FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR for children; safe, sure. No opiates

A Simple Mixture Highly Recommended for Dyspepsia.

The principal and general causes of dyspepsia and a whole train of distressing complaints resulting therefrom are produced from the present fashionable habits of luxury and intemperance. The disease might be well regarded as one of the most distressing, with which we may be afflicted. If taken in consideration and properly treated dyspepsia is as cureable a disease as any there is. The following simple prescription should be taken after each meal: Kastor Compound, 1 oz.; Fluid Extract Cascar Aromatic, 1 oz; Tr. Cinchona Compound, 2½ ozs. Your local druggist can supply you with these ingredients at a small cost.

Kidney complaint kills more people than any other disease. This is due to the disease being so insidious that it gets a good hold on the system before it is recognized. Foley's Kidney Cure will prevent the development of fatal disease if taken in time.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup is best for women and children. Its mild action and pleasant taste makes it preferable to violent purgatives, such as pills, tablets, etc. Get the booklet and a sample of Orino at all druggists.

WIT AND HUMOR
OF JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS

The Democratic leader of the house is one of the best story tellers at the national capital. He also has a rich vein of humor, but is rather sparing of its use in his speeches. One of the most famous examples of his irony was a satirical tribute to Admiral Crowinshield during the Sampson-Schley inquiry. This delicious take-off was done in verse—Williams occasionally drops into poetry—and wound up by declaring that—

Great Crowninshields the bravest tar
That always staid ashore.

At the time Mr. Williams was mentioned as a presidential candidate he had considerable dry fun with the reporters over the matter. To one newspaper man he said: My boom is making tremendous strides. My private secretary is unreservedly for me, and I have hopes of securing the support of Charley Edwards, the clerk of the minority room."

To a somewhat young and callow reporter John Sharp, with exceeding gravity, said he had quite some hopes of getting the nomination. Reports from Mississippi were especially encouraging.

"Toomsuba, Ofanoma, Noxopater, Nanachehaw, Toccopla, Tabbville and Grubbs Springs, I am told," he said, are already for me, while I have every reason to believe that I shall have the undivided support of such places as Nittayuma, Wahalak, Bolatusha, Hushpukena, Ittabena, Pelahatchie, Mittayuma, Skutch, Cinqupin, Pawtickfaw, Octoc, Leggo, Yellow Rabbit, Chunkey Station, Hambone, Deovolente and Whynot."

Upon being asked to spell the names he did so with great gravity.

On a later occasion, when the newspaper men asked him concerning his candidacy, he said that Mrs. Williams had objected that with her sick headaches she never could stand the White House, so he would have to give up the presidency.

John Sharp once ran afoul of Tom Reed. This is the way he tells the story himself.

"I met Mr. Reed coming out of the cloak room, and he said to me in that peculiar drawl of his, 'Williams, whatever makes you such a bitter partisan?

"'Well, Mr. Speaker, that's pretty good coming from you, isn't it? I replied.

"'Never mind me,' he replied. 'But why are you such a bitter partisan?'

"'Well, I'll tell you,' I said. 'You know I never saw a Republican until I was thirty-eight years old, and I can't get used to them, somehow'.

"He looked at me reproachfully and walked away without another word."

At a Washington banquet Mr. Williams once proposed this toast:

"Here's to President Roosevelt, whom the world has grossly overestimated as an author and whom the Democratic party grossly underestimated as a politician."

It was Williams who fastened the designation of "kid" congressmen to new members. Mr. Wharton, a boyish looking recruit from Chicago, interrupted and wanted to know what he meant by "kid" congreemen.

"Mr. Speaker," said Mr. Williams, with a wave of his hand toward the member from Chicago, "with that degree of reverence which the personal appearance of my interrogator excites in my mind I should say that he is perhaps the last person in the house who ought to ask the question," whereat Mr. Wharton subsided.

General Grosvenor was designated by Mr. Williams as "the most exuberant and unscrupulous prophet that this part of the world ever saw."

The minority leader once had a Democratic caucus called, and the reporters were wild to find out the reason. Williams was very short with them at first, but finally thawed out and said:

"Boys, I have decided to confide in you. I called that caucus for the purpose of advocating a return to government by consuls, under which system the Roman republic prospered for a thousand years.

Nobody bothered him after that.

John Sharp was once denouncing the committee on rules, popularly known as the house machine.

"The gentleman himself is a member of the committee on rules," put in a member.

"Yes," drawled Williams, "nominally."

The house recognized the thrust with a roar, but the other man persisted.

"You attend the meetings of that committee," he said.

"I am invited to the seances," returned Williams, "but I am never consulted about the spiritualistic appearances."

When Williams first ran for congress his opponent was a famous coon hunter and gained much support by the fact. Williams had never hunted coons, but saw that something had to be done. Buying a bunch of roman candles, he went out with the boys, firing the candles among the branches till he scared the coons out of the tree, made a record hunt and won the election.

ADBERT, 35508.

RECORD 2.26¼.

This stallion will make the season in Kent and Queen Anne's counties this Spring, 1907. His pedigree shows him to be one of the finest bred horses in the East. Last year he worked a mile in 2.22, last half 1.19, last quarter in 32. He shows plenty of speed and good finishing qualities.

Any one wishing to breed for speed, high-class roadsters or general purpose horses will find it to their best interests to use this stallion. He is a beautiful seal brown, 15¾ hands high, weighs about 1000 lbs., well built, sound limbs. His colts are always of fine size, well colored and fine limbed. Many of these which have been handled for speed have showed plenty of it. All are good gaited trotters, none of them have ever paced.

TERMS—$15.00 single mare; $25.00 for two with privilege of returning until a living foal as long as Adbert is owned by me.

Anyone wishing services of this horse can obtain same by writing me.

Schnapps Tobacco is Made ENTIRELY from Flue Cured Tobacco Grown in the Piedmont Country. The Imitation Brands Have Schnapps Quality Only On the Outside Of the Plug

Hundreds of imitation brands are on sale that look like Schnapps tobacco. The outside of the imitation plugs of tobacco is flue cured the same as Schnapps, but the inside is filled with cheap, flimsy, heavily sweetened air cured tobacco. One chew of Schnapps will satisfy tobacco hunger longer than two chews of such tobacco. The color, size and shape of the tags, plugs and packages of certain imitation brands of tobacco have been made so much like Schnapps that they have often been accepted by buyers under the belief that they were getting Schnapps. Sufficient proof has been secured to establish the fact that certain brands are infringements and in violation of the trade mark laws, yet the trade will continue to be imposed upon by these infringers until the suit already entered and now pending to protect Schnapps is decided. A great many of these imitations are claimed to be "just as good" as Schnapps, but there is only one genuine Schnapps. Be sure the letters on the tag, and stamped on the plug under the tag spell S-C-H-N-A-P-P-S and then you have it—the most wholesome tobacco produced, with just enough sweetening to preserve the mild, juicy, stimulating quality of the leaf tobacco. Expert tests prove that this flue cured tobacco, grown in the famous Piedmont region, requires and takes less sweetening than any other and has a wholesome, stimulating, satisfying effect on chewers.

If the tobacco you are chewing don't satisfy you more than the mere habit of expectorating, stop fooling yourself and chew Schnapps tobacco. Schnapps is like the tobacco chewers formerly bought costing from 75c. to $1.00 per pound; Schnapps is sold at 50c. per pound, in 5c. cuts, strictly 10c. and 15c. plugs.
