Local Notes

HAVE you got your pipes thawed out?

A SIX-YEAR-OLD-BOY of Chestertown, when asked who was the Governor of Maryland, replied, "Mr. Hoover." He evidently had been Hooverized.

ROMIE SCOONE, upon returning from Newport News last week, tells interesting events occurring there: He cites the case of a sixeen-year-old girl so eager for employment that she successfully masked as a boy and earned $3 00 a day as water carrier. Her secret was made known when she was knocked down by a large truck and asked to be carried to the woman's section of the hospital. Up to this time, even her pal did not know of her identity.

OWING to ice condition in the bay, the Norfolk Express to Philadelphia and New York, by way of Cape Charles has been withdrawn. This condition happens but seldom.

THE sweet land of liberty has produced Liberty Bell, Liberty Bonds, and Liberty Buttons, but it has remained for the women of the land to start Liberty Bread, which adds another B.

PETE SMITH, colored chauffer, who was running the car Saturday night which ran into a team then turned turtle, near the Clayton Wright farm, injuring Messrs. Fred. G. Usilton and R. H. Collins, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving, tried before Magistrate Coursey upon charges made by Centreville officers. J. E. Cahill, owner, of the car, was arrested for hiring the car without a proper license to hire, tried before Magistrate Coursey, found guilty and fined $25 and costs.

ONE of Chestertown's prominent citizens saw the fuel storm coming and supplied himself with 50 tons last summer. He will doubtless be among the first to share it with his neighbors when the "pinch" comes.

IT is reported that W. Irving Walker of near Chestertown, has inherited $150,000 by the death of a brother in California. We hope it is true.

THE guns at the testing grounds in Harford county can be heard very distinctly all over Kent. It is said they are testing only the six-inch ones; when they get to work on the fourteen-inch guns there will surely be some rattle in this section.

FISHERMEN at Rock Hall, previous to this cold epell, enjoyed a rich harvest. Mr. Hubbard made $400 in one catch, while two other parties cleaned up $1,200 in a week. Others did well.

CRISFIELD oystermen have been taking oysters from the Choptank river thru the ice. Two years ago this was forbidden by the Conservation Commission, but when the attention of State's Attorney Marine was called to the fact today that oysters were being taken thru the ice he said that those persons who are suffering for the necessaries of life will not be prosecuted for taking oysters in this manner. Many of the oystermen have been very hard hit by the poor oyster season thus far.

A NUMBER of automobile smash-ups have occured on the stone road between Galena and Chestertown during the past few days caused by the slippery condition of roads. Some autos have gotten nearly to the top of a hill and then would slip clear back to the bottom. Fortunately no persons have bee seriously hurt.

THE Kennedyville Garage, J. H. Clendaniel proprietor, has been purchased by Wm. W. Clendaniel. J. H. Clendaniel, Jr., has enlisted in the U. S. service. This is an up-to- date garage and W. W. Clendaniel will exert every effort to maintain the reputation of the Kennedyville Garage.

MANY of the boarders at the Eastern Shore Inn have found elegant accommodations at the home of Mrs. George B. Westcott, on Water street.

FROZEN from shore to shore the upper Chesapeake Bay looked like a wide desert. Not an open place can be seen from Betterton and the ice is said to be ten inches thick.

MARRIAGE licenses have been issued by Clerk Rasin to Emory V. Hogans and Helen A. Hammacker; George F. Lambert and Mary E. Woodall; John W. Biggers and Mary E. Willis.

THE Chestertown Choral Club will meet Tuesday evening a High School for final rehearsal of "Elijah," which will be given on Wednesday, Feb. 13th.

WHEN we read of such cases as herein noted there is no surprise at the scarcity of sugar and coal nor any other necessity. A telegram from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., says, "Zealous and persistent efforts by W. O. Washburn, food administrator for Luzerne county, in discovery that the grocers supply company of this city, had hoarded 267,000 pounds of sugar in freight cars on sidings near their warehouses, resulted today in the distribution of 207,000 pounds to retailers, hotel keepers, bakers and large consumers who could prove their needs. Wagons, automobiles and all manner of conveyances passed in an endless stream by the warehouse today and until late tonight carrying away the sugar that had been confiscated and sold by the food adiministrator. From the 60,000 pounds of sugar remaining in storage the food administrator will continue to supply orders from retailers unable to obtain their orders today."

ON New Year's eve Miss Dorothy Woodall entertained the E. A. B. of E. of which she is a member and a few non-member guests at a very enjoyable party at her home on High street. The evening was spent in playing games. At 9.30 o'clock refreshments were served in abundance. Those present were Misses Emily Lusby, Lillian Sachs, Dorothy Ward, Mary and Helen Simpers, Roselmer McKee, Harry and Emerson Russell, Ballard Ward, Albert Newton and Evelyn and Billy Peacock, of Massey.

GRANGE NOTES

Some one said—(and I won't say who),
That Still Pond Grange was dead!
"How sad," thought I, "it can't be true,
'Tis Camonflage," I said.

Those who attend are the ones who KNOW
The ones who stay home, just talk,
Get both gangs together and all-will go,
For a spread, I know none will balk.

So today you see is Home-Coming Day!
And Still Pond extends to all
Whose names were ever upon the books,
An invitation to call.

And if you find it really is dead,
Prepare to attend "a wake,"
And when you leave, you'll know for sure,
As a corpse—she takes the CAKE!

Services will be held Saturday, Jan. 12, at 3.30, Mrs. H. B. Moore in charge. Kindly omit flowers (but bring sandwitches).

SHORE LEGISLATOR GETS CITIES MIXED

It apnears to be a bad practice to send men to the Legislature from the Eastern Shore—that is, new men—without supplying them with a map. Justification for this statement is found in the fact that last Tuesday night, when the party caucuses were to held at Annapolis, one Eastern Shore member got lost and did not get there until his party caucus was nearly over.

The aforesaid member was at the Hotel Rennert in the afternoon and being from a dry section was made to feel that the latchstring was out on New Year's Day. When he parted from his preceptor he was told:

"I'll see you at the capital."

So it appears that this innocent Eastern Shoreman had heard only of one capital or capitol and that is the big marble building where they inaugurate Presidents in Washington. So this new member bought a railroad ticket for Washington and hied himself forthwith to the big marole building. There he told a watchman that he had come over to help organize the Maryland Legislature.

The watchman caught on at once and told the Eastern Shoreman that he had come to the wrong capital—that Annapolis was the place where the Marylanders meet and organize. He was advised to take a return train to the junction, transfer and get to Annapolis as quickly as possible. He did so and got in just in time.—Baltimore News.

We are sure this man was not from Kent county.

Socials at Betterton.

The young folks of Betterton were delightfully entertained at a party at the home of Misses Mabel and Martha Rasin Saturday evening, Jan. 5, 1918. Many interesting games were played until a late hour, when refreshments were served. Among those present were: Misses Elsie Owens, Ethel Wilmer, Louise Crew, Lillie Smith, Madge Wilmer, Lena Link, Marie and Jessie Willis and Florence Rasin; Messrs. Edwin and Allie Myers, William Owens, Clarence Boone, Lotan Rasin, Claude Wilmer, Harry Meeks and Merritt Sutton.

Miss Elsie Owens has returned to Philadelphia, where she has lived for the past year, after spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Owens, of Betterton. She delightfully entertained a party of friends at her home on the evening of Jan. 1, 1918. Those present were: Misses Lillie Smith, Ethel Wilmer, Marie and Jessie Willis, Lillian and Florence Owens, Mabel and Martha Rasin; Messrs. Merrit Sutton, Norman Brice, Clarence Boone, William Owens, Harold Crew, Edwin Myers and Leroy Owens. Games were played and refreshments served. At a late hour in the evening the guests withdrew with many wishes for a happy new year to all.

THE Still Pond Farmer's Club met at S. G. Roseberry's Jan. 3. Labor-saving machines and labor-saving schemes were discussed. It was agreed that farmers will have to depend more on labor-savings chemes than on labor-saving machines that are not already in common use. The tractor was looked on with some favor, but the cost puts it out of the reach of most farmers and it is not considered an entire success like the reaper, drill or corn planter. One man with a $50 corn planter can plant more corn in a day than ten men can without it. It is believed that necessity will cause the development of some new labor-saving machines for practical farm use. The conclusion was reached that the farmer and his family including the women and children must do more farm work. It was recommended that more wheat, rye, oats and such crops that do not require much labor be grown and less corn, tomatoes and other crops that require a great deal of labor. A resolution was passed recommending that the farmers do not grow tomatoes for the open market, but contract in advance for all that are grown. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. B. Pennington Jan. 31st.
