THE GREAT SHOOTING MATCH.

THE MARKSMEN OF IRELAND AND AMERICA —OULD IRELAND IS BEATEN.

The great rifle match between the celebrated Irish team and the American team took place at Creedmoor, New York, last Saturday, and was witnessed by an immense assemblage of spectators. It will be remembered that the match was brought about by Maj. Leech, who organized the Irish team in 1867, and not, as some people suppose, by a challenge from the Americans. In October, 1873, the Major boldly challenged the American riflemen to a trial of skill, he agreeing to select a team of four or six from the eight who won the Elcho Shield against the English and Scotch teams, to compete with the Americans. Colonel Wingate promptly accepted the challenge on behalf of the riflemen of the United States. Some little difficulty was at first experienced in the arrangement of the preliminaries, Major Leech being anxious to have not more than four in the team, and ranges to be 800, 900, 1,000 and 1,100 yards, whereas Colonel Wingate desired that the 1,100 yard range should be dispensed with, and the team fixed at six, and, if possible, eight. The Irish team, through Major Leech, finally decided not to insist upon the 1,100 yard range, and it was agreed, therefore, that the team should consist at least of six, the option as to whether it should be six or eight being left with the Irish.

Each marksman had fifteen shots at each range, and at the 800 yard range the American team won by nine points, the score standing 326 to 317. At the 900 yard range the Irish team won by two points, the score being 312 to 310, and at the 1,000 yard range the Irish were again successful by four points—302 to 298—leaving the American team winner in the three ranges by three points. The shooting was remarkably good throughout, the bull's-eye having frequently been struck at all the ranges by both teams. The prizes, amounting to about $8,000, were then presented to the successful competitors.

EASTON, Sept. 25th, 1874.

Gentlemen:—

I have had the honor to receive your letter of the 23d instant, informing me of my nomination by the Democratic Convention assembled at Salisbury on that day, as a candidate to represent the First Congressional District of Maryland in the next Congress of the United States.

Appreciating fully, as I do, the distinguished honor which has thus been conferred upon me, I gratefully accept the nomination, and shall, at an early day enter upon a canvass of the District, which I propose to make as thorough as the brief space of time which remains before the election will allow. With my sincere thanks for the very kind terms in which you have communicated to me the result of the deliberations of the Convention, I have the honor to be,

Your obliged and ob'dt serv't,

PHILIP F. THOMAS.

BEECHER AND THE CONGREGATIONALISTS —A Demand for His Trial.—Erom inquiries instituted in Brooklyn by the New York Tribune, there appears to be rumors afloat that "some of the Congregational clergymen had determined to call another council for the purpose of trying the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher upon charges which would be formally presented against him of conduct unbecoming a clergyman of that denomination, and to decide whether it was fit and proper that he should remain in the ministry." It seems that they are by no means as satisfied of Mr Beecher's innocence as the Committee of Plymouth Church, and when certain too zealous friends sought the signatures of the other Congregationalist clergymen of Brooklyn to an address to be presented to Mr. Beecher, expressing confidence in his purity and innocence, some of the clergymen to whom it was presented now refused to sign it, remarking that the serious charges against Mr. Beecher had not yet been satisfactorily met, and that in their opinion he should refrain from preaching until the subject had been judicially decided.

Moreover, there is at this time circulating freely in Brooklyn a pamphlet written by the Rev. Dr Fairfield, a Congregational preacher at Mansfield, Ohio. The document is entitled "Wickedness in High Places." It is a review of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's case and is freely circulating throughout Brooklyn. It is a pamphlet of twenty pages, written forcibly and logically. The author, who states that he has been a life-long friend of Mr. Beecher, from what he styles a "calm review of all the evidence," believes Mr. Beecher to be guilty, and says, among other things: "For years Mr. Beecher's portrait has hung in the most prominent place in my house; only Washington's and Lincoln's besides—Beecher's in the most honored place of the three, and when a few weeks since, I took it down and hid it away from sight, it was with such throes of soul as I hope never to experience again." Dr. Fairfield, after an elaborate examination of the evidence, makes the following conclusion: "In all the cases that have come to my knowledge in thirty years of service in the ministry, I have never found another in which, to my mind, the proofs were so absolutely overwhelming." Dr. Fairfield demands that Mr. Beecher be "properly tried by a properly constituted Ecclesiastical Court," and says in conclusion: "I protest against sustaining in the office of Christian teacher a man against whom there exists such astounding evidences of guilt."

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE FAIR at Easton is now open, with a splendid display of stock, agricultural implements and machinery, etc., A feature is the exhibition by the fish commissioners of specimens of their California salmon and trout, and a newly imported fish from Germany. There was also a fine assortment of fruits and flowers. Thousands of people visited the fair, and it is announced that George Labar, a veteran of Monroe county, who has reached the age of one hundred and twelve years, will be among the visitors.

What May be Seen from a Balloon.

A representative of the American, among others, including a young lady only fourteen years of age (Miss Mary Irene Cook), accompanied Professor Donaldson in his last balloon ascension from Barnum's Hippodrome, in Baltimore, on Friday afternoon of last week. After remarking that the balloon at one time attained a height of sixteen thousand feet, the writer proceeds to say:

We did not remain long at this tremendous elevation. We slipped down through the atmosphere to between eleven and twelve thousand feet above the earth, and it was there that we had

OUR GRANDEST VIEW.

We had within our range of vision at the same moment Philadelphia, Baltimore and Harrisburg, the Chesapeake and Delaware Bays and all their upper tributaries, and also Annapolis and the most of the smaller towns are included within this extended vision. But the grandest feature of all was when gazing eastwardly we very plainly perceived the Atlantic Ocean.—There was no mistake about it; the mist had lifted a little, and we could plainly see where the waters of the Delaware Bay mingled with those of the Atlantic. The view at this time was above the possibilities of language to picture. The peninsula of land between the Chesapeake and Delaware Bays was but as a thread of dark green upon the landscape; the Susquehanna river was hardly preceptible except for the dark line which we knew to be the great bridge across it; the country below us was but as a checker-board of indistinct green and white squares; Baltimore and Philadelphia were only masses of shade upon the map; but the great ocean was a reality, and to the view of it we constantly turned our eyes with the feeling that here was something everlasting and enduring. The panorama that came within our scope of vision was probably not less than two hundred miles square, but from our height of 16,000 feet it seemed to be dwarfed to a space you might cover with your handkerchief. It seems to us as if we were looking through the wrong end of a field glass. When at this height of 16,000 feet, or over three miles above the earth, Prof. Donaldson told us that the balloon had attained its equilibrium, that it was poised on an exact balance, and that as soon as the gas commenced to condense, even in the slightest degree, we would descend rapidly. And it was precisely in this fashion that we did go down. The rapidity of the descent may be imagined from the fact that the sand which we threw out afterwards descended upon us in a shower, showing that we were going downwards faster than it was. At five minutes before 12 o'clock on Saturday we landed upon the farm of John McGuigin, in the Second district of Harford county eight miles southwest of Havre de Grace, and a little more than three miles from Darlington.

THE DELAWARE PEACH CROP.—The marketing of the Delaware peach crop is now finished. The crop has been rather heavier than the estimates of the growers anticipated. During the season there were 1,280 car loads shipped to Philadelphia and New York, or 615,000 baskets.

THE Cumberland Times, in speaking of the Baltimore reporters' trip to the clouds, wickedly remarks that it was "the best start they will ever have towards heaven.'

The Cant of Imposters.

It is so obvious that physical and constitutional vigor is the best defense against disease, that even the vendors of drastic purgatives advertise them as tonics, stomachists and invigorants, in the hope of enlisting the confidence of the public in the devitalizing and pernicious potions. It is amusing to note how these imposters imitate and copy the language in which the medicinal properties of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are described. Although the effect of their rasping evacuants is to destroy the tone of the digestive organs and the bowels, and to rob the system of its vital strength, they are unscrupulously recommended to the weak and prostrate victims of disease as stimulants! It is time this humbug (not a very successful one it is true, thanks to the mature common sense of the American people) was stigmatized as it deserves. Such mischievous falsehoods should be exposed pro bono publico. Hostetter's Stomache Bitters, be it distinctly understood, is a stimulant. It has a spirituous basis, and that basis is the vehicle which diffuses its wonderful sanitary principles through every part of the system. The tonic, alterative and regulating ingredients of the Bitters would be comparatively inert if they were not, so to speak, carried to the localities where they are required by the stimulating agent. The cant which protests against the use of a pure alcoholic fluid, when employed as a means of giving full effect to medicinal extracts of the highest utility, is the cant of charlatanism. Every intelligent physician so characterizes it, and the sick who are griped, convulsed and debilitated by the nauseous and disgusting nostrums of the parties who put it forth, soon find to their sorrow that it is a delusion and a snare. Hostetter's Bitters, the great sanitary stimulant of the age, is, in the truest sense of the words, a wholesome, vitalizing, renovating preparation.

A Medicine Chest in Miniature.

Mishler's Herb Bitters is not a beverage, but a strictly medicinal preparation, more thoroughly adapted to the wants of the general public than any other in the market. Unlike all other so-called Remedies, it is prepared under the direct personal supervision of an eminent Physician. S. B. Hartman, M. D., the senior proprietor, is a regular graduate of the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, and a practicing physician of large experience and extensive practice. In such hands the public may rest assured that Mishler's Herb Bitters is compounded in strict accordance with correct Pharmaceutical principles, and that none but the choicest ingredients enter into its composition.

Its immense sale alone is conclusive proof that it possesses merit of a high order. Merchants, bankers, clergymen, lawyers, clerks and others engaged in sedentary occupations, experience its wonderful effects in relieving the depression caused by severe mental labor; while the mechanic, farmer and laborer, find their bodily vigor restored like magic by its use.

At this season of the year, when DIARRHŒA, CRAMPS, COLICS and kindred disorders, caused by eating unripe fruits, imprudent indulgence in cold drinks, &c., are prevalent, a certain, speedy and effectual remedy will be found in Mishler's Herb Bitters.

The depressing feeling of Languor or Debility, incident to the "heated term," is at once removed, the energies restored, and new life and vigor imparted to the prostrated system, by its use.

IN DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT AND AFFECTIONS OF THE KIDNEYS, it invariably works like a charm. It is not a drastic purge nor heady stimulant, violent in its operations; but it is simply a natural remedy, thoroughly adapted to assist nature. It supplies tone to the stomach, reinvigorates the digestive organs, stimulates the secretions, and promoting a regular action of the bowels, enables every organ of the body to perform its allotted work regularly and without interruption.

It is the unerring certainty of desired results attendant on its use, coupled with the fact that it is prepared by a physician of eminence in his profession, that has rendered Mishler's Herb Bitters so popular, and as familiar as a household word. THOUSANDS OF MOTHERS all over the land have found it to be the safest and best remedy for use in their families; they not only give it with perfect safety to even the youngest child, but when used with caution find it the safest means of ensuring their own health and freedom from the weary aches and pains incident to their sex. Perfectly harmless, it is just the remedy needed by them to enable Nature to perform her functions naturally, regularly and without inconvenience. NO LADY SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT if she would possess the clear, blooming complexion and cheerful spirits inseparable from sound health. It is sold by all Druggists and General Dealers; is neatly put up in square Glass Bottles, enclosed in a yellow wrapper. Is not sold on Draught, being strictly a medicinal preparation, and as such is endorsed by many of the most eminent physicians of the country.

Texas Bone Meal

IT is now nearly three years since we first introduced our

in the Market. We sold the first ton, with the confident assurance that if strictly pure goods would establish reputation, we were sure to obtain it, and the result has confirmed our belief. Farmers who have used it, and dealers who have sold it, give it the preference, and heretofore we have been unable to meet the demand. C. C. Fulton, Esq., editor of the Baltimore American, recently visited Texas and was at our Factory, located at Fulton, Texas. In writing to his paper, under date February 24, 1874, and published in the American Weekly, March 14, he says of our Texas Bone Meal:

"After drying the residuum of Bones and Meat, it is ground to a fine powder, producing a fertilizing material but little inferior to Peruvian Guano. It smells very much like Guano, and if there is any virtue in bones, blood and animal matter, it ought to be a superior fertilizer. The material is too abundant to induce any temptation to give anything but the pure article, and as I witnessed the operation, I can vouch for its genuineness, that is to say, that it is all pulverized bone, flesh and blood."

This was testimony we had unsought and unknown, until we had several inquiries from the readers of the "Baltimore American."

We recommend the use of the TEXAS BONE MEAL to farmers, assuring them that it is strictly pure and will always be kept so.

The Analysis of Texas Bone Meal, made by Dr. T. R. Wolf, State Chemist, Newark, Del., July 17, 1874, is as follows:

Ammonia - - - - - -	4 55
Phosphoric Acid - - - -	24 25

To Wheat Growers.

"EXCELSIOR."

The most concentrated, universal and durable Fertilizer ever offered to the farmer—combining all the stimulating qualities of Peruvian Guano, and the ever durable fertilizing properties of Bones. In fine dry powder, prepared expressly for drilling, and can be applied in any quantity, however small, per acre. It is the opinion of many close calculating Farmers after SIXTEEN YEARS' experience in testing it side by side with other popular fertilizers, that an application of 100 pounds of Excelsior is equal to from 200 to 300 pounds of any other fertilizer or Guano, and therefore fully 100 to 200 per cent. cheaper.

UNIFORMITY OF QUALITY GUARANTEED BY THE MANUFACTURERS.

Farmers should see that every Bag is branded as above, with the ANALYSIS and OUR NAME in RED LETTERS. All others are counterfeits. Price $55 per Ton.

WHANN'S Raw Bone Super Phosphate

IN the culture of WHEAT, true economy implies the use of such manures as produce the greatest yield, and at the same time leave the land in the best condition for grass.

WHANN'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE is extensively used on this important crop, for the reason that it fulfills these conditions—the Grass often paying for the Fertilizers, leaving the increased yield of Wheat clear profit.

No Fertilizer has ever excelled it, combining the active qualities of the best Peruvian Guano with the more lasting properties of dissolved Bone, it is unexcelled as a manure for Wheat. Those Farmers who have used need no reminder as to its worth. Their continued use of it year after year is the strongest argument which can be brought to prove its merits.

The following testimonials from two well known Farmers will be appreciated:

HANESVILLE, KENT CO., MD., July 17th, 1874.

Messrs. Walton, Whann & Co.:

Gentlemen:—I have used Whann's Raw Bone Super Phosphate on my Wheat for the past two years. I am very much pleased with its action both on Wheat and Grass, and regard it as one of the best Fertilizers on the market, and a permanent improver of the land.

Yours, truly, WILLIAM T. ANDERSON.

CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND, July 16th, 1874.

Messrs. Walton, Whann & Co.:

Gentlemen:—I have been using Whann's Raw Bone Super Phosphate on my farm near Chestertown nine or ten years. It has never failed to give me satisfaction both in its results on Wheat and the Grass following. I regard it as second to none, and expect to continue its use.

Respectfully, yours, S. LECATES.

FARMERS who have not yet used this renowned Fertilizer are earnestly requested to TRY IT.

ITS MECHANICAL CONDITION IS EXCELLENT, prepared EXPRESSLY FOR USE WITH THE DRILL.
