J. WILLIAM KIRBY, Proprietor,

Successor to A. L. Davidson.

C. R. Kluger, the Jeweler, 1060 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes, "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed." Sold by all druggists.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female ills, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."

EMMA DRAPER.

Another Operation Avoided.

Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."—Mrs. ALVENA SPERLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

NEW YORK MODES FOR FALL AND WINTER

All Styles of Dress Goods—Plain Skirts—Long Skirts for House Wear—Basques—Russian Blouse—Apron Fronts—Dress Goods and Millinery.

This season is remarkable for diversity of style in dress. The princess, the V, neck, the cuirass, the overskirt, the apron, the Russian blouse are all admissible not overlooking the high belt, alike suitable for day or evening. Rummage in closets or other receptacles containing old time dresses or materials, may be attended with happy results, as all fabrics are fashionable except crepon. Nothing is more stylish than bead, metallic or jet trimmings, unless it be something in Oriental colors. Borders of Cashmere shawls are very smart, or any and every sort of embroidery. A satin band is a favorite border for an overskirt.

RECENT OPENINGS.

So far, all costumes shown for house or reception wear have plain skirts, not very wide but quite long. Sleeves are sometimes long, then again mosquetaire shape or three quarter length. It is many a long day since a black velvet or velveteen dotted in yellow has been seen, yet at an opening of recent date, a costume embodying this old-time fabric was displayed with a coat trimmed by collar and cuffs of the dotted velvet. The partiality for velvet, brings velveteens prominently forward, and when of first quality, the difference is not very great.

BLACK OR COLORED MOIRE.

This appears in basque with satin skirts, or in millinery forms entire hats usually with two shades of the same color combined. Louis XIV coats have been revived and as almost all trimming is on the waist and sleeves these jaunty little coats are usually embroidered all around when of plain-colored material. This is a wonderful season for browns and blues. Such a variety of soft, beautiful shades has never before been seen. Very gay colors are also largely worn, such as apricot or old rose. A peculiar costume is of satin-finished blue cloth, made with a plaited skirt and overskirt at the front, extending above the waist line and pointed at the centre of the front. A silver net waist, veiled in blue chiffon is a foundation, and two wide, full pieces of the material come over the shoulders, and are tucked away under the high belt. Sleeves are three-quarter length, and three folds of the material simulate a round neck.

POPULAR DRESS GOODS.

Lord and Taylor is showing a most fascinating array of new suitings and dress goods in diagonal woven cheviots and serges, as well as in camelshair, zibeline, and Scotch mixtures for general utility wear.

The above design is by The McCall Company, New York, Designers and Makers of McCall Patterns.

For more formal dress satin finished broadcloths in black and the whole gamut of new French shading, in green, rose, grays and browns are to vie with velvet, as shown by the early sales to the exclusive trade of this fashionable Broadway shop.

Braided embroideries, combined with hand stitchery, and velvet in matching tones are the preferred decorations for handsome suits.

MILLINERY.

Many attractive changes have come about in millinery, particularly in toques, the larger proportion of which now show draped or shirred velvet fronts, and silver, gilt net or satin covered by black Chantilly lace, forms some of the most charming hats of the season, with a large cluster of pink moss rosebuds and velvet foliage at one side, or else a white aigrette and one rose is substituted. A handsome black Chantilly lace veil serves the purpose and white satin is not very expensive. Long haired beaver hats are stylish or those of silk plush, but after all velvet is the leading fabric for millinery use. The Colonial shape is very dashing, and for full dress occasions, the large hat carries the day. Hats of Marabout in white or maroon are among novelties, trimmed by gilt or silver cloth.
