SATURDAY, - - JANUARY 20, 1906

THE Maryland Senate deserves the best wishes of the people generally on its efforts to reduce State taxes. Go ahead with the good work.

THE Farmers' Institute for Kent county will be held at Chestertown on Wednesday and Thursday, February 7th and 8th and at Galena on Friday, February 9th.

CAPT. R. S. EMORY was warmly greeted by his many friends of the association and his valuable experience was often called upon to settle knotty questions.

A Vital Home Interest.

In another column is announced the sale of the Chestertown Water Works. This is a matter of greater importance to the people of the town than might appear at first thought. There is nothing more vital to the health and happiness of a community than pure water and plenty of it. Our people we are sure will be gratified in the fact that a home company has secured the ownership and control of this important local interest, and the character of the men composing this new company is a full guarantee of good service. They live among us and are identified with the town's health and improvements. They will, without a doubt, at once place the service upon the highest plane of efficiency. The best interest of the company as well as the supreme good of the people demand this, and though the present rates both for town and individual service are from 20 to 30 per cent. below the cost for similar service in towns of same size, yet we do not apprehend any advance in rates by the new owners.

Kent's Delegates Lucky.

Kent county's delegates in the Maryland Legislature, Messrs. Gibbs and Crane, were assigned good places on the various committees by Speaker Benson. Hon. Isaac Gibbs is made chairman of the Insolvency Committee and a member of the Agriculture, Federal Relations and Library Committees. Capt. Crane is made chairman of the Internal Improvements Committee and a member of the Ways and Means, Chesapeake Bay and Tributaries, Expiring Laws, Game and Fish, and Section 24, Article 3 of Constitution. These are excellent committees and Kent's delegates are sure to make enviable records as members of them.

An Excellent Meeting.

Chestertown and Kent County has been honored this week by having the meeting of Peninsula Horticulturists. The attendance of visitors has been large, the lectures by experts and the valuable lessons taught appreciated. Hon. James S. Harris made an ideal president and deserves much of the credit for a successful meeting.

The exhibition of fruit was a novel and attractive feature of the meeting and was very much enjoyed by everyone. The NEWS editors take occasion to thank Mr. F. P. Soper & Son, of Red Apple Farm, for a box of beautiful prize apples. Professor Wesley Webb, the courteous secretary, did valliant work in preparing for the meeting and in keeping live subjects before the farmers.

The farmers should attend these annual meetings and unite for extermination of pests, better transportation rates, &c, other callings and trades are organized to look after vital interests, but the farmer goes it alone. They should be a unit and much more would be accomplished on many lines.

In other columns of the NEWS will be found a general outline of the proceedings.

Doings At Annapolis.

The Haman Oyster bill was introduced in the House by Mr. Lehmayer of Baltimore City.

A bill has been presented in the House to repeal the Shoemaker Road Law. It is claimed that roadmaking under this law is too expensive and that very few miles of roads had been built under it and these were too expensive for practical purposes.

The judges' pension law has been attacked in both the Senate and House. In the Senate Mr. Gorman has introduced a bill repealing it and in the House Delegate Brown, of Somerset, has introduced a similar bill.

College Happenings.—Last Saturday night during special exercises in Washington College Chapel a large lamp fell to the floor and for a time it looked like a serious fire would result. The only damage was done to the overcoat of Prof. Haupt which was used to extinguish the blaze.

The debate, held by the Pieria Literary Society of Washington College, Saturday night, on the problem, "Resolved, that the fear of punishment has a greater influence on human conduct than the hope of reward," resulted in a victory for the affirmative. Misses Reich and B. Garey presented the negative side, and Misses Howard and P. Goslee, the affirmative.

A LIVELY MEETING!

Fox-Hunters, Sheep Owners, Muskrat Hunters, Duckers and Others Express Views on New Laws.

Pursuance to a call in the NEWS a largely attended meeting was held in the court house at Chestertown Saturday and was well attended. The object of the assemblage was to find out what new game and dog laws the voters of Kent county wanted and proved that our representatives are anxious to correctly voice the sentiments of their constituents. Hons. Curtis E. Crane and Isaac Gibbs were present and mingled freely with the farmers.

Capt. Curtis E. Crane called the meeting to order and upon motion Mr. Philip G. Wilmer was made Chairman and Mr. Charles L. Dodd secretary.

There were a number of addresses and debates the final outcome of the meeting being the following resolutions or recommendations:

Resolved, That we recommend a tax of $1 per head on each dog in Kent county up to five; over that number they be exempt. It shall be the duty of the constable to collect this tax for which they shall be paid 25 cents, and in case the dog has to be killed he shall be paid fifty cents.

This resolution was a compromise in order to conciliate the interests of the fox hunters. The farmer wanted a tax of $1 on every dog.

The next question was that of taxing gunners. This brought out some interesting talks. It was the sense of the meeting that each gunner pay a tax of $1: non-resident, if invited $1; uninvited $10. Mr. P. Jump said he, been gunning on his own land but once and said he was opposed to this tax, as was Mr. R. C. Morgan. Mr. T. J. Willis said he thought it unfair to tax landowners $1 to gun on their own land.

There was a close vote on this proposition but the game men won.

Resolved, To oppose any change in the law which prohibits shooting duck or any game at any time with a light.

Mr. William Price was the principal speaker on this point and claimed that to gun with a light was the most pernicious and unsportsmanlike thing that can be done. Mr. C. J. Reiche thought the muskrat hunters should be allowed to use a light.

Mr. John Medders was one of the interested sportsman. He wanted the Governor to appoint three game wardens at a salary of $400 each whose duty it shall be to collect, Mr. Medders estimated that there were 4,000 dogs and about 6,000 persons to be taxed!

Among those present were the following: Messrs. C. G. Hadaway, T. J. Willis, John Brice, Neal Wilson, L. C. Ayres, W. J. Hurlock, R. C. Morgan, P. Jump, W. H. Cooper, Jesse H. Copper, George Beck, John Medders, Wm. G. Price, W. H. Melvin, J. R. Bowers, Edw. Robinson, G. S. Biddle, W. G. Skirven, J. B. Hossinger, John Redmile, J. Page Gale, Joseph Watson, S. G. Lee, W. J. Tarbutton, George Bell, T. J. Maslin, R. Groves, J. E. Morris, Albert Story, Ell Morris, H. E. Perkins, W. W. Beck, W. T. Crow, R. R. Hatcherson, J. L. Deputy, E. C. Bowers, Chas. McKee, Wm. Ford, Thos. Massey, Harry Taylor, S. Hicks, C. J. Reiche, W. E. Brown, G. W. Smith, H. Nichols and a score of others.

CHURCH TIDINGS.

The fourth Quarterly Conference of Pomona charge was held last Saturday the 13th. A unanimous invitation was extended to the pastor, Rev. E. B. Taylor, Ph. D., to return for another year.

The Rev. W. G. Koons the Presiding Elder of the Easton District will preach at Mowbray Church, Quaker Neck, next Sunday evening the 21st at 4:30 P. M.

St. James M. P. Church during the meetings that are now being held was given quite a musical treat recently by Miss Anna Williams, a member of one of Washington City's church choirs, who gave selection at the request of the pastor, Dr. Sheridan. Miss Williams' voice is of exceptional purity and power and those that have not been attending these meetings lost an opportunity to enjoy the renditions of such a talented vocalist. Miss Williams was accompanied by Miss Fowler, also of Washington. These meetings will still continue and it is the prayer of the pastor and laity that much good will come therefrom.

Hon. Joshua W. Hering, ex-comptroller of Maryland, will deliver an address, entitled "Citizenship," next Sunday evening in Christ Church.

Kennedyville M. P. Church, Rev. R. S. Rowe, pastor, public worship with preaching on Sunday, December 24st, subjects, 10.30 a. m. "An important and an explicit direction 7 p. m., "An exceptionally profitable investment."

Revival services at St. James M. P. Church, Rev. J. M. Sheridan, pastor, are awakening considerable interest.

Chestertown M. E. Sabbath school recently elected the following officers: Supt. Mr. Jas. T. Anthony; asst. supt., Mr. M. A Toulson; lady asst. supt., Mrs. T. S. Bordley; sect'y Murrell Dunbracco; treas., James Dunbracco; librarian, T. W. Eliason, Jr., asst. librarians, Messrs. John Barnes and Roland Matthews; organist, Miss Lillian Matthews; chorister, Mr. Emmett Hitch; orchestra, Messrs. T. Kemp Bordley, Roland Matthews, J. F. Thomson, A. L. Sparks, W. Irving Walker, Houston Toulson.

Revival services are still in progress at the Chestertown M. E. Church. Rev. E. B. Taylor occupied the pulpit Tuesday, and Rev. W. E. Habbert, of Fairlee, Thursday.

The season of lent will occur unusually early this year. It begins on February 28 and ends April 15th.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Chestertown M. E. Church was entertained Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Copper, Washington Avenue.

At the fourth quarterly conference of the Chestertown M. E. Church, held last Friday evening Rev. W. L. White was given a hearty and unanimous invitation to return as pastor the next conference year.

Ex-Comptroller Joshua W. Hering will deliver an address in Christ M. P. Church tomorrow (Sunday) evening at 7:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is given to all to attend.

The Ladies Improvement Society of Wesleyan Church hold meetings every Friday evening at different homes.

Valuable Game.—Jarrett Price, of East Neck Island, set his traps Tuesday night for muskrats, but when he visited them found an otter caught by his hind leg. For two hours the animal fought Mr. Price and his two dogs, until finally the hunter secured his gun and killed him. Mr. Marcus Asher bought the fur which is worth from $10 to $15. Mr. Lewin Hyland, of the Island, killed two the same night.

Md. and Del. FRUIT GROWERS

The session opened Wednesday evening with a well-rendered baritone solo by Mr. George White, of Chestertown, accompained by Miss Mabel Toulson, pianist, and a beautiful violin solo by Mr. Kemp Bordley, accompained by Miss Toulson.

The question of contracting for tomatoes was discussed. It was stated that if the farmer will sell in the open market he can afford to lose a crop every five years and then be ahead of the grower who contracts. One Delaware farmer had been offered $9 per ton for the coming season. The price is not less than $8.

J. W. Kerr, that popular, diamond-hued farmer from Denton, provoked considerable merriment by asking whether or not there was such a place as "Still Pond," where the water never froze! He said he had heard of it but wanted the truth of the statement settled now, for hence forth, and forever! President James S. Harris was the man to put all doubts at rest for he was born within a half mile of the pond and owns the farm on which it is located. He stated that in 1851 and 52 when trains were crossing the Susquehanna on the ice, this pond was open; when in 1881 the mercury dropped to 16° below zero this pond was opened and even a few years ago when the horsemen crossed the bay on the ice it was open! The pond is sheltered by shrubbery and is about ten feet deep. It is egg-shape, 80 feet wide and 120 feet long. It is said that the Fairies use it as a bath tub and of course it could not afford to keep them from this duty. Another story is told that a chinaman was fished up from its unending bottom! Mr. Harris stated that there is a similar pond in Montgomery county.

W. T. Massey, Smyrna, addressed the meeting on Grape and Hon. George Biddle, Elkton, on Nut Culture. Prof. W. H. Hatt spoke on small fruits.

Thursday.

Frank Cochran, Galena, spoke intelligently on Asparagus and answered many pointed questions which were plied to him with rare intelligence.

Dr. J. A. Bonsteel, U. S. Department of agriculture spoke on "The Value of Soil Surveys" to the delight of every one present. He says the West far eclipses the East in growing grain so that it is left for our farmers to give their attention to fruits and garden vegetables. He is trying to find out the needs of soils but estimates that it will take ten years to arrive at any definite conclusions.

J. L. Soper, Magnolia, spoke learnedly on Pears and J. E. Carter on Plums.

Frank Cockran asked for a remedy for trunk lice on pear trees. Capt. Emory recomended whale oil soap—his "cure-all".

Mr. Towson, of Western Maryland, says the farmers in his county feed Keifer pears to hogs when they bring only 17 and 18 cents. J. T. Shallcross, Frank Cockran, J. S. Harris and others said they could make money at 15 cents per basket.

Rose Growing

Mr. J. Otto Thilow, an expert landscape gardener of New Jersey, was the principal speaker Thursday afternoon. He told in a most practical way how to beautify the country home. In answer to questions the following important facts were given: To grow rose bushes, get a good sod, break well, and mix cow manure with same. The best climbing rose is the Philadelphia Rambler. Plant it on the North side as if planted on any other side the bush will mildew. If you want a good rose on the South side plant the Gloria Dejon.

For destroying rose bugs he advised spraying with tobacco water which should be used after 24 hours standing. Another good plan is to shake the bugs off into hot water.

The next meeting will be held in Dover.

A Delightful Entertainment.

Stam's Hall was crowded Thursday evening, men and women standing in the aisles for an hour or more. The program opened with a skillful rendition by the Chestertown Orchestra comprising Miss Louise Stam, Messrs. Kemp Bordley, Houston Toulson, Warren Hurlock and Donald Stam; then followed a fine tenor solo by Mr. Thos. W. Perkins accompained by Mrs. Perkins on the piano.

The event of the evening was an illustrated lecture by Prof. Thilow showing views of Yellowstone Park, Puget Sound, &c. It was a magnificent affair and thoroughly enjoyed. The pictures were vivid and sublimely true to nature while the lecture was itself eloquent and couched in beautiful language. Mr. Harris, the people of Chestertown, thank you for this exquisite pleasure.

GOLT ITEMS.

Rev. Andrew Matzen, of near Philadelphia, has been spending a few days with Mr. J. M. Conner.

Mrs. W. E. Matthews is visiting her sister in Wilmington.

Mr. C. W. Spry, of Dover Academy, visited his home here Saturday and Sunday.

We are sorry to report that Mr. John Shelton is critically ill at this writing.

Prof. Milton Melvin spent last Wednesday at our school arranging for our assistant teacher, Mrs. Clara V. Rees, who entered upon her duties Monday morning.

The Jones Bros. are improving their store room by a new coat of paint and have also erected a fifty foot shed for the accomodation of their customers teams.

Mrs. Mary Clayton, of Sudlersville, spent Tuesday with her father Mr. John Shelton.

Miss Steele, of Galena, is visiting Miss Blanche Hewitt.

A Narrow Escape.—Dr. C. R. Twilley's elegant home made a narrow escape from destruction by fire Thursday afternoon. The fire-place stove got so hot that the plate glass mirror over the mantel was broken into pieces. Mr. Percy Rawleigh while passing the house heard the crash of glass and upon further investigation found the house filled with smoke. He with others entered the house and soon extinguished the fire.
