MORALS, RELIGION and COMMON SENSE

In Selected Poetry

NO SUBSTITUTE

We have substitutes for butter,
We have substitutes for lard;
To invent some cheaper fuel
We have long been trying hard.

We have substitutes for coffee,
And substitutes for eggs,
And a substitute the auto is
For poor old Dobbin's legs.

There is imitation leather
On our couches and our chairs;
Imitation drug store blushes
On her cheeks the flapper wears.

There's the artificial fir tree
And the artificial wreath;
There are wigs when scant the tresses,
There are imitation teeth.

But with all our cute contrivings,
Our near-wool and silkateen;
For the stuff success is made of
There's no substitute, I ween.

Does your talent run to sonnets,
Or to carpentry—don't shirk;
There's no substitute discovered
To replace good old HARD WORK.

By Air To Pole

What "Kilowatt Hour" Means

Butter is sold by the pound. Eggs are sold by the dozen. Gingham is sold by the yard. Electricity is sold by the kilowatt hour, which is just a term of measurement.

For example—If a 25-watt lamp in a lighting fixture burns 40 hours during the month, your electric meter will register 25 times 40, or 1,000 watt hours—which is 1 kilowatt hour. If you use a 500-watt electric iron for two hours, the meter will register 500 times 2, or 1,000 watt hours, which is 1 kilowatt hour.

Multiply the number of kilowatt hours registered by the rate per kilowatt hour and you have the amount of your electric light bill.

LEARN TO READ YOUR METER. It will remove much of the mystery and enable you to know in advance just what your bill will be. Our meter reader will gladly explain the process. Ask him.
