Remedies Worth Trying.

The Paris correspondent of the Boston Courier, referring to his recovery from a dangerous illness, says: I mention this illness that I may tell you how easily I was cured. I was bent double. I could not breathe. My physician ordered me to take a flatiron and heat it as hot as I could bear, put a double fold of flannel on the painful part, and move the iron to and fro on the flannel. I was cured by enchantment. My doctor told me that some time since a professor in one of our colleges, after suffering some days with neuralgia in the head, which he himself had tried to cure, sent for the former, who prescribed a hot flatiron. The next time the doctor saw the professor the latter exclaimed with mock anger: "I really shall not pay you any fee! what! I had no sooner applied the heated iron to my head than instantly all pain vanished. This is as simple as good-day; surely you cannot expect a fee for it!" My physician was summoned recently to the bedside of a woman who had neuralgia in both sides, and so violently she alarmed the whole neighborhood by the screams which her intolerable anguish wrung from her. She was taken from her bed and borne near the fire. In such severe cases a heated iron is not energetic enough. He has an iron rod fastened in an ivory handle. He heats this rod to white heat (which causes less pain than red heat) and applies it very slightly to the seat of the pain, first in longitudinal, then in latitudinal lines. The application is so light that no trace is left but red lines on the epidermis, which are soon effaced. In twenty minutes the woman walked back to bed, and the third day afterwards quitted it entirely freed from neuralgia. This instrument is not to be entrusted to awkward hands.

The evidence taken last week in Philadelphia, before the Wallace Committee, says the Record, as to the method of conducting elections in that city, and as to the character of United States Deputy Marshals and the services rendered by them and by the city police on the day of election, may be briefly summed up. It was proved:

First. That many of the Deputy Marshals were drunk and disorderly.

Second. That three of them had served terms in the penitentiary for felony, personation at the polls, and other offences.

Third. That the police disregarded the law commanding them to keep thirty feet away from the polls, and electioneered for Republican candidates.

Fourth. That the police assisted Republican personators.

Fifth. That the Deputy Marshals electioneered for the Republican ticket.

Sixth. That many electors were illegally arrested for trying to vote in divisions were they had resided for years.

Seventh. That many Deputy Marshals were not on the Assessors lists in the divisions in which they were authorized to act.

To these proofs as far as they go, nothing need be added in the way of homily or suggestion. They speak for themselves and explain themselves. They will not make the people any better disposed toward Federal supervisors.

The New York Sun advises the Republicans, instead of "whimpering over the removals of subordinates" in the Senate, to reflect on the causes that have brought the Republican party into a minority in that body. The suggestion is not apt to be relished greatly by those who are already sore over the revival of political positions, but it is good advice nevertheless. As this is the season of Lent for the Republican party as well as for the religious world, it would be well for them to improve the solemn occasion by penitential reflections on its past sins, and by prayer to do better in future. The country has humilitated it, and it cannot hope to recover public respect and confidence except by penitence and reform. Instead of fighting for petty office, let it put on sackcloth and ashes for the sins which lost it those places.

Appreciation of Labor by Centuries.—A table of wages and the cost of living, with the price of staple articles of commerce, going back as far as the year 1200, has been published lately. It shows that wages during the thirteenth century were about 50 cents a week. In the next century they advanced some 15 cents, and continued to advance slowly until, in the last century, they had reached $1 87. The average for farm labor in the same countries at present is $3 80 per week. Wheat in the thirteenth century averaged 71 cents, or eight and a half days' labor, a bushel. Now wheat is worth, wholesale, in Europe, about $1 46 a bushel, or two and a half days' labor. In six centuries meat has nearly trebbled in price, but wages have increased nearly sevenfold.

A New Steering Invention.—A new invention for steering vessels by steam instead of by hand was tested in New York Monday, on one of the largest and most unmanageable tugs in the harbor. By the old way of steering a vessel, when there is a strain on the right of the rudder there is a corresponding slack on the left, and this is what causes all delay and hard work in handling the wheel. The new invention picks up this slack and holds it. No matter in what position or in what angle the rudder is placed, it is held as taut as though it was straight.

An Income of Four Thousand Dollars a Day.—Lieutenant Governor Tabor, of Colorado, one of the principal mine owners of Leadville, the new Eldorado, passed through Chicago the other day, and was interviewed by a reporter of the Inter-Ocean as to the truth of the statement that his income was $4,000 a day. The Governor said he didn't know him self what he earned a day, but admitted having realized $51,700 out of the "Little Pittsburg" mine within one month.

That is a good story, given in the Graphic, about the aged lady on her death bed, who was in a penitential mood. She said, "I have been a great sinner more than eighty years and didn't know it." An old colored woman, who had lived with her a long time, exclaimed, "Lors! I knowed it all de time!"

A Remarkable Result.

It makes no difference how many Physicians, or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Diseases. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to Throat and Lung Affections, Consumption, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Severe Colds settled on the Breast, Pneumonia, Whooping Cough, &c., who have no personal knowledge of Boschee's German Syrup. To such we would say that 50,000 dozen were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives try just one bottle. Regular size 75c. Sold by C. F. Stam, Chestertown, and F. M. Goodwin, Millington.

JOHN N. DODD,

UNDERTAKER.

NOTICE.

REDUCTION IN PRICES.

I AM still at the old stand established by my father, the late John. T. Dodd, over 40 years ago as the leading Undertaker of this community, which reputation I intend to keep so far as quality, design, price, polite attention, &c., on my part is concerned. I want it distinctly understood that I make a SPECIALTY of Undertaking, keeping a large stock of Coffins, Caskets, and Burial Cases of all kinds always on hand, and I am prepared to furnish them upon the shortest notice possible, at prices much below ANY ONE ELSE engaged in the business in this vicinity. I can do this because I am at less expense than others, and I guarantee full satisfaction in every case, both as regards quality and price.

☞When away on other business, orders may be left with my mother, who resides next door to the shop, and they will receive equal attention as if left with me in person, as she thoroughly understands the business in every particular. I will allow nothing else to interfere with the prompt and efficient execution of all orders with which I am favored.

JOHN N. DODD,
sep21-tf. Undertaker.

A LECTURE to YOUNG MEN.

Just Published in a Sealed Envelope.
Price Six Cents

A LECTURE on the Nature, Treatment, and radical cure of Seminal Weakness or Spermatorrhœa, induced by Self Abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.; by Rob't J. Culverwell, M. D., author of the "Green Book," &c.

The world renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his experience that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without medicine and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
