SATURDAY MORNING..... .....JUNE 2, 1883.

TRUTH.

A Beatiful Illustration of its Power.

The following beautiful illustration of the power of truth, is from the pen of S. H. Hammond, formerly editor of the Albany State Register. He was an eye-witness of the scene in one of the higher courts of New York:

A little girl, nine years of age, was offered as a witness against a prisoner, who was on trial for a felony committed in her father's house.

"Now, Emily," said the counsel for the prisoner, upon her being offered as a witness, "I desire to know if you understand the nature of an oath?"

"I don't know what you mean," was the simple answer.

"There, your honor," said the counsel addressing the court, "is anything further necessary to demonstrate the validity of my objection? This witness should be rejected. She does not comprehend the nature of an oath."

"Let us see," said the judge. "Come here, my daughter."

Assured by the kind tone and manner of the judge, the child stepped toward him, and looked confidingly up into his face with a calm, clear eye, and with a manner so artless and frank that it went straight to the heart.

"Did you ever take an oath?" inquired the judge. The little girl stepped back with a look of horror, and the red blood mantled in a blush all over her face as she answered:

"No, sir."

She thought that he intended to inquire if she ever blasphemed.

"I do not mean that," said the judge, who saw her mistake; "I mean, were you ever a witness before?"

"No, I was never in court before," was the answer.

He handed her the Bible, open.

"Do you know that book, my daughter?"

She looked at it and answered:

"Yes, sir; it is the Bible."

"Do you ever read it?" he asked.

"Yes, sir; every evening."

"Can you tell me what the Bible is?" inquired the judge.

"It is the word of the great God," she answered.

"Well, place your hand upon this Bible, and listen to what I say"; and he repeated slowly and solemnly the oath usually administered to witnesses.

"Now," said the judge, "you have sworn as a witness, will you tell me what will befall you if you do not tell the truth?"

"I shall be shut up in State prison," answered the child.

"Anything else?" asked the judge.

"I shall never go to heaven," she replied.

"How do you know this?" asked the judge again.

The child took the Bible and turning rapidly to the chapter containing the commandments, pointed to the injuction, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." "I learned that before I could read."

"Has any one talked with you about your being a witness against this man?" inquired the judge.

"Yes, sir," she replied. "My mother heard they wanted me to be a witness, and last night she called me to her room and asked me to tell her the ten commandments, and then we knelt down together, and she prayed that I might understand how wicked it was to bear false witness against my neighbor, and that God would help me, a little child, to tell the truth as it was before Him. And when I came up here with father, she kissed me, and told me to remember the ninth commandment and that God would hear every word that I said."

"Do you believe this?" asked the judge, while a tear glistened in his eye and his lip quivered with emotion.

"Yes, sir," said the child, with a voice and manner that showed her conviction of the truth was perfect.

"God bless you, my child," said the judge; "you have a good mother. This witness is competent," he continued. "Were I on trial for my life and innocent of the charges against me, I would pray to God for such witnesses as this. Let her be examined."

She told her story with the simplicity of a child, as she was, but there was a directness about it that carried conviction of its truth to every heart. She was rigidly cross-examined. The counsel plied her with indefinite and ingenious questioning, but she varied from her first statement in nothing. The truth as spoken by that little child was sublime. Falsehood and perjury had preceded her. The prisoner had entrenched himself in lies. Witnesses had falsified facts in his favor, and villainy had manufactured for him a sham defense. But before her testimony it was scattered like chaff. The little child, for whom the mother had prayed for strength to be given to speak the truth as it was before God, broke the cunning devices of matured villainy like a potter's vessel. The strength that her mother prayed for was given, and the sublime and terrible simplicity—terrible to the prisoner and his associate—with which she spoke, was like a revelation from God himself.

TREATING.

A party of three gentlemen who were in a hotel in this village a few days before election, were invited to "take something" by one of their number. After they had taken it and chatted a few minutes, another of the party solemnly suggested that it would be well to "take something."

They then started out, and in a few minutes, as they were passing a dry goods store, another of the party stopped them and said:

"Let's go in and "take something?"

"Why that's a dry goods store," said one of the party.

"Well, what of it? Come in."

In they marched, and arranged themselves before the counter. The gentleman who had invited them, propounded the question, "What will you take?"

One of the party took a box of collars, another took a clean shirt. When the bill had been settled and they had walked out, they looked at each other rather sheepishly and began to see for the first time the foolishness of the "treating" business.

"You say your wife gets mad and raises a row?" "I should say she did. She makes fuss enough to run a freight train forty miles an hour." "But if you knew she was in the habit of getting mad, why did you marry her?" "Because, if I had held back she would have got madder than ever."

A LITTLE girl and a little boy were discussing the meaning of the word amateur—"Why, don't you know what an amateur is?" said the boy to the girl. "He is a person who never acted before and don't know how."

SAVE THE EXPENSE OF BUILDING A BRICK CHIMNEY

Our Fire Clay Chimney Pipe does not rust nor crack by heat nor crumble from frost. It has been used ten years for dwellings, schools, churches, &c. No danger from fire, as it does not communicate heat to wood. Insurance companies have decided it to be a safer chimney than brick. Any one can put it up. A complete chimney costs from $5 to $10, according to height of building. This is no experiment. Thousands are now in use all through the South. Bases supplied for use with fire places. ☞ Send for descriptive circular with full information.

QUINTESSENCE OF

Phosphated Iron, Quinine & Strychnia

Put up in Pills and in Liquid Form,

And is a sure cure for DEBILITY resulting from any cause, thinness or sluggishness of the blood, derangement of the Digestive Organs, Diseases of the Nervous System, Typhus, Typhoid and Intermittent Fevers, Ague and Fever, and is the very best counteracter of malarial influences and cure for malarial diseases, and as a nervine and sedative, quieting the nervous system, and inducing Refreshing Sleep, it has no equal. It is endorsed by medical practitioners here and is frequently prescribed by them in their practice, and is considered one of the very best remedial agents known for the diseases for which we recommend it. We challenge the closest scrutiny into its composition and virtues. Read the following:

EXPLANATION OF THE ABOVE MEDICINE.

PHOSPHORUS—Means light, and medically imparts strength and vigor to the system, as the rays of the sun do to animal and vegetable life.

IRON—Is a purifier and enricher of the blood, the most important of the constituents of the human body.

QUININE—Is the Tonic of Tonics, and exercises a powerful and healthful influence upon the digestive organs, and finally STRYCHNIA—In very small proportions (as in this combination) is a most excellent nervine, acting upon and regulating the entire nervous system. Ask your physician about the above formula, and he will say it is good.

Price in large bottles $1; Trial bottles 35c.

Pills in boxes $1 per box, or six boxes for $5. Sent by mail to any point, free of charge, upon receipt of price. Prepared and sold by

DAVIS & MILLER,
No. 12 N. Howard St., Baltimore.

A pamphlet of full explanations of the above medicine, and treating of its composition and administration, and stating the diseases to which it is applicable, will be cheerfully given to any one who may call on me, it will be sent free to any address furnished by postal card, and will also hereafter accompany each bottle. o21y.

Stations marked thus (*) have no agents

Freight for Delaney and Bingham's must be prepaid.

The morning trains make connection at Clayton with the Delaware Railroad going North and South.

Passengers on morning train to and from Baltimore change cars at Wilmington or Delaware Junction.

Freight carried at low rates to all points and must be at Stations 30 minutes before starting time, in order to insure dispatch.

☞ Trains run on Phila. time, which is 5 minutes faster than Balt. time.
