The Grange Not Partisan.

The following is the fifth article of the Declaration of Purposes by the National Grange at its seventh annual session, held at St. Louis, February, 1874:

5. We emphatically and sincerely assert oft-repeated truth taught in our organic law, that the Grange—National, State and subordinate—is not a political party organization. No Grange, if true to its obligations, can discuss political or religious questions, nor call political conventions, nor nominate candidates, nor even discuss their merits in its meetings. Yet the principles we teach underlie all true politics, all true statesmanship, and, if properly carried out, will tend to purify the whole political atmosphere of our country. For we seek the greatest good to the greatest number. We must always bear in mind that no one by becoming a Patron of Husbandry gives up that inalienable right and duty which belongs to every American citizen, to take a proper interest in the politics of his country. On the contrary, it is right for every member to do all in his power legitimately to influence for good the action of any political party to which he belongs. It is his duty to do all he can in his own party to put down bribery, corruption and trickery; to see that none but competent, faithful and honest men, who will unflinchingly stand by our industrial interests, are nominated for all positions of trust, and to have carried out the principle which should always characterize every grange member, that the office should seek the man, and not the man the office. We acknowledge the aroad principle that difference of opinion is no crime, and hold that "progress towards truth is made by differences of opinion," while "the fault lies in bitterness of controversy." We desire proper equality, equity and fairness; protection for the weak, restraint upon the strong; in short justly distributed burdens and justly distributed power. These are American ideas, the very essence of American independence, and to advocate the contrary is unworthy the sons and daughters of an American republic. We cheerish the belief that sectionalism is, and of right ought to be, dead and buried with the past. Our work is for the present and the future. In our agricultural brotherhood and its purposes we shall recognize no North, no South, no East no West. It is reserved by every Patron, as the right of a freeman, to affiliate with any party that will best carry out his principles.

PAT HIM.

We sometimes see men having the care of and driving a team of horses or mules, whipping the poor animals because they did not understand their wishes. Many a time the leader horse or mule is unmercifully beaten for no other reason than that the driver's order is not understood. If the driver, in such case, should speak gently to the leader, pat it a few times on the neck to reassure it of his friendship, take hold of the bridle and lead it a few steps in the direction he wishes to go, and all this without any excitement or anger on his part, the leader will allways do its best to please him.

In driving a horse to a carriage, however, gentle and well trained he may be, something may happen to alarm or frighten him—this is no fault of his—he cannot help it; all he needs is a word or two of encouragement, gently spoken, to reassure him of his master's care and presence, and that all is right. There should be no whipping done. The driver should recollect that he gets alarmed or frightened too, sometimes, and would think hard of being whipped for it.—American Stock Journal.

HORSE SHOEING.—Never touch the bars, frog, sole or outer surface with a knife, or rasp. Shoe with light, thin shoes, that allow the sole, bars frog to be brought in contact with the ground, and thus beat their due proportion of the horse's weight. Use small nails and not over five of them. Never allow the points to be driven high up the wall of the hoof. For ordinary service in the country during the summer months, use only the tips, which protecs the toe, but leave the entire ground surface unprotected.—Murray.

AN Irish commodore being confined in his room by a severe fit of gout, some sweeps were employed to sweep the chimneys of the house next door to him, and one of the boys by mistake came down in the commodore's apartments. The boy, confused at his mistake, seeing the commodore in bed, said, "Sir, my master will come for you presently." "Will he?" said the commodore, leaping out of bed, "I beg to be excused for staying here any longer, then," and immediately ran down the stairs.

"WHY don't you trade with me?" said a close-fisted tradesman to a friend the other day.

The reply was characteristic.

"You have never asked me, sir. I have looked all through the papers for an invitation in the shape of an advertisement, and found none. I never go where I am not invited."

WHENEVER you see a small boy coming out of the house with one hand on hss eyes and the other over the basement of his pants, you can come to the conclusion that he and the old gentleman has had a slight misunderstanding.

"THAT is all that is needed in hell," was the repiy of an emigrant to a Colorado land agent, who told him that Colorado only wanted "a comfortable climate, water and good society to make it a paradise."

A TOPEKA lady sums up the first three years of her experience in married life as follows: "The first year he called me dear, the second year, Mrs. A., and the third year, old sorrel top."
