Just Where You Need It

THE convenience of running water—nothing quite equals it. When you can turn a faucet in any one of a dozen handy places and draw off as many pailfuls as you need; when you have bathroom facilities and all the advantages that running water brings, you will say that here is something you have been needlessly denying yourself.

Western Electric Water Systems

These systems are run by an electric motor. The pump is operated automatically, requiring practically no attention and delivering service day and night. Wherever your water supply is located, a Western Electric water system can be installed. Consider this running water question now and have this system explained to you and demonstrated. Then you will know just what is best and most economical for your own place.
