Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

FASHIONS AT BAR HARBOR

Gowns of Simple and Elaborate Materials Worn Side by Side.

Bar Harbor has an atmosphere all its own, and while comparisons are apt to seem invidious, the life here is perhaps more natural than at any of the other fashionable watering places, though unconventionality is not permitted to exceed the limits of good taste. Given however the proper introduction there are few resorts where a more thoroughly enjoyable sojourn can be made than at this city on the Island of Mt. Desert.

The various doings outdoors and in, daytimes and evenings, give opportunity for a study both of present fashions and of those liable to survive and dominate the modes of the coming season. Double skirted effects and every variety of the cuirasse lines of the Moyen Age styles are seen not only in the more pretentious gowns, but in the simple, washable frocks that vie with the serges for morning wear. For the girl with

LONG WANTS AND SHORT PURSE STRINGS

There are great opportunities for smart changes in cotton frocks that cost little more than the trouble of making. To be sure the average woman seen at the various functions here has paid a pretty penny for the trig simplicity of her cotton frocks. Nevertheless the intrinsic cost is small, and a woman with the skill to make or wit to direct the making of such gowns by a little seamstress, can appear quite as well dressed at small expense. The rather substantial wash fabrics of the American Printing Company that come in new crepe effects made up into just the right sort of dresses for knockabout wear, and as the colors are perfectly fast stand any amount of laundering without fading.

FASHIONABLE HAIRDRESSING.

The modish coiffure is still rather voluminous, puffed out a good deal at the sides and made into rather a big twist in the back and adorned with a good many puffs and curls, usually false. But several prominent women, who spent the spring and early summer abroad before opening their cottages here, are having their maids arrange their hair in the very latest Parisian styles. One of the most becoming of these new modes is to part the hair in the front and brush the sides back loosely in soft and pretty waves. The ends are then turned in and hidden under a braid that encircles the head leaving a margin of hair all around that is soft and becoming.

AT THE SATURDAY DANCE.

At the Swimming Club last Saturday a slender young woman wore a flowered muslin gown, over a green silk slip that might have belonged to her great grandmother. With it was worn a poke bonnet with clusters of moss roses at the sides, and long velvet ribbon strings. Low strapped shoes of patent leather and green silk stocking helped still further to complete the old timey look.

A YOUNG MATRON.

A very striking dress, worn by a young matron, was of scarlet crepe de chine, the embroidery sprinkled with paste emeralds, and a green sash tied, baby fashion at the back. An odd costume had a gray silk muslin skirt and bodice, with the Princess tunic made of an Indian shawl.

The sides of the drapery caught together with gold cords and balls. Shawl draperies of all sorts and increasingly worn so that by another season the old fashioned wrap may be modish, but it's doubtful.

THE ECONOMICAL GIRL

is wearing several unlined frocks over one slip of good quality China silk, or lawn slips are occassionally seen, but the texture must be fine and soft. Net is also used to some extent over satin slips and soutache embroidery or embroidered bands trim many of the attractive evening dresses displayed at the principal hotels and private hotels. The Marie Antionette fichu of mousseline-de-soie or lace is in high favor here for evening use on verandas.

Miracle or Fincastle Wheat.

MR. JOSEPH GUEST, of our town, who sold to a small number of our farmers some of this splendid wheat, reports results from a few users. Some are phenomenal results, others are not so good; but considering the unfavorable season for wheat in this section, all did well. See his adv. and if interested write to the users, inclosing stamp for answer, and find out the method used in cultivating this wheat. It will post you how to till it for results. The following are the results:

W. W. Smith, St. George's, Del., reports 8 bushels from 22 ounces seeding.
C. I. Barto, Cordova, Md., 58 pounds from 1 pound seeding.
Arthur Rivers, St. Michaels, Md., 51 pounds from 1 pound seeding.
C. L. Dood, Chestertown, Md., 120 pounds from 2 pounds seeding.
Thos. Bryan and J. D. Urie, Chestertown, Md., 200 pounds from 4 pounds seeding.
Wm. Bryan, Morgnec, Md., 90 pounds from 2 pounds seeding.
J. F. Leaverton, Fairlee, Md., 36 pounds from 1 pound seeding.
C. W. Rhinehart, Fairlee, Md., 120 pounds from 4 pounds seeding. Mr Rhinehart writes: Let it get too ripe—lost much by shattering and birds.
Dr. J. A. Carlton, Palmetto, Ga., reports the phenomenal result of 8 bushels (480 lbs) from 29 ounces seeding.
Any one wishing to ascertain the true facts as to mode of culture and results may write to any or all above names enclosing a self addressed envelope, stamped, for answer.
Above I give worst and best results.

I am authorized to take a limited number of orders for this wheat at $1.25 per pound, cash. One thing is sure—it is a good wheat and no fake.

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana writes: "Last year I suffered three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interferred with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Sold by all druggists.
