ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Gardiner, Maine.—"I have been a great sufferer from organic troubles and a severe female weakness. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but I could not bear to think of it. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash—and was entirely cured after three months' use of them."—Mrs. S. A. Williams, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner, Me.

No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and renewer of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Rests Beneath Carnations.—The grave of Mrs. Edith May Thompson Woodill was covered with a mass of beautiful red carnations Tuesday and it will ever be adorned with her favorite flowers Gilber Woodill, of California, husband of the murdered woman, has been in McDaniel, Talbot county, the scene of the murder which last June attracted a national interest, and has arranged to keep the grave of his wife covered with carnations. A contract has been made with James Kendall, of Easton, proprietor of the greenhouses at that place to supply the carnations for decorating the grave. The contract is for one year and is renewable at the end of that period. Mr. Woodill said that he would have made the contract for a longer time, but agreed with the florist that it would be just as easy to renew it annually. Under the terms of the arrangement the florist is to furnish a fresh supply of red carnations every Friday in the year, rain or shine, or snow, hot weather or cold. If he fails in one instance he will forfeit his contract. The carnations are to be delivered to Miss Thompson, foster-sister of the murdered woman. Miss Thompson will visit the grave of Mrs. Woodill immediately upon receipt of the flowers and strew the floral tokens of love and cherished memories on the little mound of earth.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Schuyler gave a birthday surprise party on Oct. 4th to Mrs. Rachel B. Taggart at their residence on the "Strand," New Castle, Del. Their spacious art studios were decorated with fall flowers and blossoms arranged in quaint old copper and brass vases brought by them from foreign lands. At 3 P. M. the rooms were darkened and shutters closed and brilliantly lighted by numerous candles, while the birthday cake was the centre of interest with all of its tiny little wax candles ablaze, and surrounded by the new Maryland roses in pink, alternating with rows of green and white clusters of rare grapes and other fruits. Two charming little daughters of the rector of Immanuel Church in white with pink trimmings, served the tea and other refreshments in fine old-fashioned china which some ancestors had imported from Hong Kong in days of yore. Mrs. Taggart was born in Kent county, Maryland eithty-five Octobers ago. She is the daughter of Thomas Ringgold of "Pleasant Manor," near Chestertown, and Sarah Israel, of Christiana, Del. Her grandfather, Colonel Joseph Israel, was an officer in the war of the Revolution, and is buried in Immanuel grave yard, New Castle, Del. Her first husband was the late Henry W. Price, of "Stoneton," on the Sassafras river, near Betterton, Md. In later years she married Capt. Joseph Israel Taggart, of New Castle, Del. Among the guests at her birrthday party were: Rev. J. Rigg, Mrs. Rigg, Misses Doroth, Frances and Violet Rigg, of Jamiaca, West Indies; Rev. S. B. Wylie and wife, of Belfast, Ireland; Mrs. John H. Rodney, Miss Emilie Rodney, Mrs. G.
