A PANIC IN A CHURCH.—A Wild Rush for Escape—Exciting Scenes—Men and Women Seriously Injured.—A special dispatch from Waynesboro', Pa., to the Baltimore Sun, of last Wednesday, says:

A panic occurred in the Lutheran Church at this place last night, which resulted in serious injuries to a number of persons. Nightly discussions have taken place in the Church between a Lutheran clergyman and an Elder of the German or Tunker Baptists, the chief topic being whether immersion or sprinkling was the true scriptural form of baptism. The discussion caused much excitement in the neighborhood, and the church on each occasion was crowded with the friends of the disputants.

Long before the hour appointed for the discussion to commence last night there was not standing room in the church—a brick building, with a seating capacity of about 600. Both the floor and the galleries were densely packed, while scores of people outside struggled to gain admittance. Shortly before seven o'clock a bench in the church broke, making a crackling noise, and at once some one in the congregation called out, "The building is falling!" A scene of the wildest excitement followed, the screams of women and children mingling with the exclamations and shouts of men. A general rush was made for the doorways, which were soon blocked up by the frightened crowd, and, to add to the terror, the railings in the front of the gallery gave way, precipitating the occupants on the heads of those below. Finding that egress by the doors was cut off, the windows at the back of the galleries were burst open, and men and women jumped to the ground, a distance of twenty feet. The trampling of the crowd on the floors raised a cloud of dust, through which the lighted lamps could only be seen dimly, and another cry, "The building is on fire," caused all to redouble their efforts to escape, altho' the mass of people had by this time become so tightly wedged together that movement became almost impossible.—The ministers present endeavored to allay the panic by calling out, "For God's sake keep quiet, there is nothing wrong," but their voices could not be heard for the cries and groans which came from hundreds of voices. Strong men seemed to have lost all self-control, and joined in the mad rush from fancied danger; women were either trampled upon or fell fainting from terror, and children were unthought of in the general melee.

Not until the building had almost been emptied, and the people realized that at no time had there been any cause for alarm, did they begin to think on the effects of the panic, and on an examination being made it was found that many were seriously injured, although, fortunately, no lives were lost. The majority of the congregation were from the country districts and left for home in their carriages as soon as possible. Amongst the injured were the following:—Rev. Mr. Richardson, of Smithsburg, Md., trampled upon and injured; Miles Comar, shoulder bone and several ribs broken; Mrs. Weagly, arm broken and otherwise injured; Rev. S. W. Owen, of Hagerstown, Md., badly bruised; Mrs. Mers and two sons, severely injured; Henry G. Fink, seriously hurt; a lady, name unknown, taken to the hotel, where she now lies in a critical condition. The sad affair has created intense excitement in the village. The damage to the church is estimated at $500.

In looking over the late election returns from all parts of the country, says the Easton Star, we cannot see why the Democratic party has any cause to complain. We do not find that the Republicans have gained any material advantage. They certainly do not hold a reasonable majority in enough States to elect a republican President. If the Democrats are only cautious, and manage the presidential campaign with skill, they can easily elect their President in 1880. New York is undoubtedly democratic, as is also Indiana, and the Republicans are in a minority in both Maine and California, while New Jersey, Connecticut and Ohio are all debatable States, and by no means are they certain for the Republicans. And then, in the late campaign, in all the Northern and Western States, the Republicans ran the machine on sectional issues, and carried them by playing on the passions of the people. Before the Presidential election a reaction may come against them, which may prove fatal. A great party cannot rely on the passions of the people for lasting success. A reaction is bound to come sooner or later. Standing on principle, the Democrats have decidedly the best chance of success next year.

A REPORTED NEW REMEDY IN CONSUMPTION.—A Dr. M. M. Griffith, of Bradford, Pa., reports that he has attained some astonishing results by administration of crude petroleum to consumptives. In twenty-five cases of well-marked tuberculosis he claims that twenty are cured, so far as any outward signs of the disease are concerned, and the rest have been materially benefitted, none having been under treatment for more than four months. The nausea attending the use of ordinary petroleum led Dr. Griffith to use the semi-solid oil that forms on the casing and tubing of wells. This is made into pills of three to five grains each by incorporating any inert vegetable matter, and administered in doses of one pill each from three to five times a day. The first effect, he says, is the disappearance of the cough, night sweats are relieved, appetite improves and weight is rapidly gained. But there have been so many cure-alls for pulmonary diseases which have utterly failed that it is likely the medical faculty will hasten slowly before they consent to recognize Dr. Griffith's remedy as the long-sought panacea. Yet there can be no doubt that there have been many oily and fatty substances that have given relief to consumptives, at least aiding to sustain them for varying periods, according to the constitution of different patients.

By the death of Mr. J. Harman Brown on Saturday last Baltimore lost a valuable and highly respected citizen. Mr. Brown had been Register of Wills for twelve years and had he lived until Monday last he would on that day have yielded up the office to his successor. Besides being in official life for many years Mr. Brown was associated in many charitable undertakings and never seemed more happy than when he was doing some good to his fellow-men. Ripe in years he passed away without a stain upon his integrity and will be long remembered for his many virtues by all who knew him best and loved him most.—Gazette.

MRS. HAYES visited the Methodist fair in Philadelphia Wednesday, and was formally presented with a handsomely embroidered satin screen. Bishop Simpson made the presentation speech. Subsequently another screen was presented to her by the congregation of St. John's church. President Hayes arrived in Philadelphia Wednesday night.

CONFEDERATE BISHOPS.—The Philadelphia Times says: "The Confederate brigadier is coming into considerable prominence in the Church as well as in the State. At least half a dozen of the younger bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church were officers in the Confederate army, who entered the ministry after the war, and whose military experience doubtless laid the foundation of their character and capacity that are recognized in their elevation to the episcopate. It is not only the Southern dioceses that show a predilection for ex-soldiers.—Bishop Quintard, of Tennessee, Bishop Dudley, of Kentucky, Bishop Peterkin, of West Virginia, Bishop Harris, of Michigan, and two or three others, including the Bishop-elect of Louisiana, Dr. Gallihher, all served in the Confederate army, and so did at least three of the missionary bishops appointed by the House of Bishops—Elliott, of Western Texas, Wingfield, of Northern California, and Penick, of Cape Palmas. We believe that no instance of this kind has yet occurred in the North, which is unfortunate; for there is no doubt that all of these men will make better bishops for having been good soldiers. The fact is that all the young men in the South, 15 to 20 years ago, who were good for anything were in the army, and in choosing a man for almost any position, in Church or State, an ex-soldier is pretty sure to turn up."

DELAWARE JUSTICE.—At New Castle, Del., Saturday, Henry Brannon, who was indicted and arraigned at this term of court for outrage committed on the 26th of July upon the person of Martha Morris, aged 7 years, the daughter of a farmer, was rearraigned and permitted to withdraw his plea of not guilty and to plead guilty to assault. Notwithstanding the usual custom in this court when a plea of guilty is allowed, the full penalty of the law was passed upon the prisoner, viz: Ten years imprisonment, thirty lashes on the bare back, one hour in the pillory, and $500 fine.

ELABORATE arrangements are being made in Philadelphia for the reception of Gen. Grant on the 16th of December. Those having the affair in charge invite the people, especially of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware to participate. The Governors and other high officials of those States will receive special invitations to be present.

WITH prudent counsels, well-considered economies, and steadily prosecuted reforms, with suspicions and ill will between our own people discouraged and put an end to, we shall have before us an era of prosperity which should gladden the heart of every man who loves his country. —Senator Bayard to the people of Wilmington.

No More SICK HORSES or CATTLE.

The introduction of the English Condition Powders,

In our American market, exempt from duty, freight, &c., has proved to the thousands who are daily using them that they have been a long felt want.

For the past half century they have grown in public favor and general use in all quarters of the Globe, until their name and fame is world-wide.

There is not an ailment (known in Veterinary practice) of the Horse, Cow, Sheep or Pig, but yield to their miraculous influence.

Their rare balsamic properties are conveyed to every part of the brute creation, and immediate relief is given.

They heal Internal Ulcerations, banish all derangements, and give the stomach proper tone.

No Stock-owner need despair a cure, whilst this never-failing remedy can be obtained; and the reputation they bear from all quarters of the Globe is fully borne out by the success they have attained—corroborated by testimonials of all classes and countries.

They have cured Thousands of Cases conceded Incurable.

The many ailments of each class of animals and their various forms are too extended to discuss. But we guarantee in each case a tenfold remuneration for the small investment that places them within reach of the most humble who often have to rely on their stock for support.

The majority are more directly interested in Horses, and to them we say one trial will convince you that they work wonders; and no matter how doubtful the case is, you will invariably be benefitted, & your animals made & kept healthy by their use.

English Condition Powders

are a certain and speedy remedy, no matter what the disease is, or how complicated. They are not a temporary, but have invariably proved to be a radical cure.

They restore health and produce flesh, milk and butter. They aid digestion and assimilation, and thoroughly renovate the system, and will be found invaluable and remunerative to every stock-owner.

TO CONSUMERS.—They are only one-third the price of all others, and are as superior in quality as quantity.

The following TESTIMONIALS speak of their merits:

Baltimore, June 17, 1879.

Mr. P. Warren—Sir: We have been handling your English Condition Powders for some time past, and find that their merits as compared with similar compounds, meet a want seldom (if at all) found in goods of a similar class. With Patrons of Husbandry they are growing into favor rapidly. Signed: H. O. DEVRIES, Ag't Maryland State Grange.

Ashland House, 24th St. & 4th Avenue, New York City, Mar. 10, 1879.

I have used the English Condition Powders and can recommend them to the turf profession as being pure and similar to the imported, and would use no other—For purity and quality they are unequalled and invaluable to horsemen.

Signed, HARRY HARTMAN, Late manager Budd Doble's Turf Stock.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 6, 1879.

P. Warren, Esq.—Sir: The English Condition Powders are conceded by all my patrons to be the purest, cheapest and best on the market; and have worked wonders where used. I sell five times as many of them as all others combined.

Resp'y, &c., THOS. J. STACK, Feed & Grain dealer, 112 Linden ave.

MANHOOD;

HOW LOST, How RESTORED.

Just published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine,) of Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy, Fits, induced by Self-indulgence or Sexual extravagance.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cts.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain & effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps.
