Find Out.

You can easily determine if your kidneys are out of order by setting aside for 24 hours a bottle of the urine passed upon arising. If upon examination it is cloudy or milky or has a brick-dust sediment or small particles float about in it, your kidneys are diseased, and FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE should be taken at once.

G. B. Burhans Testifies After Four Years.

G. B. Burhans of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes:

"About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick-dust sediment and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed, and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble."

Two Sizes, 50 Cents and $1.00.
