AVÆNA ELATIOR,*

LINNÆI.

Superior to all other Grasses for Upland, Meadow and Pasture.

THE Rev'd Doctor Henry Muhlenburg, of Lancaster county, in the State of Pennsylvania, in a letter to Doctor Mitchell, of New-York, gives the following account of this celebrated grass: "I have cultivated this grass a number of years from imported seed, and find it, after a great many trials, of pretty near all other grasses, the earliest, latest, and best grass for green fodder and hay. It blooms in the middle of May, the same time with red clover, and the seed ripens a month after. Horses are fond of the hay; horned cattle prefer it to all other grasses. It will grow best in a clover soil, and the leaves are from two to four feet high before it blossoms. In the blossom, the stock rises from five to seven feet.—It ought to be cut in blossom, and will yield an abundance of sweet, good hay; may be cut three times a season; if suffered to grow old, it will become strawlike. The seed may be sown in the fall or spring, and must be brushed in, or lightly harrowed."†

The above account, from the experience of Nicholas Ridgely, Esq. the Chancellor of this State, George Cummins, Esq. both very respectable farmers, and myself, is fully verified. From the information of these gentlemen, who have cultivated this grass a greater length of time than I have, I am warranted to say that no pasturing, however severe, can destroy it. This grass is perennial, when once sown will produce perpetually unless the ground be broken. If sown alone it requires at least two bushels to the acre. On land in a high state of cultivation, the produce, after the first year, will be from two to three tons to the acre, from the first cutting, and little less from the second, if seasonable.

Seed may be had of James Bowie, Easton, from Doctor Daniel Sullivane, New-Market, and from Messrs. Loockerman and Chaplain, Cambridge, from whom agriculturists may be supplied, and a sample of the grass, with its age from the time of sowing, may be seen.

This is an upland grass, and will thrive wherever wheat, rye, oats or barley will flourish. Three or four pounds of clover seed to the acre, may be sown with the tall meadow oats; for by the time this grass comes to maturity, the clover will be on the decline. JAMES SYKES.

In Kent county Court,

March Term, 1809.

ON application of Joseph R. Brooks, of Kent county, by petition in writing to the said county court, praying the benefit of the act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, and the several supplements thereto, on the terms mentioned in the said acts; a schedule of his property and a list of his creditors, on oath, as far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his petition, and the said Joseph R. Brooks having satisfied the said court by competent testimony, that he has resided in the state of Maryland, two years immediately preceding the time of his application; having also stated in his petition, that he is now in actual confinement for debt, and not on account of any breach of the peace, or for the non payment of any fine, or penalty for the breach of the laws of this state, or of the United States, and having produced to the said court the Sheriff of Kent county to that effect, and having prayed to be discharged from confinement on the terms prescribed in the said acts, and he having taken the oath prescribed by the said act, and having given security for his personal appearance at the next county court, to answer any allegations that may be made against him by his creditors—It is therefore adjudged and ordered that the said Joseph R. Brooks be discharged from his imprisonment, and by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in the Easton Star, once a week for four weeks successively within three months before the twenty-first day of September next, to give notice to his creditors to appear before the county court, at the court house of the said county, at 12 o'clock of the said day, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to shew cause, if any they have, why the said Joseph R. Brooks should not have the benefit of the several acts of assembly for the relief of insolvent debtors.
