Ducks And Geese

Flocking Into State Cold weather has materially increased the supply of ducks and geese in Maryland waters, E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden, said recently. The Game Division's patrol boats have reported, he said, that since the advent of more severe weather large flocks of ducks and geese have been winging southward to the Chesapeake Bay area.

These increases were noted particularly at Hollins Straits, Barren Island Bar and at the head of the Honga, all on the Eastern Shore. The additional supplies, said LeCompte, should insure the hunters an unusually successful season this year.

We congratulate our many hundreds of friends on the Eastern Shore, and in Queen Anne's County in particular, on the liberalizing of their wines and spirits regulations, and trust that our choice products will soon be available locally for their regular use.

Since the establishment of our firm in 1830, it has been our belief that America will always provide an ample market for those who unfalteringly supply the best and do so at fair prices. A scrupulous observance of these principles has resulted in our leadership in the quality wine and spirits field.
