PUBLISHERS AND EDITORS.

SATURDAY, JULY 17, 1909.

THAT Black Hand letter was mailed at Betterton but not by any of the residents there or in Kent. Suspicion points to a citizen outside this county.

THE municipal election held in Annapolis Monday resulted in the election of a Democratic mayor, councilor and six aldermen. The most notable result of the election was that it clearly demonstrated the havoc wrought among the Republican vote by the recent new registration law applicable to the city, and by which the greater proportion of the negro vote was disfranchised under the "grandfather" clause. Only 46 negro votes are now on the books, against 1,000 in previous years. Under the new registration the total vote registered was 1,085, against 2,100 as formerly. Now the vote is pretty evenly distributed. Incidentally the Third ward, commonly termed the "black belt," because the greater part of the negro vote was centered there, is without a Republican representative in the council for the first time in many years. For the last 10 years there has been a negro in the Council from that ward.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

At this season of the year there is always more or less sickness and in many cases the condition is caused by indiscretion or exposure. There are, however, cases where disease arises from unhealthy conditions which may be removed by our citizens. For instance, there is the sewer at foot Maple avenue which does not extend more than ten feet beyond the bridge. The filth and sewerage washes on the shores and lays there baking in the sun. This should be remedied by the authorities. Then there are the back yards where householders allow weeds to grow as high as one's head, also the closets which should be looked after frequently at this time of the year.

We will guarantee that the water supply is being carefully examined while Messrs. Morris and Story state that the milk served here is pure and from healthy cattle. The public boards have a duty to perform and so has the individual. If all work together each taking the responsibility which is surely upon them and doing all they can to remove unhealthy conditions, then Chestertown will be cleaner, better and less sickness will abound. The idea of a citizen putting a closet right under the nose of a neighbor and then complaining of the Board of Commissioners for not doing this or that is simply disgusting. Let's all begin at home to clean up and we are sure the authorities will use a strong hand in doing their part. This matter of health is vital and appeals to everyone. In another column will be found an item from the State Health Department.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

A number of agents for school books have been in Chestertown this week urging the adoption of a certain Geography, Arithmetic or Grammar. It seems to us that Maryland is far behind other States in this matter. Upon investigation we find that most states have a School Commission or a nonpolitical State Board of Education who select the books and said selection stands for five years. These books are used in every county in the State.

In Maryland books are being continually changed and a scholar removing from Kent to Queen Anne's or vice versa has difficulty in keeping up with his studies. This should be remedied. It can be done and we are confident Superintendent Stevens wi'l see the need and urge its adoption. Make the books uniform then make the schedule less irksome and more uniform all over Maryland.

THE papers last week announced that John D. Rockefeller has given $10,000,000 to the cause of education. Was that true? Didn't the public give this donation? We think so. Just a few days before the gift the Standard Oil Co. announced an icrease of one cent per gallon in the price of gasoline! This means a present from $500,000 to $1,000,000 a year, just to show their love and esteem for his distinguished public services. In return Mr. Rockefeller presents them with a present of $10,000,000 for the cause of education; which is proof that the people are getting back some of their money. What can the public do to protect themselves? Nothing at all so long as such men as Aldrich and Cannon are at Washington to protect the Trusts. Give thanks that Mr. Rockefeller gives some of it back to the public. It might be worse!

Centreville as Example.—The Delaware State News, published at Dover, Del., this week contained the following paragraph: "Centreville has a bank which advertises $753,000 security to depositors and allows three per cent, to depositors. Dover is fitting up a new bank for similar purposes and still another trust company is coming in. We banished saloons and get savings banks instead. And which is better to have next your property, a saloon or a banking house? Which?"

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given by the Commissioners of Chestertown, that Ordinances Nos. 9 and 10 relating to Weeds and other Obnoxious Vegetation, also to the offensive condition of Privies will be rigidly enforced, and the fine (not exceeding $15.00) positively collected for every violation of either of these laws. The prevalence of fever in our town makes this step absolutely necessary. The Commissioners, together with the Bailiff, will make a thorough inspection on FRIDAY, JULY 23rd. These two Ordinances have already been advertised and a copy of same can be found at any time at the store of the undersigned.

Typhoid Fever

How to Prevent Its Spread

—ISSUED BY THE—

State Board of Health

OF MARYLAND.

When TYPHOID FEVER appears in a family the source of the infection must be looked for in drinking water or food taken within the preceding twenty days. The patient may not have been infected at home, but if a second case occurs this second infection will in all probability be traceable in some way to the first patient. In a majority of instances the drinking water has become infected. Your first business, therefore, is to find out the quality of your drinking water.

You can do this by asking the local health officer for instruction about shipping us samples of your drinking water. In about a week we will be able to report on the drinking water, but in the meantime the members of the family must not use the raw water. The daily supply of drinking water must be boiled.

The infectious material of typhoid fever is produced in but one way. It grows always in the bowels and sometimes in the bladder. It therefore escapes from the sick person in the stools and urine. If we kill the germs in the stools and urine as soon as they are passed, there can be no spread of typhoid fever. These discharges should, therefore, be disinfected as soon as possible. You will need a large quantity of a good disinfecting solution.

RECIPE FOR A GOOD DISINFECTANT.

To four gallons of water add enough salt to make a strong brine. Put this in a five-gallon demijohn or jug and add a quart of crude carbolic acid. Shake it up well and you will have a good disinfectant for stools and urine.

The crude carbolic acid, known as U. S. P. 90 per cent., is very good and a quart will cost about 50 cents. There is a cheaper grade, known as a 35 per cent. acid, which is nearly as effective.

About a pint of this solution should be put in the chamber or bed pan before it is used, so that the discharges will begin to be disinfected as soon as they leave the body. There must always be at least as much of the disinfecting solution as there is of the discharges, so that more of the disinfecting solution may need to be added after the discharges are passed. If the stools are thin and watery their disinfection will be accomplished in half an hour or so, but if the stools are thick or formed very much more time will be required. On that account it is best to have a covered jar or bucket into which the bed pan can be emptied, and to empty this jar only once in 24 hours. If the discharges cannot be finally thrown into a sewer, they should be buried in the soil at a convenient spot where is no chance of their fouling a water supply. The discharges should never be thrown upon the surface of the ground, for you will hardly be successful in killing all the typhoid bacilli, and you must not place them where those not killed by the acid may be blown about in the dust or carried away by flies to infect other people.

In spite of every precaution those who wait on the sick person will get their hands infected, and it is therefore necessary to wash the hands every time one does any service about the patient's bed or body. Whoever waits on the patient must not prepare food or drink for other persons in the house, or, if it is impossible to mind this rule, one must most carefully and thoroughly cleanse the hands before performing any household duty outside the sick room. Good scrubbing with soap, water and a brush, and then rinsing well in fresh water will suffice for cleansing the hands.

If any one else in the house falls sick within two weeks after the first patient, the probability is that the infection was lodged before the precautions were taken in regard to drinking water and the disposal of discharges. But if the second case occurs more than 20 days after the first case, that will signify that we have made a mistake somewhere in our precautions.

Acting Secretary Local Board of Health of Kent county, Chestertown, Md. jy17-tf.
