STAR

OR,

EASTERN SHORE GENERAL ADVERTISER

EASTON: TUESDAY MORNING
JANUARY 13, 1807.

Official accounts of the retaking of Buenos Ayres by the Spaniards, have been received at New York, which agree with our former account of the engagement.

The senate of South Carolina have rejected the bill passed by the house of delegates prohibiting the importation of slaves.

WILLIAM HAYWARD and WILLIAM KILTY, Esqrs. have been elected by a joint ballot of both houses, Directors on the part of the state, in the Farmers' Bank of Maryland.

Doctor Mitchell, a member from Cæcil county, moved in general assembly of this state, the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Delegates and the President of the Senate, transmit the following address to the President of the United States.

To THOMAS JEFFERSON, ESQ. President of the United States.

It being congenial with republican principles to consider the devotion to public service as originating from nobler motives than those which are excited from the expectation of pecuniary rewards, under this impression, we think that the approbation of a grateful people, the greatest reward a nation can bestow on her deserving executive.

The Legislature of Maryland cordially approbating your administration, eminently distinguished for your wisdom, moderation, firmness and equity, would not act agreeable to the will of the people and to their own sensations, if they were to neglect at this critical moment to assure you of an unabated confidence in your wisdom and virtue. The policy which has characterised your administration has augmented the happiness and prosperity of this fortunate country. The American character has been more eminently exalted abroad, and the happiness of the people, the design of government, increased and promoted at home.

In vain have the machinations of despotism been levelled at the principles of our government, your vigilence and wisdom have always been directed towards the protection of those principles which completely secure to us life, liberty and prosperity.

When we take a retrospective view of the transatlantic convulsions, and at present behold all Europe ingulphed in the misery of war and despotism, we are obliged to approve of those measures, which have averted from us those horrors and calamities.—We cordially hope the same wisdom which has guided and protected us thus far, may be able to annihilate the demon of conspiracy, the offspring of desperate and abandoned men, who, backed by foreign aid, expect to benefit and aggrandize themselves from the destruction of that constitution which has exalted us to our now elevated station, our great confidence in your wisdom, and the wisdom of Congress, warrants our anticipation of a complete frustration of their treasonable designs.

Wishing to live in peace and friendship with all the world, we sincerely hope our negociations with foreign governments will be honorably and amicably adjusted, if the reverse, a firm, energetic and dignified alternative will meet our support.

But, Sir, whilst we bear testimony of our approbation of your administration, permit us to solicit you again to take the helm of government.

We know that retiring with the blessings of a great nation is desirable, & that your republican principles induce you to wish a rotation in office; but we hope that that Amor Patriæ which is so natural to you, will permit your name to be placed amongst the candidates for the next President of the United States.

That you may long live to enjoy the confidence and attachment of the American people, is the wish of the Legislature of Maryland.

The western papers contain a full statement of the evidence, exhibited before the committee of the legislature at Frankfort, appointed to enquire into the conduct of Judge Sebastain. The depositions and documents seem to establish the fact incontestibly, that the Judge has been a pensioner of Spain.

Colonel George Muter, President of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, has resigned his seat is that court; and strong hopes are entertained, that Judge Wallace, one of the members of the same court, in consequence of the almost universal disapprobation of the people, will also resign.

Copy of a letter from Captain Hugh G. Campbell addressed to Patrick Simms esq. dated United States ship Constitution, Lisbon harbor, October 15 1806.

"The painful task devolves on me to make you acquainted with the untimely dissolution of your son, and my friend Dr. Patrick Simms who departed this life on the evening of the 1st inst. about half past 5 o'clock. It may be some consolation to an afflicted Parent when informed that he not only died respected and beloved by his brother officers, but that during his confinement he received every aid and nourishment, that situation and circumstances could possibly afford—his body was decently interred in Church Corpo Santo, with all the rites & ceremonies due to his pursuasion and belief.

Extract of a letter from the city of Washington, dated, Dec. 27.

"Letters from New Orleans arrived last evening, dated the 29th and 30th of November. General Wilkinson arrived there the 24th. Col. Cushing with the troops, was descending the Red River on his way to New Orleans. All was bustle there, to prepare a defence of the place against a meditated attack on the land side by col. Burr, and from the sea by a naval force destined to co-perate with him.

"The letters from Orleans are, one from gen. Wilkinson, the other from capt. Shaw who commands the naval force at that place." N. Y. Gazette.

Extract of a letter to a gentleman in New York, dated,

"WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 27. 1806.

"A dispatch, via Charleston, was received last evening by the secretary of the navy from capt. Shaw, dated New-Orleans 29th of November, advising that general Wilkinson arrived there on the 27th, having broke up with his army from the Sabine and that the army was then in full march for New-Orleans. The general on his arrival, communicated to capt. Shaw sundry letters and other information, from which he knew that a foreign naval force might be hourly expected at the Balize (port of New Orleans) to co-perate with the insurrection expedition of col. Burr, which was also hourly expected to descend the Mississippi and arrive there; that the foreign force would appear under American colours* In consequence thereof the general had immediately impressed 400 seamen, and taken possession of all the shipping now at the Balize, on which he had mounted cannon, and placed artillery on the shores as a further defence; he had also called forth volunteers and militia to join the army, and was making every disposition to receive the invaders, whether from above or below. The foreign nation affording the aid to Burr is not named, but believed to be Spain." Amer. Cit.

* It is said that the Spanish naval force is commanded, or is to be commanded, by a distinguished American seamen!

Extract of a letter from a gentleman of great respectability, dated Frankfort, Ken. Dec. 15.

"Burr left this place about five days ago, and went to Lynch's. He told me he should wait to hear as to Wilkinson's success; if hostilities did commence, he should go down and try and take all he could get to follow him, and that if hostilities did not commence he should go to the southward. I believe there is no doubt but gen. Adair has gone to Louisianna, and it is said has gone to Wilkinson. There is no doubt but men are engaging for the Burr party. I have seen several persons who have conversed with the men engaged viz.——and——. They are engaged for 6 months at least; to have arms if required, and are to descend the river, to get 10 dollars per month, and 100 or 150 acres of land.

QUERE.—Is the above statement, represented to have been made by Mr. Burr, meant by him as a cover to plans even more hostile to the peace of the union?

Chillicothe, Dec. 25.

In consequence of Mr. John Smith, (one of our senators in congress) neglecting to pay that attention to the duties of his office, which the present eventful crisis of national affairs unquestionably demands, our legislature have passed a resolution, requesting him to resign his seat in the senate of the United States.

TRIAL OF DANIEL CASSET.

On the 13th December, this trial came on at Chillicothe, when after a charge delivered by the Judge it was postponed to the succeeding day. It then appeared that there were ten Jurors for finding the indictment, and 12 against, it. After an admonition from the Judge, Mr. C. was discharged.

Baltimore, Jan. 5.

We understand that a party of marines, about 50 in number, embarked yesterday morning from Fort M'Henry, for New Orleans, for the purpose of aiding the intentions of government in that quarter.

Kentucky Legislature.
Wednesday, December 3.

Mr. Grundy moved and laid on the table the following resolution, viz.

In General Assembly.

Whereas it is considered of importance that citizens living under the same government should be correctly informed of the views and intentions of every person in the community; and as the sentiments of the people of Kentucky may be misunderstood by those who, from their remote situation, have not an opportunity of judging of the disposition which the citizens of this state entertain towards the general government; and as an expression of the public will through their representatives is deemed the most effectual mode to prevent any misapprehension of our sentiments, which might be occasioned by the conduct of individuals, or might grow out of misrepresentation—

Resolved, Therefore, by the general assembly, that the people of Kentucky feel the strongest attachment to the federal government and consider the dismemberment of the union as the greatest evil which could befall them, and would view with abhorrence any individual or set of individuals who should attempt to separate us from those whose interests are so intimately connected with our own, and for whom the people of Kentucky entertain an unchangeable attachment arising from a lively recollection of their united efforts for liberty.

Resolved, That the people of Kentucky have entire confidence in the present administration of the general government, and have no doubt that such measures will be pursued as are best calculated to secure us peace and tranquility, and at the same time preserve our national honor from insult.

Resolved, That the governor of this state be requested to transmit copies of the foregoing resolutions to the President of the United States, to the executives of the different states, and to our present senators and representatives in Congress.

On the next day the foregoing was adopted unanimously.

Norfolk, Dec. 29.

Captain Garrow, of the schooner Caroline, in 7 days from Matanzies, in Cuba, informs that about 16 days since, a British force entered the port of Barracoa, and destroyed the place by fire. In consequence of which, the government of Cuba, fearing a similar attempt on Matanzies, had sent 2000 troops from Havanna to that place. The expedition we understand was not accompanied by any troops, but consisting only of officers and seamen of the navy, and marines.

It is indeed curious to hear our politicians exclaim against the monstrous injustice of France towards Prussia and Russia. Two barbarious, bloody minded courts, that have pillaged, robbed, and murdered, every neighbor within their reach for these hundred years back, and that have used every effort to ruin France itself. The day of retribution, divine retribution, has come home to one of them; and if Bonaparte is a scourge, he is a scourge sent by heaven to punish the injuries of ill fated Poland—let her deprecate her own conduct, and beg for only one half the mercy she bestowed. Frederick, without reason or pretence, robbed the empire of the two Silesias—invaded and subdued defenceless Poland—carried off the population of whole territories to fill up his own, and tore near four thousand young girls from the arms of their friends, and drove them like sheep to great distances, to be married to men they never saw, and whose language even they did not understand; and this man was called Frederick the great! The bloody Catharine, with her infernal Suarrow, punished all resistance, all desence of country, all patriotism with death; witness the horrible massacree at Warsaw, Ismael-Oxachow, &c. and if Russia has not waded through all kinds of injustice and murder, to the possession of the Ottoman empire, it is because France has said nay. Let us then as Americans, reserve our pity, not for the great robbers of the world, but for those who have been robbed. For my part I believe that Bonaparte has been expressly commissioned from on high to punish a set of wretches who have violated and disgraced all humanity, mercy and peace. Norfolk Herald.

The Parliament of Great Britain was dissolved on the 24th of October and writs for a new election of members issued, returnable on the 15th of December.

Another destructive fire has taken place at Portsmouth, N. H. Property to the amount of 150,000 dollars has been destroyed.

Kentucky Dec. 15.

The Hon. George Muter, has resigned, as Chief Justice of Kentucky, and the Hon. Thomas Todd, appointed his successor.

Felix Grundy, Esq. is appointed a Judge of the court of Appeals, vice Benjamin Sebastian.
