LATEST FROM THE POST OFFICE

From 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. of every day in the Post Office, we have the following important events:

- The mail is received from all parts of the country.
- The mail is sorted and prepared for delivery.
- The mail is delivered to customers.

For more information, please visit the Post Office website.

THE PATH OF WAR

Hamilton, June 20th, 1918

The war continues to rage on, with no signs of slowing down. The enemy has launched a new offensive in the northern sector, but our forces are holding strong.

CAPTAIN SMITH

Adjutant General, 3rd Division

The enemy has launched a new offensive in the northern sector, but our forces are holding strong. The situation is critical, and we must be prepared for further attacks.

SUGAR

Sugar prices have increased significantly in the last few weeks. The government has imposed strict rationing to control the supply.

GENERAL POST OFFICE

August 20th, 1918

The situation remains critical, and the post office is working around the clock to ensure that all mail is delivered in a timely manner.

EDUCATION

The new education law has been implemented, and schools are now required to provide more resources for students.

REGIMENTAL ORDER

The President of the U.S. has authorized a new regiment to be formed, and we have started recruiting volunteers.

SUGAR

Sugar prices have increased significantly in the last few weeks. The government has imposed strict rationing to control the supply.

THE PATH OF WAR

Hamilton, June 20th, 1918

The war continues to rage on, with no signs of slowing down. The enemy has launched a new offensive in the northern sector, but our forces are holding strong.

CAPTAIN SMITH

Adjutant General, 3rd Division

The enemy has launched a new offensive in the northern sector, but our forces are holding strong. The situation is critical, and we must be prepared for further attacks.

SUGAR

Sugar prices have increased significantly in the last few weeks. The government has imposed strict rationing to control the supply.

GENERAL POST OFFICE

August 20th, 1918

The situation remains critical, and the post office is working around the clock to ensure that all mail is delivered in a timely manner.

EDUCATION

The new education law has been implemented, and schools are now required to provide more resources for students.

REGIMENTAL ORDER

The President of the U.S. has authorized a new regiment to be formed, and we have started recruiting volunteers.