The continual growth in the number of rural telephones serve to show that the former is quick to appreciate this class of service and is anxious to secure the benefits to be derived from communication with the outside world. Among the subscribers are Messrs. J. R. Byron, Joseph Watson, George Hendrickson, Joseph Brice and R. Sheppard.

A MEMORIAL SERVICE.

A "Memorial" service was held at Fraternal Hall by the Jr. O. U. A. M. and the P. O. S. of A. of this town in joint session Sunday morning May 30th, 1909.

The morning was beautiful and balmy and seemingly inviting for so sacred an occasion. A goodly number of the members of the orders was present and took special interest in the exercise thus giving evidence of a proper regard for the memory of those whose names appear on the Dead Roll. Mr. J. Bruce McIntire was chosen chairman; J. Frank Wheatley, sect'y, and John W. Barnes, chaplain.

Chairman McIntire spoke briefly stating in a unique and sympathetic manner the object of the assembling of the two orders—that of memorializing the deceased members, some of whom were members of both orders, and which fact causes those present to feel very much akin. The Chaplain then offered prayer in the use of the P. O. S. of A. opening prayer.

The following members responded to their names when called and addressed the assembly in five minute talks: A. S. Crawford, John C. Davis, R. F. Elburn, Wm. B. Coleman, J. Frank Wheatley, G. Thomas Dewberry, Wm. F. Russell, J. B. McIntire and Prof. J. L. Smyth

It was very noticable during the progress of the several addresses that all were forcefully reminded that the deceased brothers were not forgotten; that many of their virtues were being recalled and that their constant labors for the uplift of man was tenderly remembered.

The following names are those who were so feelingly and practically remembered: Charles D. Nelson, W. F. Blyman, H. Meeteer Wallis, Wm. A. Bradley, Geo. G. Hall, Wallace M. Maslin and Wm. T. Matthews. After the close of the exercise at the hall, the entire body repaired to the cemetery and placed a flag and flowers where the deceased members were lain, then all sang "Nearer My God to Thee" and bowed the head while Prof. Smyth offered prayer.
