WAIT AND SEE.

When my boy with eager questions,
Asking how and where and when,
Taxes all my store of wisdom
Asking o'er and o'er again
Questions oft to which the answers
Give to others still the key,
I have said, to teach him patience,
"Wait, my little boy, and see."

And the words I taught my darling
Taught to me a lesson sweet;
Once when all the world seemed darkened
And the storms about me beat,
In the "children's room" I heard him,
With a child's sweet mimicry,
To the baby brother's questions
Saying wisely, "wait and see."

Like an angel's tender chiding
Came the darling words to me,
Though my Father's ways were hidden,
Bidding me still wait and see.
What are we but restless children,
Ever asking what shall be?
And the Father in His wisdom
Gently bids us "wait and see"

A FRENCH LION STORY.

An exhibition which will be of unusual interest is already nearly completed. In a vacant lot, situated between the Hippodrome and the Champs de Mars, a menagerie—such as has never been seen in Europe—is to be open during the next three months. It will undoubtedly be curious and interesting, but I doubt if the capture of any of its animals has such a history as the lions about to appear at the Porte Saint Martin Theatre. I am indebted to M. d'Ennerp, one of the authors of the "Tour du Monde," for the following particulars: The superb animals have never formed part of any menagerie, and have retained all their terrible savageness. It is a hunter, and not a trainer, who accompanies them. Macomo, a large powerful negro of Central Africa, made himself master of these beautiful animals in the following manner: He had been informed of the nightly presence of a lion in his neighborhood. He lost no time in arming himself with a long cutlass, and, dragging a young ox after him, arrived at the appointed place. At the usual hour his majesty appeared. The moon was in its full, and the strange trio saw one another in broad day. The lion gave utterances to a deep, significant growl, looked from the man to the ox and flourished his great tail. Macomo remained perfectly quiet for an instant, then suddenly plunging his cutlass into the ox he raised him in his vigorous arms and threw him at the lion's feet. The wild beast made a bound, sprang upon the bleeding body, carressing it for a moment as a cat does a mouse, and then giving expression to stifled growls of joy, he drank the blood and crushed the bones. And Macomo—what was he doing all this time? Seated quietly a few steps from his guest, he opened a little sack, from which he took a bit of corn bread and dry figs and began his own frugal repast. When his hunger began to be satisfied, the lion raised his head and looked at the man. Their eyes met. Those of the lion were filled with surprise. Those of the man were calm and smiling. The lion returned to his supper. When he was completely satisfied he rose. Macomo did likewise. The lion made three or four steps towards Macomo, who remained motionless, and looking once more at his ox, which was partially devoured, his eyes seemed to say: "This belongs to me." Macomo bowed. A last glance friendly this time, and the lion quietly went on his way, leaving Macomo to return to his home. On the following evening at the same hour, the African returned to the place of meeting, where the half-devoured carcass still lays, and shortly afterward the lion made his appearance, but not alone this time. As the hunter had foreseen, he came accompanied by family and friends. They were four in number, two lions, a lioness and a lion's whelps. The repast was served, but not as on the previous evening, in the open air. Macomo had built an arbor, covered with vines, banana and palm leaves, and into this pretty dining-room his guests entered fearlessly. Then crawling noiselessly within reach of a hidden spring Macomo touched it, and his four lions suddenly found themselves imprisoned in a strong iron cage whose bars had been hidden beneath green leave. Friends were near at hand to aid in removing the four lions upon a cart, and they were about to commence their work when they perceived a new lioness crouched down upon the sand, and licking her whelps between the iron bars. When the men raised the cage upon the cart she looked at them beseechingly, and when they all marched on she followed at a short distance, with drooping head and tearful eyes. And thus it is that we have five lions instead of four at the Theatre Porte Saint Martin—five terrible, ferocious beasts, ready to revolt at any moment; and although Macomo enters their cage, and dominates them to a certain extent, they have not forgotten him for having taken advantage of their confidence in him, and would ask nothing better than to treat him as Lucius was treated by his seven lions in the last days of the old Hippodrome—simply to tear him to pieces. —Paris Correspondent.

BEST THINGS.—The best philosophy—a contented mind. The best law—the golden rule. The best education—self-knowledge. The best statesmanship—self-government. The best medicine—cheerfulness and temperance. The best art—painting a smile upon the brow of childhood. The best science—extracting sunshine from a cloudy day. The best war—to war against one's weakness. The best music—the laughter of an innocent child. The best journalism—printing the truth and the beautiful only, on memory's tablet. The best telegraphing—flashing a ray of sunlight into a gloomy heart. The best biography—the life which writes characters in the largest letters. The best mathematics—that which doubles the most joys and divides the most sorrows. The best navigation—steering clear of the lacerating rocks of personal contention. The best diplomacy—effecting a treaty of peace with one's own conscience. The best engineering—building a bridge of love over the river of death.

SAMUEL J. RANDALL, speaker of the House of Representatives, owns 1,300,000 acres of land in West Virginia, which he acquired by the purchase of a Revolutionary claim against the State of Virginia, by which the lands were pledged for money loaned by a Massachusetts capitalist.

IT is a sad sight to see an intoxicated person on the street. How much more so is it to see a dull and sickley Baby rendered so by the use of dangerous opiate? Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup contains nothing injurious and may be given to the most delicate baby. Price 25 cents.

EDISON said to a Chicago reporter who asked if he had ever been in the Western metropolis before: "Yes; I was here thirteen years ago. I had a linen duster, $2.50 and a railroad pass. I was not interviewed then."

ALTHOUGH a woman's age is undoubtedly her own she never owns it.

THE GRANT TALK.—The evidences that all organized movement for the nomination of Gen. Grant in 1880 is under way multiply. The newspapers like the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and the Pittsburg Commercial-Gazette, which were the first to take up the cry and who for some time enjoyed a monopoly of it, find now a good many imitators. Local republican conventions out West have in several cases emphasized the disgust of the republican managers with Hayes by putting a good word for Grant into their resolutions, and even in a couple of cases openly declaring for his nomination two years hence. All accounts agree that such a declaration might have been obtained from the Illinois republican State convention last week without any difficulty had the managers thought it wise. The most notable feature of this business is the prominence of the old rings which flourished under the Grant regime. The St. Louis paper which has been most zealous in the movement is edited by a man who went to jail for his complicity with the whiskey frauds. The man who talked loudest for Grant to the Illinois republicans at Springfield last week is the Chicago lawyer who championed the cause of that city's whiskey ring.

And so all around, wherever you find the remnants of any of the numerous rings which Grantism fostered you find at the same time the hearty supporters of any movements that promises to restore Grantism. But, while the old plunderers are, perhaps, the leaders in the present movement, they are by no means without respectable followers. Whatever real strength the movement possesses comes from the favor with which it is regarded by the capitalist class.

It is evident enough that a good many rich people are considerably worried by the talk about communism, the occasional disorders and the threats of more serious troubles, the growth of wild parties like the Kearneyites in California, and that they are quite possessed with the idea that Ulysses S. Grant is the only man who can deal with this sort of thing successfully. How large this element now is cannot be very closely estimated, but its existence is indisputable.

The great independent class, who at present hold the balance of power, will never consent to the restoration of Grantism for any reason short of their belief that the only alternative is something a great deal worse. And for precisely this reason the movement is never likely to get beyond talk. Demoralization has not yet obtained such hold of the nation, nor is there happily reason to fear it will, that a majority of American citizens will turn to one man and beseech him to save them from themselves.—Springfield Rep.

An Undeniable Truth.

You deserve to suffer, and if you lead a miserable, unsatisfactory life in this beautiful world, it is entirely your own fault and there is but one excuse for you,—your unreasonable prejudice and skepticism, which has killed thousands. Personal knowledge and common sense reasoning will soon show you that Green's August Flower will cure you of Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, with all its miserable effects, such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual costiveness, dizziness of the head, nervous prostration, low spirits, &c. Its sales now reach every town on the Western Continent and not a Druggist but will tell ybu of its wonderful cures. You can get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Thre doses will relieve you.

VEGETINE.

I will try Vegetine.
He did, AND WAS CURED.

Delaware, O., Feb. 16, 1877.

MR. H. R. STEVENS,—Dear Sir: I wish to give you this testimony, that you may know, and let others know, what Vegetine has done for me.—About two years ago a small sore came on my leg; it soon became a large ulcer, so troublesome that I consulted the doctor, but I got no relief, growing worse from day to day. I suffered terribly; I could not rest day or night; I was so reduced my friends thought I would never recover; I consulted a doctor at Columbus; followed his advice; it did no good; I can truly say I was discouraged. At this time I was looking over my newspaper; saw your advertisement of Vegetine, the "Great Blood Purifier" for cleansing the blood from all impurities, curing humors, ulcers, &c. I said to my family, I will try some of the Vegetine. Before I had used the first bottle I began to feel better. I made up my mind I had got the right medicine at last. I could now sleep well nights. I continued taking the Vegetine. I took thirteen bottles. My health is good. The ulcer is gone, and I am able to attend to business. I paid about four hundred dollars for medicine and doctors before I bought the Vegetine. I have recommended Vegetine to others with good success. I always keep a bottle of it in the house now. It is a most excellent medicine. Very resp'y, F. ANTHONI.

Mr. Anthoni is one of the pioneers of Delaware, O.; he settled here in 1834. He is a wealthy gentleman of the firm of F. Anthoni & Sons. Mr. A. is extensively known, especially among the Germans. He is well known in Cincinnati. He is respected by all.

IMPURE BLOOD.—In morbid conditions of the blood are many diseases; such as salt-rheum, ring worm, boils, carbuncles, sores, ulcers and pimples. In this condition of the blood try Vegetine and cure these affections. As a blood purifier it has no equal; its effects are wonderful.

VEGETINE
CURED HER.

Dorchester, Mass., June 11.

DR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty to say one word in regard to the great benefit I have received from the use of one of the greatest wonders of the world; it is your Vegetine. I have been one of the greatest sufferers for the last eight years that ever could be living. I do sincerely thank my God and your Vegetine for the relief I have got. The Rheumatism has pained me to such an extent that my feet broke out in sores. For the last three years I have not been able to walk; now I can walk and sleep, and do my work as well as ever I did, and I must say I owe it all to your blood purifier, Vegetine. MARGERY WELLS.

VEGETINE.—The great success of the Vegetine as a cleanser and purifier of the blood is shown beyond a doubt by the great numbers who have taken it, and received immediate relief, with such remarkable cures.

VEGETINE.
Is Better than any MEDICINE.

Henderson, Ky., Dec., 1877.

I have used H. R. Stevens' Vegetine, and like it better than any medicine I have used for purifying the blood. One bottle of Vegetine accomplished more good than all other medicines I have taken. THOS. LYNE.

VEGETINE is composed of Roots, Barks & Herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it.

VEGETINE
Recommended by M. D.'s.

H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I have sold Vegetine for a long time, and find it gives most excellent satisfaction. A. B. DEFIEST, M. D., Hazleton, Ind.

A TALK WITH FRUIT GROWERS.

I HAVE now growing on my farm a fine Seedling PEACH NURSERY, (from the seed of the Smock,) of Over 200,000 TREES.

Being from Smock Seed, and growing on land that never grew trees before, they must prove especially hardy and prolific. I shall bud 50,000 (commencing June 15,) for this fall's planting; such trees will run from 3 to 4 feet in height. I shall bud the balance for planting the following Fall.

As most all planters have preference for special varieties, I propose to take orders before budding is done; customers furnishing their own buds if they prefer, so that all may be accommodated.

Do not fail to give this matter proper consideration, and send in your orders early; by so doing you can secure just the varieties you want. But if delayed till you are ready to plant, Nurserymen may not have the kinds you prefer.

I will give instructions how to forward buds upon inquiry.

I have a general assortment of
ALL KINDS OF
NURSERY STOCK.

Twenty years' experience as an extensive Fruit grower and Nurseryman, certainly entitles me to a reasonable share of patronage on this Peninsula.

Business Change

THE subscriber respectfully announces to his friends and the public that he has succeeded
MR. T. B. HYNSON
in the Merchandising Business in Chestertown, and will hereafter conduct it at the Old Stand on his own account.
He has Opened this Week
A general assortment of
NEW GOODS,
and the stock will be fully maintained in about the same line as heretofore.

Having been employed in the store for more than seventeen years past, he flatters himself that he possesses a general knowledge of the business, which will be conducted with strict regard to the wants of the trade and to the satisfaction of his customers.

Purchasers are requested to examine his goods and prices. Every article will be sold at the
VERY LOWEST FIGURES.
☞ Butter, Eggs and Lard taken in exchange for goods.
A. J. CAHALL.

A CARD.—Having disposed of my Store Goods to Mr. A. J. CAHALL, who has been in my employ for more than 17 years past, I take great pleasure in recommending him to the public as in every respect worthy of their confidence and patronage.

Thankful for the generous patronage extended to me for so many years, I trust that the same may be continued to my successor. T. B. HYNSON.
Chestertown, Sep. 15, 1877.
