Early Spring Vegetables.

We suppose that not even the most practical epicures enjoy their dainty dishes more than the average human being does his early vegetables; and, considering how comparatively easy it is to have some of these, the wonder is that more is not done to get them. The reason, perhaps, is that few think of it until the spring time comes, when it is too late to do much in the way of getting them. This is the time to begin to think of these things. Many vegetables start into growth with very little heat, and even the protection of a fence will often bring things forward some days before those which have unprotected ground and bleak winds to contend with. We know a garden which has but a low wall about four feet high around it; but even this is a wonderful screen from cold winds. Up under the north wall of the little garden, in the full southern sun, is the rhubarb and the asparagus, and this advantage alone gives them near two weeks' start on their neighbors with these two vegetables. It is not always convenient or even desirable to have a wall like this, but almost any one can have a thick arbor-vitæ hedge which will answer nearly as well.

Besides this, much can be done by hot-bed frames, as they are generally called, though when no manure is used to make an artificial warmth they are by gardeners called cold frames. These placed over crops bring them forward considerably. Beds of asparagus can be made with an especial view to having them covered with sash in this manner, and when the spring comes both radishes and lettuce can be sown on the earth under the glass, and will grow on and do well without much interference from the asparagus growing up between them.

So with strawberries. A few sash set over the plants in a warm and dry situation brings them on wonderfully. Of course when one begins these practices some judgment will be required in the management. As a general rule the sash should be left off in hot days, putting them on only at night to keep off the white frosts and keep the ground warm. This warmth is also aided by putting on the sash early in the evening, so as to enclose a body of warm air before the sun entirely goes down. If the sash is kept on all the time the plants become weak for want of air during the growing day time, and are then more liable to injury by night.

It is on these little matters that some judgment is required, but it soon comes as natural to one with a little experience as swimming does to a young duck. Just as in the case of ducks, too, it is a sort of judgment which no newspaper nor anything but natural tact can teach. Let all who have gardens look around just now and see when it can be done. They will find more chances for these little family enjoyments than many of them ever dreamed of, and no doubt will thank us for the suggestion when they find how their thoughtfulness now is rewarded by the fullness of early spring garden things.

Curious and Interesting Facts.

Sound travels at the rate of 1,141 feet per second in the air, 4,960 in water, 11,000 in cast iron, 17,000 in steel, 18,000 in glass, and from 4,636 to 17,000 in wood.

Mercury freezes at 38 degrees Fahrenheit, and becomes a solid mass, malleable under the hammer.

The greatest height at which the visible clouds ever exist does not exceed ten miles.

Air is about 816 times lighter than water.

The pressure of the atmosphere upon every square foot of the earth amounts to 2,160 pounds. An ordinary sized man, supposing his surface to be 14 square feet, sustains the enormous pressure of 30,240 pounds.

Heat rarifies air to such an extent that it may be made to occupy 500 or 600 times the space it did before.

The violence of the expansion of water when freezing is sufficient to cleave a globe of copper of such thickness as to require a force of 28,900 pounds to produce the same effect.

During the conversion of ice into water, 140 degrees of heat are absorbed.

Water when converted into steam, increases in bulk 1,800 times.

One hundred pounds of the water of the Dead Sea contains 45 pounds of salt.

The mean annual depth of rain that falls at the Equator is 96 inches.

Assuming the temperature of the interior of the earth to increase uniformly as we descend, at the rate of one degree in 46 feet, at the depth of 60 miles it will amount to 480,000 degrees Fahrenheit, a degree of heat sufficient to fuse all known substances.

The explosive force of closely confined gunpower is six and a half tons to the square inch.

Hailstones sometimes fall with a velocity of 113 feet in a second—rain 34 feet in a second.

The greatest artificial cold ever produced is 91 degrees Fahrenheit.

Electricity moves with a greater velocity than light, which traverses 200,000 miles of space in a second of time.

Thunder can be heard at a distance of 30 miles.

Lightning can be seen by reflection at the distance of 200 miles.

J. M. LAROQUE'S Anti-Bilious Bitters are obtaining a world-wide reputation as the most potent remedy of the age. They have been manufactured in Baltimore fifty years, and have gradually and surely won a high reputation, while a number of others have lived and died in a day, comparatively speaking. They will cure the most stubborn case of Dyspepsia, and for Habitual Costiveness and Sick-Headache they are equally effective. For sale by all druggists at 25c. a package, or $1 per bottle. Manufactured by W. E. Thornton, Baltimore, Md.

I CLASPED her tiny hand in mine; I vowed to shield her from the wind, and from the world's cold storms. She set her beauteous eye on me, and with her sweet little lips she said, "An umbrella will do as well."

THE difference between a cat confined in a bag and the wind sighing through a dilapidated house, is, that one cries thro' a sack and the other sighs thro' a crack.

A Remarkable Result.

It makes no difference how many Physicians or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Diseases. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to Throat and Lung Affections, Consumption, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Severe Colds settled on the Breast, Pneumonia, Whooping Cough, &c., who have no personal knowledge of Boschee's German Syrup. To such we would say that 50,000 dozen were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives try just one bottle. Regular size 75c. Sold by C. F. STAM, Chestertown, and F. M. Geoghan, Millington.

Writers of the Bible.

Moses wrote Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy.

Joshua, Phineas or Eleazer wrote the Book of Joshua, but it is not certain which of them.

Samuel is the penman of the Books of Judges and Ruth. He also wrote the first acts of David, and probably Nathan and Gad wrote the last acts, and the whole was formed into two books, which were named after Samuel, as the most eminent person, called the First and Second Books of Samuel.

Jeremiah most probably compiled the two Books of Kings.

Ezra compiled the two Books of the Chronicles. He is also author of the Book bearing his name.

Nehemiah wrote Nehemiah.

The author of the Book of Esther is unknown. This Book does not contain the name of God.

Elihu was most probably the penman of the Book of Job. Moses may have written the first two chapters and the last. Some think Job wrote it himself.

David wrote most of the Book of Psalms, Asaph penned a few of them.

Solomon wrote Proverbs, Ecclesiastics and the songs of Solomon.

Isaiah is the author of the prophecy of Isaiah.

Jeremiah wrote the Book bearing his name and the Lamentations of Jeremiah.

Ezekiel, Daniel, Hosea, Joel, Amos, Obediah, probably Jonah, Micah, Nahum, Habakuk, Zephaniah, Haggai, Zachariah wrote the Books of prophecies bearing their respective names.

Matthew, Mark, Luke and John wrote the gospels named after them.

Luke wrote the Acts of the Apostles.

Paul is the author of the Epistles to the Romans, Corinthians, Galatians, Ephesians, Phillipians, Collosians, Thessalonians, Timothy, Titus, Philemon and Hebrews.

James the son of Alpheus, who was cousin german to Christ, and one of the Apostles, wrote the Epistle of James.

Peter wrote the Epistle bearing his name.

The Apostle John wrote the three Epistles of John.

St. John, the Divine, wrote Revelation.

Jude, the Apostle, the brother of James called Lebbeus, whose surname was Thaddeus, a near relative to our Lord, wrote the Epistle of Jude.

SAD THOUGHTS IN RHYME.

BY HENRY MORGAN.

As I sit on Maryland's Eastern Shore,
Thinking of happy days that are no more,
Smoking my old clay pipe and dreaming
Of happy faces, with eyes bright and beaming,

Again I hear cheerful voices, merrily ringing,
Of a fond wife and daughters cheerily singing;
Oh! happy dream—"too precious to last,"—
I only awake to realize the bitter, bitter past.

I am now drifting on the world's cold wave,
And wife and children lie in the silent grave;
My body full of pain, my heart sad and dreary,
Oh God! I feel homeless, friendless and weary.

Broken down in spirit, and broken in purse,
I realize my degradation, and poverty's curse!
I am living, but my life is not enjoyed,
I write these few lines to keep my mind employed.

Locust Grove.

THE mayor of a village in France was notified to take all necessary precautions to prevent the spread of the cholera, which had appeared in a neighboring department. The zealous officer obeyed his orders so literally that he had a series of graves dug in the village cemetery in sufficient number to accommodate the whole population.

THE OLD BAKERY

UP TOWN.

MRS. D. GRUBER,

At the Old Stand, Up Town, is prepared as heretofore to furnish BREAD,
RUSK,
PIES,
BUNS,
BISCUIT,
&c., &c.,
Fresh from the Bakery, together with
CAKE OF ALL KINDS,

POUND CAKE,	SPONGE CAKE
FRUIT CAKE,	SUGAR CAKE,
JUMBLES,	JELLY CAKE,

LEMON CAKE, &c., all of the best quality and at lowest prices.
Having had large experience in the business, and in my employ a first-class Baker, I am satisfied of my ability to give satisfaction to my customers.
I take this opportunity to return my sincere thanks for the very liberal patronage heretofore bestowed, and pledge myself to renewed efforts to merit a continuance of public favor.
DOROTHEA GRUBER.
Chestertown, Jan. 1, 1878.

OLD AND RELIABLE.

DR. SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR is a Standard Familiy Remedy for Diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.—It is Purely Vegetable.—It never Debilitates—It is Cathartic and Tonic. TRY IT.

SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR

To Have Good Health, the Liver must be kept in order; its unhealthy action causes Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Headache, Bowel Complaints, Sickness, and other Disorders.
The Liver is the seat of malarial diseases. The Liver Invigorator protects the system from Miasmatic Influences. It Purifies the Blood, Regulates the Bowels, Assists Digestion, and Strengthens the System.
The Liver Invigorator has been used in my practice and by the public, for more than 35 years, with unprecedented results.
