Another Confidential Letter.

FROM JOHN SHERMAN TO JAMES E. ANDERSON.

Jim Anderson, my jo, Jim,
When first we were acquaint,
You han't kalsomined yourself
With pugilistic paint.
But now your jaw is oiled, Jim,
You're telling what you know,
And I am shaking in my shoes—
Jim Anderson, my jo.

Jim Anderson, my jo, Jim.
We planned the fraud thegither,
And promised that we never would
Go back on one anither;
We juggled the returns, but James,
Jim-James, how could you blow
And peach on me and Rutherford—
Jim Anderson, my jo?

Jim Anderson, my jo, Jim,
I promised we would pay,
But you despised a clerkship at
Three dollars every day;
Old Evarts should have sent you off
Consul to Callao—
But hindsight isn't foresight much,
Jim Anderson, my jo!

Jim Anderson, my jo, Jim,
'Twas not a fair divide;
You stole the mule for us and then
We wouldn't let you ride,
And Stanley M. is sick, Jim,
And Hayes is lying low,
And I'm the deadest sort of duck,
Jim Anderson, my jo!

[New York Sun.

Cure for Hydrophobia.

I can give some facts which may be of use to somebody, thereby giving life. The time between the biting of an animal by a mad dog and showing signs of hydrophobia is not less than nine days, but may be nine months. After the animal has become rabid, a bite or scratch with the teeth upon a person, or slobber coming in contact with a sore or a raw place, would produce hydrophobia just as soon as though he had been bitten by a mad dog. Hydrophobia can be prevented, and I will give what is known to be an infallible remedy, if properly administered, for man or beast. A dose for a horse or cow, should be about four times as great as for a person. It is not too late to give medicine any time before the spasms come on.

The first dose for a person is one and a half ounces of elecampane root, bruised, put in a pint of new milk, reduced to one-half by boiling, then taken, all at one dose in the morning, fasting until afternoon, or at least a very light diet after several hours have elapsed. The second dose the same as the first, except take two ounces of the root; third dose same as last, to be taken every other day. Three doses are all that are needed, and there need be no fear. This I know from my own experience, and I know of a number of other cases where it has been entirely successful. This is no guess work. Those persons I allude to were bitten by their own dogs, that had been bitten by rabid dogs, and were penned up to see if they would go mad; they did go mad, and did bite the persons.

This remedy has been used in and about Philadelphia for forty years and longer, with great success, and is known as the Goodman remedy. I am acquainted with a physician who told me he knew of its use for more than thirty years, but never knew a case that failed where it was properly administered.

Among other cases he mentioned was one where a number of cows had been bitten by a mad dog. To half of this number they administered this remedy, to the other half not. The latter all died of hydrophobia, while those that took the elecampane and milk showed no sign of that disease.—R. C. Shoemaker in Country Gentleman.

The Japanese Idea of Hell.

One of the curious articles exhibited at Tiffany's is a scarf of grey Canton crape, which portrays the infernal regions, according to the Japanese idea. The scarf is nine yards long, and half a yard wide. The first scene represents Satan on earth seeking new victims. The arch fiend appears as a sulphuric, yellowish-green demon, with protruding horns, cloven feet, and a demoniacal expression, luring his victims into his net, and plunging them into fiery depths. They appear to fall into a net of burning scorpions, where they are tantalized by a glimpse of their friends enjoying themselves in a lake of cool water. In the next scene Satan takes the form of an immense dragon, with his human victims crouching in terror at his feet. They are mercilessly dragged into court, and the judge is represented as condemning them to be tied to rocks and to have red-hot lead poured down their throats. They are then chased by hyenas through a field of open knives and other sharp instruments. The victims are next portrayed as being tortured by having their limbs sawed off and by being thrown into a revolving wheel of fire. Satan next appears to be looking out for new victims on a field of battle. Some of these victims are made to hug red-hot stove pipes, while Satan himself, with a smile is fanning them. Others are swimming in seas of blood, surrounded by laughing demons. Others still are seated in a caldron of red-hot sulphur having their tongues pulled out. Some are represented as carrying heavy burdens of coal and throwing it into the fire to burn new victims. His Satanic Majesty is next represented as feeding his subjects with rice, presumably to give them strength with which to endure greater tortures.—N. Y. Tribune.

HOW THE EXPENDITURES ARE SWELLED AT WASHINGTON.—The Legislative, Executive, and Judicial Appropriation bill, as reported to the Senate, sums up more than fifteen and a half millions of dollars, and contains nearly a thousand amendments to that sent from the House of Representatives, every one of which is on the side of expenditure, as against economy. Not a single proposition of the many made to lop off excrescences, to combine unnecessary offices, and to reduce large salaries, has been accepted by the Senate. The Republican majority of the Senate have set their face sternly and resolutely against retrenchment in any form, no matter how urgent the necessity may be, or how glaring the prodigality sought to be curtailed. They make no response to the popular demand for rigid reduction of expenditures, but run on in the old ruts, as if there was no suffering in the country, and no need of reform.

EX-SENATOR SIMON CAMERON gave a light review of his life to a newspaper man the other day, in the course of which he alluded to the fact that he began life in a newspaper office, and said "he should never cease to have a kindly feeling for the men who do the hardest work, the work of a newspaper." Somewhat taken by surprise, his auditor said, "And yet you are credited with disliking and speaking badly of the people connected with the press." "Of course I am, of course I am," the Senator went on; "but there is not one word of truth in it; the story they tell of me talking of 'them literary fellows' is made up out of the whole cloth, as are nearly all such yarns regarding our public men. I never use the expression, and I never disliked press men."

The Candle-Tree.

This tree is confined to the valley of Chagres, where it forms entire forests. In entering them a person might almost fancy himself transported into a chandler's shop. From all the stems and lower branches hang long cylindrical fruits, of a yellow wax color, so much resembling a candle as to have given rise to the popular appellation. The fuit is generally from two to three, but not unfrequently four feet long, and an inch in diameter. The tree itself is about twenty-four feet high, with opposite trifoliated leaves and large white blossoms, which appear throughout the year, but are in greatest abundance during the rainy season. The fruit of the latter, called Quanhscilote, is eaten by the Mexicans; while that of the former serves for food to the numerous herds of cattle. Bullocks, especially if fed with fruit of this tree, Guineagrass, and Batatilla, soon get fat. It is generally admitted, however, that the meat partakes in some degree of the peculiar apple-like smell of the fruit; but this is by no means disagreeable, and easily prevented, if, for a few days before killing the animal, the food is changed. The tree produces its principal harvest during the dry season, when all the herbaceous vegetation is burned up; and on that account its cultivation in tropical countries is especially to be recommended; a few acres of it would effectually prevent that want of fodder which is always most severely felt after the periodical rains have ceased.

LAND DEVELOPMENT.—Nothing, perhaps, is more significant of the extensive emigration to the West that has been going forward since the first of the year than the land sales made during this period by the leading Western railways. The statements of fifteen companies west of Ohio give the startling total of 904,182 acres sold during the first four months of 1878, the price per acre ranging from $3 39—the Kansas Pacific railroad average—to $12 68, the average of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad. The contrast with last year is even more striking. Thus, while the Northern Pacific railroad during the first four months of 1877 sold but 81,175 acres, during the same period of the present year its sales amounted to 165,564 acres, and the Kansas Pacific's to 127,272, against 31,724 last year. This is indeed rapid development, and it could not well have been more happily timed, for the West is suffering from a glut of food and the East from a surplus of labor.

BROAD TIRES TO WHEELS.—It should be evident that a broad wheel, that will not sink into the ground, is of much easier draft than a narrow one that cuts in two or three inches. The difference in draft of a narrow and a broad wheel upon the hardest, smoothest road is inappreciable, and it is a matter of doubt if it is in favor of one or the other. Theoretically, there may be a difference, to a small extent, in favor of the narrow tire, but as our roads are far from being hard or smooth, the difference of draft will be decidedly in favor of the broad tire. A load of manure can be drawn across plowed ground in a broad-tired wagon, by a team that could not move it in one with narrow tires, and the softer the ground, the more apparent will be the difference in favor of the broad wheels. It is to be hoped that the manufacturers of wagons will make the experiment of offering wheels with broad tires; we believe they would soon become very popular.—American Agriculturist.

A LETTER from Middletown, Delaware, to the Baltimore Sun, says: A writer in the June number of Scribner's Monthly says that with two machines and eighty helpers, four being men and the rest girls or women, as many as 27,800 lbs. of dried fruit have been prepared in a single season of forty days, while one town in Delaware, with its fifteen evaporators, last year turned out 200,000 lbs. of dried fruit. It should be noted, too, that though it is more profitable to dry peaches than any other fruit, these evaporators are capable of treating berries and various green vegetables with equal success, and are so employed before the peach season opens This industry, as yet in its infancy, is likely to have a very important effect upon the future of peach-growing.

BEAUTIFUL HELEN no doubt had a fine complexion, but it is more than doubtful whether it exceeded in purity the complexions of the ladies who use that inimitable auxiliary of female loveliness, Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Sold by all Druggists. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, black or brown, 50 cents jl-4t.

A HUGE VENISON CLAIM.—An agent of the government is now in Georgia investigating the merits of some of the claims made by colored people of that State for property alleged to have been appropriated by the government during and after the war, the claims aggregating over $40,000. The agent has taken considerable testimony, and some of the statements made by the witnesses would be marvelous if they were not so utterly absurd. One colored individual swears positively that the Federal soldiers took from him, among other property, one hundred and seventy-two venison hams, and other equally absurd statements are made.

How often do we hear a person say, there must be something the matter with my blood, I have pimples all over. We would recommend Dr. Bull's Blood Mixture.

"YOU'RE afraid to come to the scratch," as the cat said to the pet poodle.

An Undeniable Truth.

You deserve to suffer, and if you lead a miserable, unsatisfactory life in this beautiful world, it is entirely your own fault and there is but one excuse for you,—your unreasonable prejudice and skepticism, which has killed thousands. Personal knowledge and common sense reasoning will soon show you that Green's August Flower will cure you of Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, with all its miserable effects, such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual costiveness, dizziness of the head, nervous prostration, low spirits, &c. Its sales now reach every town on the Western Continent and not a Druggist but will tell you of its wonderful cures. You can buy a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Three dose will relieve you.

GET THE BEST!

THE WILLIAMS EVAPORATOR!

THE undersigned having had large experience in Fruit Drying with the Alden and other dryers, would call the attention of Peach Growers to the WILLIAMS EVAPORATOR, as the one that has proved itself the past season to be the most reliable and economical machine in the market, and is surpassed by none in quality and quantity of product.

WHITE WASH BRUSHES—a large assortment for sale very cheap by April 20, 1878. J. K. ALDRIDGE.

VEGETINE

IS RECOMMENDED BY ALL PHYSICIANS.

Valley Stream, Queens co., Long Island, N. Y.
MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I take the pleasure of writing you a small certificate concerning Vegetine, prepared by you. I have been a sufferer with the Dyspepsia for over forty years, and have had the Chronic Diarrhœa for over six months, and have tried most everything; was given up to die, and did not expect to live from day to day, and no physician could touch my case. I saw your Vegetine recommended to cure Dyspepsia. I commenced using it and I continued to do so, and am now a well woman and restored to perfect health. All who are afflicted with this terrible disease I would kindly recommend to try it for the benefit of their health, and it is excellent as a blood purifier.
By Dr. T. B. Forbes, M. D., for MRS. WM. H. FORBES.

VEGETINE.—When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the VEGETINE will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

VEGETINE

FOR CANCERS AND CANCEROUS HUMORS.

The Doctor's Certificate—Read It.

Ashley, Washington co., Ill., Jan. 14, 1878.
MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: This is to certify that I had been suffering from a Rose Cancer on my right breast, which grew very rapidly, and all my friends had given me up to die, when I heard of your medicine, Vegetine, recommended for Cancer and Cancerous Humors. I commenced to take it and soon found myself beginning to feel better; my health and spirits both felt the benign influence which it exerted, and in a few months from the time I commenced the use of the Vegetine, the Cancer came out almost bodily.
CARRIE DEFORREST.

I certify that I am personally acquainted with MRS. DEFORREST, and consider her one of our very best women. DR. S. H. FLOWERS.

ALL DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.—If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention.

VEGETINE

I REGARD IT AS A VALUABLE FAMILY MEDICINE.

January 1, 1878.
MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in saying that I have used the Vegetine in my family with good results, and I have known of several cases of remarkable cure effected by it. I regard it as a valuable family medicine.
Truly yours, REV. WM. MCDONALD.
Rev. Wm. McDonald is well known thro' the United States as a minister in the M. E. Church.

THOUSANDS SPEAK.—VEGETINE is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best purifier and cleanser of the blood yet discovered, and thousands speak in its praise who have been restored to health.

VEGETINE.

THE M. D.'s HAVE IT.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I have sold Vegetine for a long time, and find it gives most excellent satisfaction.
