Public Sale.

ON TUESDAY, the 18th April, if fair, if not, the next fair day, at the late dwelling of Daniel Meconekin, near Wye-Mill, by order of the orphan's court of Queen-Ann's county, will be sold at public sale, all the personal estate of John and Elizabeth Meconekin, late of said county, deceased, consisting of horses, cattle, farming utensils, and a variety of valuable household and kitchen furniture, with many other things.—Six months credit will be given, the purchaser giving bond or note, with approved security. Sale to begin at 11 o'clock, and continue from day to day till all are sold.

PHILIP GREEN, Adm'r de bonis non.

April 11, 1809.

Public Sale.

The Subscriber, in virtue of a decree of the Court of Chancery, will expose to public sale, the following property, (formerly owned by William Hammond, deceased,) to wit:

HAMMOND'S RETREAT RESURVEYED, containing in the whole 1443½ acres of land. This tract is situate on the head of Severn River, in Anne Arundel county, and will be divided into two lots.

Lot No. 1 will contain 974 acres, the improvements thereon are a small frame dwelling house, an overseer's house, a barn and stable, with several other out houses; also a grist and saw mill in tolerable good repair, about one third of the land is cleared, the rest in wood, partly well timbered.

Lot No. 2 will contain 469½ acres, the improvements, a frame dwelling house, a stone kitchen, and several out buildings—about one half of the land is cleared.

Also, two islands at the head of Severn River, containing two acres.

Also, a tract of land called Norwood's Fancy Resurveyed, situate on the Round Bay, on the river Severn, and adjoining the plantation of col. Manadier, and contains 227½ acres, a large proportion of which is meadow land.

Also, a small tract called Bachelor's Neglect, containing 15½ acres, situate on Elk-Ridge, adjoining the land of Mr. Ely Dorsey, of Frederick county.

A more particular description is thought unnecessary, for those inclined to purchase will examine and judge for themselves, and to enable them to do this, plots of the land will be deposited at the tavern of Mr. Ames Gambrill, adjoining Hammond's Retreat Resurveyed. The sale will be made at the dwelling house on lot No. 1, on Monday, the twenty-fourth of April next, if fair, if not, the next fair day, and will commence at 12 o'clock. The terms are one fifth of the purchase money on the day of sale, or ratification thereof by the chancellor—the residue in four equal annual payments, with interest from the day of sale.

And the subscriber will, on the 28th day of April next, at the tavern of Mr. William Glover, expose, in the city of Annapolis, to public sale, on the same terms as above mentioned, the reversionary interest the said William Hammond held in three lots of ground adjoining said city, now under ground rent, one of £. 9, one of £. 7 10, and the other of £. 20. A particular description will be given on the day of sale.

Valuable Land for Sale.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN,

THAT by virtue of a Decree of the High Court of Chancery, the Lands and Premises of HENRY MASON, late of Caroline county, deceased, being a tract of land lying and being in the county aforesaid, called Mason's Hazard. ALSO, the equitable interest of the heirs of JOSEPH HURD, in a part of a tract of land called Abner's Park, adjoining the above tract of land, will be sold at public vendue, on the premises, on MONDAY, the 22d day of May next, (which will be Whitsun Monday.)

These lands lie in the upper part of Caroline county, within one mile of the Nine Bridges, and adjoining the lands of Captain Thomas Mason, and the lands of James Turner. These lands are fertile, and well adapted to the growth of corn, wheat, other grain, and grass, and is considered equal in quality to any lands in that part of the county, and is supposed to contain in the whole about four hundred acres of land; but to ascertain the quantity with precision, a survey will be made of the land and the same laid down, and a plat thereof shewn on the day of sale. The terms of sale are, that the property shall be sold entire, or in two or three lots, as shall best suit the purchaser or purchasers, and shall be struck off to the highest bidder, and the purchaser or purchasers shall have twelve months credit, upon giving bond with approved security for the payment of the purchase money at the end of the time of the credit given, with interest thereon from the day of sale—on the payment of the purchase money, and not before, a deed of conveyance of the said lands (or such part thereof as shall be sold) shall be duly executed to the purchaser or purchasers, or his or their heirs, according to the decree aforesaid—The sale to be made by the subscriber, who is appointed trustee for that purpose, beginning at 12 o'clock on the day aforesaid.

AVÆNA ELATIOR,*

LINNÆI.

Superior to all other Grasses for Upland, Meadow and Pasture.

THE Rev'd Doctor Henry Muhlenburg, of Lancaster county, in the State of Pennsylvania, in a letter to Doctor Mitchell, of New-York, gives the following account of this celebrated grass: "I have cultivated this grass a number of years from imported seed, and find it, after a great many trials, of pretty near all other grasses, the earliest, latest, and best grass for green fodder and hay. It blooms in the middle of May, the same time with red clover, and the seed ripens a month after. Horses are fond of the hay; horned cattle prefer it to all other grasses. It will grow best in a clover soil, and the leaves are from two to four feet high before it blossoms. In the blossom, the stock rises from five to seven feet.—It ought to be cut in blossom, and will yield an abundance of sweet, good hay; may be cut three times a season; if suffered to grow old, it will become strawlike. The seed may be sown in the fall or spring, and must be brushed in, or lightly harrowed."†

The above account, from the experience of Nicholas Ridgely, Esq. the Chancellor of this State, George Cummins, Esq. both very respectable farmers, and myself, is fully verified. From the information of these gentlemen, who have cultivated this grass a greater length of time than I have, I am warranted to say that no pasturing, however severe, can destroy it. This grass is perennial, when once sown will produce perpetually unless the ground be broken. If sown alone it requires at least two bushels to the acre. On land in a high state of cultivation, the produce, after the first year, will be from two to three tons to the acre, from the first cutting, and little less from the second, if seasonable.

Seed may be had of James Bowie, Easton, from Doctor Daniel Sullivane, New-Market, and from Messrs. Lnockerman and Chaplain, Cambridge, from whom agriculturists may be supplied, and a sample of the grass, with its age from the time of sowing, may be seen.

This is an upland grass, and will thrive wherever wheat, rye, oats or barley will flourish. Three or four pounds of clover seed to the acre, may be sown with the fall meadow oats; for by the time the grass comes to maturity, the clover will be on the decline.
