The North Carolina Volcano.

The Excitement at Bald Mountain—Wonderful Scenes of Terror and Despair—A Congregation of Awe-Stricken People—Sixteen Days of Praying and Shouting.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., March 20.—For the last twenty days the greatest excitement has prevailed within a distance of twenty-five miles around the vicinity of Bald mountain. This mountain is situated between Crooked creek, in McDowel county, and Broad river, the mountain also extending into Rutherford county. That portion of the range within McDowel county is generally called Stone mountain.—The first signs of alarm in this locality were witnessed on the tenth of February. This consisted in what the people call a terrible lumbering, the earth seeming to quiver to a frightful extent. Some parties described it as terrible thunder, gradually dying away in the distance. Others describe the noise as the roaring of heavy artillery in the distance.

On the 12th of February two gentlemen were on the highest point of Bald mountain, known as "Harris View," which is said to be next to Mount Mitchell in height. On that day these gentlemen heard this strange noise. One says it first reminded him of the falling of heavy timber, and presented a strange combination of sounds and impressions. Parties living on the mountain side and at the foot heard the same. All think that the noise was in the mountain. One man says that when he was on one side of the mountain the terrible noise was in the direction of the mountain, and when on the opposite side the same indications were observed

All feel satisfied that the noise proceeds alone from this mountain, but on the 22d of February the noise had reached such a point as to become perfectly terrible.

Among the persons living on this mountain are Mr. Camp, Johnston Elliott, Noan Elliow, Widow Nauny, George Morgan, James Gilbert, and others. From a statement of all these parties, and perhaps fifty others, the mountain was actually shaken. The moving was like the entire mountain was giving way. The tableware and furniture in the house all rocked and jolted with frightful force. One man was riding on horseback, and his horse became fearfully frightened. It is said that the cattle have become alarmed, and wandered from their usual range.

Such was the alarm that about twelve o'clock at night on the 22d the people for miles around began to assemble at the house of a man by the name of Camp, and Camp having gone to the wood pile for wood became so alarmed that he fell upon his knees and began to pray aloud. Very soon the terrible quaking of the mountain was such that the great crowd now assembled engaged in prayer. At daybreak on Monday morning George Logan, a colored Baptist preacher, was sent for in great haste, and so impatient were they of his arrival that a portion of the crowd met him on the road, beseeching him to come and pray and preach.

The people thus assembled remaind in these devotions three days, when they moved a short distance to a vacant house, the property of Harris Elliott. About the third day Billy Logan, a white man and a Baptist preacher, was sent for, who came immediately. On the 3d of March J. M. Lumly, the Methodist minister in charge of the Broad river mission, was importuned to attend and preach, who promptly complied with the request.

The scenes are described by an eye-witness as most strange and extraordinary. The people came flocking in crowds of fifteen and twenty, including men, women, and children, all presenting the most terrible state of fear, despair, and penitence.

On the day Mr. Lumly preached the house was literally packed, the preacher barely having room to stand. So great was the rush to hear that many climbed up the side of the wall and crowded on the joists above, only a portion of the upper story having a floor, and many, not being able to enter the house, crowded their heads in the door and all around the house, manifesting the most intense interest.—When the call was made for mourners the people rushed from all parts of the house and from outside, with almost frantict yells, and fell upon the floor and upon each other, all praying and supplicating in the most heartfelt and agonizing manner ever witnessed on earth.

These exercises continued incessantly for sixteen days and nights, with but little intermission. During this time the people all lived in common. No attention was given to labor or property. Cattle, horses, and hogs, were turned to the woods, and the entire people within the range of this awful excitement have concluded that they have but a few more days to live. About one hundred have made profession of religion.

The closing scene of this strange meeting are represented as most peculiar and wonderful. During most of this period of sixteen days the mountain had continued at intervals to present the same alarming impressions, but having prayed, shouted, sung and agonized for this long period, they seperated with the promise that all would remain and die if necessary. It is said that the awe-stricken countenances and melancholy demeanor of this vast crowd on the breaking up of the devotions are beyond description.

A letter was received in this city today by a gentleman whose mother resides near Bald mountain, stating that near the summit of that peak an area of nearly an acre was agitated by subterranean upheavals and then sinking, from which smoke and vapor issued.

The Great Antagonist of Disease.

What is the natural antagonist of disease? It is the vital principle. From the moment that disease is developed in the system, this champion fights the intruder until it either conquers or is conquered. Which side should medical science espouse in this life and death struggle? Should it depress and cripple the physical energies of the patient, thereby helping disorder, or should it reinforce the the vitality of the patient and thereby assist in quelling the ailment? Of course the proper answer to this question must be obvious to every one above the grade of an idiot or a lunatic, and hence it follows that the weak and broken down invalid who chooses to dose himself with depleting slops, instead of toning, invigorating and vitalizing his enervated frame with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, must be either feeble minded or deranged. Surely nothing short of imbecility or insanity could induce a person laboring under bodily weakness and nervous prostration, to take day after day powerful doses of some drastic purgative in the hope of gaining strength thereby. Although charlatans may advertise preparations of this character as tonics, people in the full possession of their reason can not, one would think, accept them as such. If they do the penalty of their credulity may be the shortening of their lives. The rheumatic, the dyspeptic, the bilious, the debilitated and nervous, and all who are subject to intermittents, or other diseases brought on by the inclement weather which prevails at this season, will do well to strengthen their nerves, tone their stomachs and regulate their bowels with the Bitters. The two-fold operation of the restorative as an invigorative and an aperient, in addition to its direct and specific effect upon the disordered liver, renders it a most efficient remedy for complaints of the digestive, secretive and excretive organs, at present in use. This fact is conceded by eminent members of the faculty whose testimony to that effect is published in Hostetter's Almanac for 1874.

A WOMAN EURIED ALIVE.—Information was received in Pittsburg recently that a terrible horror had just been unearthed at Chapmanville. Two weeks ago a woman named Martha Coggswell, wife of Anthony Coggswell, a drover, died as was supposed, in the villiage named, and was buried. Her husband was absent at the time. His first knowledge of his wife's death was on Thursday last, when he returned home. Almost wild with grief, he insisted on her body being exhumed, so that he could see the remains. This was done, and the coffin was opened in the presence of several friends. To the unutterable horror of all, the body had changed its position in the coffin, showing that Mrs. Coggswell had been buried while she was in a trance. The body was lying on its face. Evidence of a fearful struggle made by the unfortunate woman when she recovered consciousness in the coffin were visible. The flesh was torn from one shoulder, and the shroud was covered with blood. When Mr Coggswell saw what a terrible fate his wife had met he fell senseless across the coffin, and has been a raving maniac ever since.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

THE CAREER OF PAUL SCHŒPPE.—Paul Schœppe, who has conferred upon himself the title of doctor, was conducted back to Chicago Wednesday evening, where he is to be tried for forgery and other swindling operations. The career of this man in Europe and America, if statements from credible authority on both continents are to be received, has earned for him the reputation of one of the great criminals of the age. If not guilty, as an impartial Pennsylvania jury pronounced him, of the murder of Miss Steinnecke, his efforts to get possession of her estate show him to be a thorough paced swindler, whose impudence has no limits. Whereat at first he represented himself as a legatee of Miss Steinnecke, and is believed to have forged the will in which he was made such, he now asks to be awarded the personal estate of this unfortunate lady as her surviving husband. Perhaps it is part of his plan to introduce that exemplary clergyman, Pastor Schœppe, to testify that he had united the two in holy wedlock. There can be but little doubt that Pastor Schœppe's memory would be equal to that performance if a final demand were made upon it. We are sorry to learn that so exemplary a father should so disowned by so promising a son, for we learn that "Dr." Schœppe confidently communicated to one of his visitors in the Baltimore jail that Pastor Schœppe was not his father, but that he had been taken into the family of the pastor when a small boy, which we dare say is true in one sense, if not in that which this ingenuous person wishes to convey it. Why Pastor Schœppe is now to be disowned by his ungrateful offspring is not easily to be understood, unless Paul is determined to keep up his claims to belong to the aristocratic house of Schulenburg, having found his title of such advantage to him in his recent travels. The cool hypocricy and audacity of the man are somewhat remarkable. The career of his libertinism since he left the Carlisle jail has been almost equal to that of the frauds which have culminated in five indictments for forgery in Chicago. Though we are justified in apprehending that the longest term in the penitentiary to which his crimes may consign him will work no change in the nature which, after such an escape from death as his in Carlisle, still prove incorrigible, his hitherto successful crimes ought to quicken the vigilance of the community against such imposters, and admonish those in society who are so impressible by "counts" and other pretentious or titled strangers, that it is well to bear in mind the old copy-book maxim that "appearances are sometimes, if not always deceitful," and be cautious upon whom they bestow their confidence.

"EXCELSIOR."

Composed of 800 pounds of No. 1 Peruvian Guano, and 1200 lbs. of Soluble Phosphate of Lime, (bones dissolved in sulphuric acid,) Potash and Soda,

Forming the most concentrated, universal and durable Fertilizer ever offered to the farmer—combining all the stimulating qualities of Peruvian Guano, and the ever durable fertilizing properties of Bones. In fine dry powder, prepared expressly for drilling, and can be applied in any quantity however small, per acre. It is the opinion of many close calculating Farmers, after SIXTEEN YEARS' experience in testing it side by side with other popular fertilizers, that an application of 100 pounds of Excelsior is equal to from 200 to 300 pounds of any other fertilizer or guano, and therefore fully 100 to 200 per cent. cheaper.

UNIFORMITY of QUALITY guaranteed by the manufacturers.

Farmers should see that every Bag is branded as above, with the ANALYSIS and OUR NAME in RED LETTERS. All others are counterfeits.

PROTECT YOUR BUILDINGS!

Which may be Done with Less than Quarter the Usual Expense by the Use of GLINES' PATENT SLATE ROOFING PAINT!

A Roof may be covered with a very cheap shingle, and by the application of this Slate be made to last from 25 to 50 years. Old Roofs can be patched and coated, and made to look much better, and last longer than new shingles without the Slate, for

ONE-THIRD THE COST OF RE-SHINGLING

The cost of Slating new Shingles is only about the cost of simply laying them, and the Slate is Fire-Proof against sparks and live coals falling upon it, as may be easily tested by any one, and as approves from the fact that Insurance Companies make the same tariff that they do for slated roofs. For tin and iron it has no equal, as it expands by heat, contracts by cold, and

NEVER CRACKS OR SCALES.

For Cemetery Fences it is particularly adapted, as it will not corrode in the most exposed places. Roofs covered with Tar Sheathing Felt can be made water-tight at a small expense.

The Slate or Paint is Extremely Cheap!

Two gallons will cover a hundred square feet of shingle roof, or over four hundred of tin or iron. Price of the Slate, ready for use, is $3 gal., per gallon, $10 per half-bbl., or $20 per bbl. of about 50 gallons, with a liberal discount to the trade. We furnish and apply the material at $6.50 per 100 square feet in the vicinity of Slatington. We use

NO TAR IN THIS COMPOSITION

Somewhat does not affect the water from the roof, if turned off from the cistern for the first one or two rains. The Paint has a very heavy body, boils easily applied with a brush, and is odorless. It covers, fills the old and rotten shingles (if filled up the holes and prepares hardest them, and gives a new and substantial roof that will last for years. On curled or warped shingles, it brings them to their places and keeps them there. It fills up the holes in Tin or Pitched Roofs, and stops the leaks. One coat is equal to two of ordinary paint. The color of the Slate when freshly applied is a dark purple; in about a month it changes to a light, uniform slate color.

And is to All Intents and Purposes Slate.

It is a slow dryer, but rain will not affect it in the least in one hour after it is put on. Samples sent to any part of the country by Express, c. o. d., at the following prices. If ordered to be sent by freight, the money must accompany the order:

1 gallon and can	$1.50	15 gallons and keg	$13.50

DR. RADWAY'S

Sarsaparillian Resolvent

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

HAS MADE THE MOST ASTONISHING CURES: SO QUICK, SO RAPID ARE THE CHANGES THE BODY UNDERGOES, UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF THIS TRULY WONDERFUL MEDICINE, THAT

Every Day an Increase in Flesh and Weight is Seen and Felt.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other Fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of those forms of disease its power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of waste, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney & Bladder Complaints,

Urinary and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the small of the Back and along the Loins.

Tumor of 12 Years' Growth Cured by Radway's Resolvent.
