Horse Health

Depends Upon the Animal's Ability to Resist Disease

The food given your horse during the winter is difficult to digest because the "Curing" process has robbed it of the digestive elements contained in the natural saps and juices.

This taxes the animal's digestive organs to utmost and makes necessary an increased expenditure of vital energy.

The digestive organs become over-worked, the Vitality lowered, and the blood filled with poisonous wastes resulting from undigested and fermenting food-stuff.

LOWERED VITALITY

lessens your animal's ability to resist disease, and the poisons slowly accumulating in the blood make DISEASE CERTAIN unless proper precautions are taken. An extra cold night, a draft in the stable or exposure to inclement weather, while the horse is in this condition (and 99 horses out of every 100 ARE at this season) and the animal has a "Cold"—which may develop into PNEUMONIA or INFLAMATION OF THE LUNGS and END IN DEATH.

Don't wait until this occurs. Keep the Vital energy of your horse at top notch and insure him against all forms of disease by the regular use of the Scientific Condition powder that makes winter food digestable and nourishing by adding to them the chemical elements contained in their natural saps and juices.

Fairfield's Blood Tonic for Horses Only cuts down feed bills by enabling your horse to secure ALL the nutriment from his food, instead of only a PART of it as he does at present It prevents and cures disease and puts your horse in the Pink of Condition for the Spring work. It's Small Dose makes it exceedingly economical, and it is sold under a written guarantee by dealers named in advertisement on page 1, who also carry WEDDING NOTES.

STAFFORD—KNOTTS

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Kate O. Knotts, in Templeville, Wednesday afternoon, the contracting couple being Miss Katie E. Knotts, of Templeville, and Mr. Roy C. Stafford of Millington. The bride was handsomely attired in a steel traveling suit with hat and gloves to match, and carried a bouquet of bride roses and ferns. Promptly at two-thirty o'clock they entered the parlor, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion with potted plants and a beautiful evergreen arch, to the strains of Mendelssohns wedding march, which was rendered by Miss Susie Harrington, cousin of the groom where they were met by the Rev. E. H. Derrickson, of Church Hill, who united them in holy bonds of matrimony.

They will reside near Millington, where the groom is engaged in farming.

FORD—DILL.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the heme of Mr. and Mrs. James Dill, near Church Hill, Thursday morning, when their daughter, Miss Pearl became the bride of Mr. James Ford, of Kent county. The wedding march was played by Miss Martha Bartlett, of near Centreville. They will reside near Chestertown where the groom is engaged in farming.

EARLE—FEDDEMAN.

Mr. James T. Earle, a member of the Centreville bar, and a son of Mrs. Mollie Earle add the late James T. Earle, and Miss Ellen Douglas Feddeman, daughter of Mrs. Mary Feddeman, were quietly married in the presence of only the immediate families of the contracting parties, at the home of the bride's mother, on Commerce street, Centreville, Wednesday morning, Rev. Walter B. Stelh, of St. Paul Church, performing the ceremony.

WHITELY—BRYAN.

Mr. Frank Y. Whitely, son of ex-Sheriff and Mrs. George A. Whitely, and Miss Frances Eaelyn Bryan, daughter of Mrs. Sidney Bryan, both of Centreville, were quietly married Wednesday evening. The bride was attired in a blue broadcloth suit, with hat to match. The announcement of the marriage came as a surprise to their many friends, Mr. and Mrs. Whitley are now at the home of the groom, near Starkey's Corner, where he is engaged in farming.

A Farmers' Statement.

Messrs. Editors:

I noticed in your paper that the retailers blame the farmer for the high price of living. I agree with them in some things in regard to the high price of grain making cattle and hogs higher. I will add shortage of crops. I live on a 350-acre farm, and shipped 250 bushels of corn off 60 acres of good land, from which usually 3,000 bushels would be a good crop. It cost just as much to raise 250 bushels as would 3,000 bushels. Do not think that would buy many automobiles. Do you?

I live in as fertile a county as you will find in the State and do not know of a single farmer who has an automobile. As to making the farmers raise more grain on an acre, I should think any sensible man would raise as many bushels as possibly could.

I sold my lambs for $4.50 a head delivered at the steamboat, to be shipped to Baltimore. They wrighed on an average 80 pound, and that is 5½ cents a pound. The consumer had to pay for that same meat not less than 16 to 20 cents a pound, but the farmer gets it all. Other meats are in the same proportion. As for making the farmer rise earlier and work later, they must want him to work 24 hours out of 24 hours, for we get up before sunrise; in summer we arise at 3.30 a. m. and have our supper about 8 o'clock—that is about 16½ hours' work. Is not that enough hours? I believe that is twice as many hours as city friends work. I am not trying to shield the farmer. We are willing to bear our burdens, but do not intend to bear the faults of others. I think when you sift it all out you will find that a few men control the market, not only wholesale, but retail. When a farmer sells he has to ask, what will you give me? When he goes to buy in the Monumental City he has to give what they ask for things. When the farmer sends his grain to the Corn and Flour Exchange to be sold he is not allowed even to see it sold, and he cannot buy there, except through a member. Through divine help the farmer feeds them all, both great and small. Those that are without sin cast the first stone at the farmer. How many are throwing?

Rock Hall, Md. WILD ROSE.

A Farmer's Wife's Views.

Messrs. Editors:

Permit me to say a few words in defense of the farmer and the high price of meats, poultry and eggs. I am a farmer's wife and know what it costs to raise meat on the farm. In the first place, labor on the farm is high and scarce, and all kinds of farm work is hard. We have to work early and late, and the cost of raising a crop of corn is very expensive. We have to stand the loss, by hailstorms, floods and droughs, and very often the labor is all lost. Unless we do realize good prices for our products we cannot afford to raise them. These people who are getting up all this excitement about the high prices do not want to see the farmer prosper. They do not know what it costs to raise a hen to lay the golden egg, to say nothing of the labor of it. It is worth about $4 to raise a turkey. Now, I believe in living and let live, and say: Let the high prices go on now and forever, and let the poor farmer get some return for the sweat of his brow.

A FARMER'S WIFE.

Science has made it possible to increase egg production in Winter by adding to the hen's ration the materials contained in her Summer diet. Fairfield's Egg Producer contains these elements, combined with elements that perfect digestion and purify the blood Sold under written guarantee by dealers named in adv. on page 1.

Attention Sick Women

If you had positive proof that a certain remedy for female ills had made many remarkable cures, would you not feel like trying it?

If during the last thirty years we have not succeeded in convincing every fair-minded woman that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands and thousands of women of the ills peculiar to their sex, then we long for an opportunity to do so by direct correspondence. Meanwhile read the following letters which we guarantee to be genuine and truthful.

Hudson, Ohio.—"I suffered for a long time from a weakness, inflammation, dreadful pains each month and suppression. I had been doctoring and receiving only temporary relief, when a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and wrote to you for advice. I have faithfully followed your directions and now, after taking only five bottles of the Vegetable Compound, I have every reason to believe I am a well woman. I give you full permission to use my testimonial." —Mrs. Lena Carmocino, Hudson, Ohio. R. F. D. No. 7.

St. Regis Falls, N. Y.—"Two years ago I was so bad that I had to take to my bed every month, and it would last from two to three weeks. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in dry form. I am happy to say that I am cured, thanks to your medicine and good advice. You may use my letter for the good of others." — Mrs. J. H. Breyere, St. Regis Falls, N. Y.

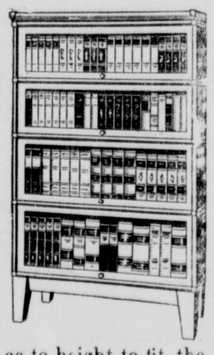
There is absolutely no doubt about the ability of this grand old remedy, made from the roots and herbs of our fields, to cure female diseases. We possess volumes of proof of this fact, enough to convince the most skeptical.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

What To Do With the Holiday Books



Just now this is a leading question in many thousand American homes.

How can all the new books, with their attractive bindings, be displayed to the best advantage, arranged and classified so as to always be accessible.

Now is the most propitious moment of the entire year to settle this question for all time to come by procuring GLOBE-WERNICKE "Elastic" Book Cases which are graded as to height to fit the books of any library, and in lengths to fit most any room.

Made in dull and polish finish, quartered oak and mahogany—with plain, leaded and plate glass doors—controlled by the only patent equalizer that absolutely prevents binding.

Three different styles are described in the catalogue—Standard, Mission and Ideal—each one a distinctive type.

We carry the goods in stock and sell at catalogue prices
