ROCK HALL NOTES.

Another success was scored here on last Saturday evening numerically, financially and joyously—The Old Maids Convention.

Still another success is anticipated tomorrow (Sunday) evening when the annual Missionary entertainment will be held in the M. E. Church. Two special programs, afternoon and evening will be rendered.

The Town Council of this place are not in the best of humor. Having telephoned to certain officials at the county methropolis for information concerning the amount of money due this town by the county, the answer "Put your hands in your pocket and pay the bill" was received. Our Council flashed back, "While we are waiting the payment of the $600 due us, do we get any interest?" Again the answer came "You better be glad if you ever get the principal" hence the ill humor.

Many here as well as the good people of Piney Neck lament the passing of Rev. Mr. Frymire. He was a good man and faithful pastor, beloved by all with whom he came in contact.

The familiar toot of the big whistle at Leary's factory is again heard in the land. Another harbinger of the resuscitating season.

We regret to report Messrs. T. J. Rich and C. D. Kelley unimproved but are confined to their homes and can only move about by the aid of crutches.

The rain, fog and winds of the present week has hampered the watermen of this place very much in their efforts to keep ends together.

Conditions on the water made it too risky to venture a trip to Annapolis on Tuesday and to go by steamer to Baltimore and thence to the Ancient City would mean a loss of four days on the trip, consequently our watermen could not send a delegation to present their views on the proposed Amendment to the Oyster Culture Law.

Morise L. Kelley died February 1st, 1910, aged 11 years and 2 months. "Gone but not forgotten. How we miss that loved one who has joined the angels."

GALENA NOTES.

Mrs. L. C. Hayes and her daughter are back in Galena again after spending a month with Mrs. Weer at Kennedyville. Rumor says they are going to open their house again to accommodate the traveling public.

Rev. Mr. Robinson, the new rector of Shrewsbury Parish, held service in St. Andrew's Chapel, Galena, on Sunday morning last. He expects to hold service here again on Sunday, 27th instant, at 3 30 p. m.

F. P. Cochran is still under the doctor's care. Several in and near Galena are suffering with bad colds and grip.

Mr. C. F. Leahman, who carried on barbering here for several years and removed to Baltimore about December 1 last, died last week. Consumption developed and carried him away in a short time.

As the M. E. Conference meeting is drawing close, they are speculating who will likely be the next preacher in charge here. The name of Mr. Fosnocht is spoken of frequently as likely to be sent here. If he does this would be his third appointment to this charge. He was quite popular with his own members and outsiders when he was here last.

We see it published that the stone road will likely be built to Locust Grove this year. If so it will not take it many years to get to Galena. Some seem to think as Galena is an incorporated town the good road will not be made through the town. If so that would cut off nearly a mile from Locust Grove to Georgetown.

Report says the Holiness preachers are coming here in the near future. They draw large crowds wherever they have meetings. They made several converts when they were here last. Those that were converted at their meetings seem to be very zealous in following their teachings.

All the houses in Galena are now occupied and several more could be rented.

The Heptasophs have been unfortunate lately, losing two of their members by death.

Mrs. Devenish has opened a millinery store here and it is thought she will do a good business, as there is no other in that line here.

We suppose the road makers will soon commence to work, and then you can look out for good roads.

The Odd Fellows are putting a lot of extra chairs in their hall to better accommodate any large gathering that may meet there.

Hogs are selling in Chestertown at $9 per hundred alive!

F. M. Soper, the apple king of Delaware, has just bought a farm of 136 acres for $14,000. The home on this farm cost $10,000.

The Easton Star Democrat has been sold to a number of gentlemen of Easton and will after March 1st be published by the Easton Publishing Company. The price paid for the plant was $10,600. The directors for the first year are: W. Mason Shehan, T. Hughlett Henry, B. E. Whitman, William Reddie and John W. D. Jump.

Caroline farmers are contracting with G. T. Redding & Co., for tomatoes at $8 per ton.
