Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

THE LATEST MODES IN NEW YORK CITY

Overskirts in Again—New Tailor Suits—Black Over Color—Easter Hats and Summer Dresses.

The overskirt is in fashion again, not the bunched and fearfully draped garment of some twenty-five or thirty years ago, but an artistic overdress of different lengths and shapes, variously called the "pupium" or "apron front." In handsome frocks of silks or light weight woolens the overskirt is separate and is either of the same materials or of some lighter fabric such as chiffon, Marquisette, lace or etamine, and in plainer dresses, and in many tub gowns the same idea is often carried out by means of trimming.

There is a tendency this season to favor the walking length skirt in dressy gowns as well as in tailor frocks, reserving the long skirt for the most elaborate toilettes.

TAILOR SUITS WITH DUTCH NECKS

As a decided change from the Russian models, a very smart Fifth avenue house is showing some particularly jaunty tailored suits with a square effect at the open neck. That is the fronts close in a square line across the chest and the collar runs only around the back and down each side of the front. To fill up this square opening one of the new jabots of Irish lace is often worn.

A USE FOR OLD CHANTILLY

Supremely lucky is the woman who happens to have any old Chantilly lace laid away, for this season she can use it again and be in the very height of fashion. Old Chantilly flounces are now being employed by the best dressmakers for the tight fitting berthas that trim evening gowns and elaborate day frocks, or a single wide flounce can be used to form a tunic over the skirt.

The above design is by The McCall Company, New York, Designers and Makers of McCall Patterns.

Black over a rather vivid color is very modish indeed. Black chiffon veils the the new "Chantecler" red—named from Rostand's famous French play—and often tones down the vivid blue and green tints now so fashionable.

MALINE TRIMMED HATS

A wide diversity in style characterizes the millinery prepared for Easter and the woman who cannot find something becoming does not know how to choose.

The trimmings are lovely, too, smart upstanding bows, cloudy draperies of maline, artistic wreath effects and big bunches of flowers, graceful willow plumes or jaunty but stiff wings of garnitures of straw. Big full bows of maline are very effective on some of the hats. This is oftenest used in the color of the straw but occasionally a decided contrast is considered chic. A great many white maline bows are seen on black hats. Sometimes the maline will have a border of color; that is a white bow has a deep folded hem of pale blue or a black bow one of the new "Chantecler" red.
