REMINISCENCES OF VICE-PRESIDENT WILSON.—Mr. Thurlow Weed has furnished the New York Tribune with some reminiscences of the late Vice-President Wilson. Among other things he states that about six months since Mr. Wilson visited him, and in a conversation deplored the want of wisdom in the present government and in Congress. He said when he was elected Vice-President he made many appeals to the President to draw the best men of the country into the cabinet. He failed in exerting any influence in that direction. He spoke of the weakness of the cabinet, and was troubled at seeing Mr. Richardson in the treasury. He talked uneasily about a third term for Grant until recently.

Mr. Weed says the Vice-President visited him again two weeks ago. He seemed very much depressed and looked pallid. He would not admit that he was ill, and talked hopefully. They talked about his being a candidate for the presidency, and Mr. Weed saw that his whole heart was enlisted. For the last year or two his ambition got the better of his judgement.—Like most men spoken of for the presidency, the thought came to possess him. It was his misfortune, not an offense. Mr. Wilson showed nervousness during the last year, and this ambition aggravated the disease. If he had been nominated and elected, Mr. Weed thinks he would have died in the hour of victory, and the disappointment of a defeat in convention or at the polls would likewise have killed him.

VICE-PRESIDENT WILSON left a will, in his own handwriting, and is dated April 21, 1874. By it he bequeathed his entire estate, real and personal, to his nephew, Dr. Wm. L. Coolidge, in trust for the support of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Howe, now in her ninetieth year, and for the education and support of his adopted daughter, Eva, a little girl of some ten summers, and other and designated purposes, trusting it all, as he expresses it, to the "friendship, discretion and sense of right" of Mr. Coolidge. He also constitutes Mr. Coolidge his executor, directing that no bonds be required of him either as executor or trustee.

WRITING of the late Henry Wilson, the New Orleans Bulletin says:

Henry Wilson, notwithstanding his political history in the past, was, at the hour of his demise, one of the bulwarks against the aggression of "one-man power," and would is permited by the Deity, have proven in the fast-approaching contest the fast ally of Southern redemption and regeneration. In him the South has lost a friend—such an one as Sumner or Greeley would have proven, had not the hand of a rude fatality swept them away. As such we mourn him, and can only regret that this grief is all we have left with which to deck our patriotism.

ON Thursday Dr. Cherbonnier brought to town quite a curiosity, being a hen's egg with another perfect egg with a hard shell on it, inside of it. The two eggs were perfect, shells, yolks, and albumen; the inside one being about the size of a pullet's egg. We have seen many eggs with double yolks, but never before heard of a perfectly formed egg being laid inside of another perfectly formed egg.—Easton Star.

Remember This.

Now is the time of the year for Pneumonia, Lung Fever, Coughs, Colds, and fatal results of predisposition to Consumption and other Throat and Lung Disease. BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP has been used in this neighborhood for the past two or three years without a single failure to cure. If you have not used this medicine yourself, go to your Druggist, Stam & Bro., and ask of its wonderful success among his customers. Two doses will relieve the worst case. If you have no faith in any medicine, just buy a Sample Bottle of Boschee's German Syrup for 10 cents, and try it. Regular size Bottle 75 cts. Don't neglect a cough to save 75 cents.

A Train of Evils.

If weakness of the stomach is allowed to become chronic, the following evils supervene—Digestion is permanently impared, the system is very imperfectly nourished, the blood becomes very thin and watery, and the bile being unemployed for digestive and evacuative purposes, enters the circulation through the thoracic duct, and injects itself into the superficial vessels, giving to the skin and whites of the saffron tinge indicative of biliousness. Headache, nausea, constipation, pains in the side, palpitations, heart-burn, dizziness, and many other harrassing symptoms which accompany the internal derangement above described, which, if unchecked is as sure to be followed by serious disease, as the rising of the sun by its setting. It is manifest, therefore, that an inability of the stomach to act upon the food should be overcome without delay. The invigorating influence upon that organ of Hostetter's Stomah Bitters is speedily felt in the disappearance of all the disagreeable symptoms alluded to. The mineral remedies for general debility usually fail to achieve any lasting result, because they do not invigorate the stomach; Hostetter's Bitters always succeed because that is their primal effect. The very fact that they are such an excellent stomachic constitutes them one of the best general tonics in existence. To restore digestion is the final step towards the recovery of health, when impared by any of the multifarious complaints which spring from dyspepsia, and that step will be found to have been taken by the invalid who has availed himself of this famous anti-dyspeptic remedy.
