WILL SUCCEED MR. FARROW

Rev. J. Wilson Sutton of Kent County Head Master of St. Paul's School.

At a meeting of the trustees of St. Paul's School for Boys Tuesday after- Rev. J. Wilson Sutton, who for two years has been Rev. Dr. A. B. Kinsolving's assistant was elected head master. This position was made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Miles Farrow, who will go to New York in the near future. Rev. Mr. Sutton will take charge of the school in September and will have two assistants.

At a recent meeting of the vestry of St. Paul's parish Rev. John L. Jackson, who for the last year was assistant at Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, Towson, was elected assistant at St. Paul's.

Rev. Mr. Sutton is to divide his duties between the head mastership of the school and the pastoral work of the parish.

Rev. Mr. Jackson who has signified his acceptance of the call, will give his full time to the duties of assistant. For two years he was chaplain of the Episcopal High School at Alexandria, Va. While there he made the acquaintance of many Baltimore boys who have attained prominence since leaving the school.

Both Rev. Mr. Sutton and Rev. Mr. Jackson are natives of Maryland.

At the same meeting of the vestry arrangements were made to give Rev. F. Hays Staples an assistant at St. Paul's Chapel, where the work has had a marked growth.

"SMILING JOE" WELL AT LAST

No Longer Strapped To Board Or Incased In Plaster.

Officials of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor told last night of a circus party they gave yesterday afternoon for a boy they called "Smiling Joe," who had been cured of bone tuberculosis in the Sea Breeze Hospital at Coney Island.

The little fellow is 7 years old. Four years ago he was taken from the slums of Manhattan to the Sea Breeze Hospital. He appeared to be crippled for life, and there seemed to be little hope of keeping him alive long. He was strapped to a curved plank, confined so tightly that he could only wave his arms and twist his head. After being kept on the board for more than a year his body was incased in a plaster of paris jacket. Yesterday the boy romped around happily showing he had recovered completely.

When the boy was strapped to the board in 1905 he was visited by President Roosevelt, who shook his hand and wished him good luck. Pictures of the boy strapped to the board were sent all over the country. In those pictures the lad was smiling happily, and that brought him his name of "Smiling Joe." It is estimated the pictures brought gifts of $250,000 to the hospital.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY REMEDY
Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

SUMMER FASHIONS IN NEWPORT

Morning Costumes—New Veil-Draped Hats—Fashionable Footwear—A Foulard Dress—Dancing Frocks.

Beautiful toilettes are in evidence everywhere. The best dressed women are wearing on cool mornings plain suits of serge or light-weight cheviott, perfectly cut and tailored, long and comparatively straight coats, short pleated skirts but accompanied by the stocks and jabots of Irish lace. Very lovely are the linen frocks of soft rose color and also in the new shade of lavender that most women find so becoming.

Extremely pretty suits of all white serge with a black hair-line strips are also good style for morning wear.

THE NEW VEIL-DRAPED HATS.

Very novel and picturesque are some of the new Paris hats that one sees in the course of a drive down Bellevue Avenue. Their only trimming is a picturesque veil or scarf draped in artistic folds against the crown and allowed to fall in two long loose ends down the back. A lovely hat of this sort was of the palest lavender and had a wide band of velvet in a darker shade than the straw drawn around the crown and arranged in a broad bow in the back, while across the brim and draped over the back of the hat was a beautiful veil of figured French lace of a soft, creamy tint.

The above design is by The McCall Company, New York. Patterns may be obtained at any McCall Agency.

FASHIONABLE FOOTWEAR

Foot-wear is very elaborate this summer. Almost every frock requires a different sort of shoes, ties or slippers. Tan ties and pumps are again the mode for morning and general outing wear. White canvas ties are worn with white and pale tinted gowns, while suede leather in almost every imaginable color is strongly in evidence both for ties and slippers. Slippers in black or smoke gray suede are the favorites though they are also made in shades to match each costume. Bronze is another popular material for smart shoes and ties this season.

A LOVELY FROCK.

The new lengthened waist line has made its appearance here to such an extent that already the short waisted Directoire gowns are beginning to look old fashioned. The most charming summer frocks of foulard or pongee are made in this style. An especially smart example just sent over from Paris to one of the summer residents is of pale lavender foulard with large white dots. It is a "Moyen Age" model with a rather straight cut upper portion in princess effect extending to half way below the hips where it is joined by a pleated skirt of the material. The upper portion has a square yoke effect of heavy net embroidered in pale lavender and dark purple dots. This is surrounded by a band of silver embroidery worked on lavender not exactly matching the shade of the gown.
