SATURDAY.....DEC. 24, 1881.

A Good Listener.

We know a lady who is the very envy of her sex, because she is popular with young and old men and women. Some one asked her the secret of her popularity. "I am a good listener," she modestly said. This lady has what a Frenchman calls "a great talent for silence," a rare gift, by the way, which implies both wisdom and self-control. She also listens well because she listens with mind, soul and body. An observer would say, "she's all attention."

Her mind is fixed upon what the talker is saying. Her eye never wanders nor stares vacantly, and her attitude is one of respectful interest. She is silent, but not dumb, for her manner speaks so sympathetically that even poor talkers become interesting, when conversing with her. The diffident leave her presence thinking well of themselves, but more highly of the good listener who has coaxed their best out of them.

She is not a passive recipient, for she has made herself an educated woman by listening. "He who speaks, sows—he who listens, reaps," says some thoughtful observer.

The young love to talk and are, therefore, poor listeners. But if they only knew how much of wholesome discipline and education may be gained from listening to conversation, they would try to become good hearers.

One of Henry Clay's gifts was the ability to listen. It made him the idol of society. Even children loved him, he seemed so charmed with their prattle. Daniel Webster impressed men, for he was a good talker. But he was an indifferent listener, and sometimes his friends were oppressed.

But the most oppressive of talkers and the poorest of listeners was the late M. Theirs. His friends used to say that he would listen to them only when he was shaving. A man is not likely to be personally popular whose monologue ceases only when he fears he may gash his throat by talking.

Good breeding, and this is a fact the young should know, leads to good listening. A gentleman or lady is modest, and, therefore, in society is more eager to learn than to teach. A low-bred person views the company as so many beggars upon whom it is charitable to bestow the alms of his small-talk. Sometimes he is so conceited that he plays the part of one who throws pennies into a crowd of ragamuffins, expecting them to scramble for it.

Of course, there are gabblers whose talk will bore the good listener. "But if the sermon should be poor," says pious Simeon, "then God takes the text and preaches patience from it." The gentleman, or the lady, is always equal to the emergency which calls for self-denial.

FAIR PLAY FOR THE HOG.—If our forefathers had studied the hog with any closeness, we would have been spared the sayings of: "Selfish as a hog," "hungry as a pig," and "he eats like a regular hog," etc. To begin with, the hog is not a selfish creature. Two hogs will agree about as well as two men, and a hog who was taken along on a steamboat excursion would have cause to say to his porkers: "You act like men and women." The hog is not a hungry animal. Give him three square meals a day, and he is content, while most men must chew, smoke and nibble between meals and have a lunch at bedtime. To "act like a hog" would be to mind one's business, go to bed early and be satisfied with the situation. The hog is not a liar, hypocrite or dead-beat. He acts on the square, is always as represented, and in disposition he has few equals in the human race. He has been misunderstood and abused, and it is time that his friends rallied to give him fair play.

CURIOUS ORIGIN OF A FIRE.—Mrs. Lancaster, of Mason Valley, Nevada, a short time ago had her entire hay crop destroyed by fire in a rather curious way. A hired man had left his vest, in the pockets of which was a bunch of matches, lying near the stacks. A team was driven past in such a way that the wheels of the wagon passed over the vest and ignited the matches. This was not observed at the time, but presently all the stacks were seen to be in flames.

"THERE, I believe everything is to my mind," said a New Haven housewife as she dusted the last fleck of dust from the bric-a-brac on the mantle. "Then you can think of absolutely nothing to add to the completeness of the household?" inquired her husband. "N-o-o-o. Nothing. Except perhaps a wealthier husband." And they had but just begun housekeeping.

THE following sentence from Robert South will bear more than one reading: "It is most certain that ill tongues would be silent if ill ears were not open, and hence it was an opposite saying of the ancients that the teller and hearer of slander should be hanged, the one by the tongue and the other by the ears."

HE rested his hot brow upon his hand and laughed: "Three months ago she vowed she would never, never marry me, and now she is suing me for breach of promise."

PASTOR: "Meetings through the week at the usual hours." Stranger: "Well, that announcement leaves me in the dark as to the hours and the meetings both!"

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS

OF THE

FIRST ELECTION DISTRICT.

The Tax Books for the First District are now in my hands, and for the convenience of Tax-Payers I may be found in Galena on Tuesdays, Chesterville on Thursdays, and Sassafras on Saturday afternoons; at Masseys in forenoon Saturday; Millington on Wednesdays.

The law compels me to make payments at certain times; and in order to do so I must collect the taxes levied for this district. Persons will save trouble by making early payment.

sep17-tf. J. F. WHITTINGTON.

Notice to Tax-Payers

OF THE

FIFTH DISTRICT.

FOR the accommodation of tax-payers of the Fifth Election District, I shall be in Chestertown every Tuesday and receipt for taxes due. At other times I shall be at my store, Edesville, and hope those interested will give the matter prompt attention. The sooner you pay the better it is for you, as you assure yourself against forced payment at an inconvenient time and relieve yourself of any concern attending such indebtedness, as at the best they must be paid within a short period. The law compels me to collect and settle claims upon me by a given period, and in order to do so I must collect all the taxes levied in my district. Respectfully, aug27-tf. B. B. ADKINSON.

TO TAX-PAYERS

—OF—

SECOND DISTRICT.

FOR the convenience of tax-payers of the Second Election District, I will be at STILL POND the 1st and 3d Saturday of each month; LOCUST GROVE, the 2d Saturday of each month; CHESTERVILLE, the 4th Saturday of each month; and at all other times in Kennedyville.

Every intelligent tax-payer fully understands the advantages of prompt settlement. The collector has no option in the matter, but is required by law to collect and pay over the amount of the whole tax levied for his district within a very limited period. Tax-payers are, therefore, most respectfully urged to pay their taxes at an early day. By so doing they will greatly oblige.

MEN'S, YOUTHS', BOYS' and CHILDREN'S CLOTHING

Far greater than was ever offered to the people of Kent or Queen Anne's before. We know that to keep the people from going to the city great inducements must be offered, and we are the only house on the shore prepared to offer them.

Our goods are all new and of the very latest styles. We buy our goods for the cash, therefore can afford to sell them than those who buy on long credit, or sell goods on commission. WE SELL FOR THE CASH ONLY, and that enables us to sell for much less profit than those who sell on credit, for the merchant who sells on credit must have three profits—one profit for bad debts, one to pay the interest on the extra capital it takes the business, and one to support the merchant and pay store expenses.

Twenty Per Cent. Less

The STAR CLOTHING HOUSE buys and sells for Cash Only!

Don't be Deceived!

RESIDENTS of THIS COUNTY:

The Season is Backward, and we have still an immense stock, one of the best and most attractive we have ever shown you, all of which we will sell at positively TWENTY PER CENT. LESS than expensive stores will ask you.

OUR STOCK MUST MOVE FASTER, the GREAT REDUCTION at which we are offering it will make business boom. Reader, take advantage of it. Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING costiveness, jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms; Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure.—They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of everybody, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.
