There were six graduates Misses Anna Mae Ayres, Bessie Wheat, Lillian Warner, Nannie Newcomb; Messrs. Robert Ayres and Leonard Leary. The reference in the KENT NEWS of Saturday last regarding the purse-net law has created excitement among the fishermen. A number went to Baltimore on Monday with a view of procuring counsel and instituting proceedure looking to a modification of the law so as to allow fishing in the upper bay, &c. Some of the purse netters think that certain pound netters whose pounds are numerous in the upper waters of the bay are in collusion with certain non-resident opponents of purse-net fishing and in as much as the purse netters have never interferred with the pound netters notwithstanding the great danger and inconvenience they were subject to, on account of the immense stretches of stakes and netting, they deem it an act of injustice.

The upper bay waters have been extremely muddy so far in the season and continuance of muddy water was never known before and it has been very detrimental to the fishermen's interests. Some contend it is a curse put upon the water because of so much intrigue among the fishermen and their opponents.

Mr. John A. Smith is certainly fortunate in having sons who are home-loving boys. Unlike the major part of the farmer's boys, they have not the inclination for the attractions of the town. About once or twice in four months is as often as they are seen in town. They are faithful workers on the farm, and John is very happy to be so blest. Capt. G. T. Sewell, too has a very home-loving and hard-working son. He is ever on the alert to do his best for parents and home. He is now fast becoming a ladies man, and no doubt has in sight the interests of another home all his own.

HE SAW THE ELEPHANT.

Possessed of a burning desire to "see the elephant" as it is found in Wilmington, and with fourteen dollars in currency, a young man of Warwick, Md., blew into town Saturday evening and announced his intentions.

Of course there was no trouble in finding a willing guide, and ere long the festive Warwicker was cosily ensconced in a place where liquid refreshments were to be had. In this place was a girl, whose smiling offer of refreshment in the shape of a bottle of cold beer was accepted by the Marylander. Strangely enough it was not long after he had purchased and consumed part of this cooling drink that he became drowsy and requested an opportunity to take a little nap.

"The desired accommodation was given he alleges, and at an early hour in the morning he was rudely awakened by the possessor of a gruff voice and powerful physique, who unceremoniously hustled him out into the unfeeling world. After getting outside the house, the Marylander claims that a search of his "jeans" disclosed the painful fact that all his riches had taken unto themselves wings. He told his troubles to a friend, who gave him assistance for the time being, and this morning he will probably apply to the police for a warrant for the one he suspects of having made away with the coin. As evidence, the Warwicker will go to the police station armed with the unlucky bottle of beer, or what is left of it, in order that a charge of selling liquor without a license may be added to that of theft.—Sunday Star.

After suffering for seven years, this woman was restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Read her letter.

Mrs. Sallie French, of Paucaunla, Ind. Ter., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I had female troubles for seven years—was all run-down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different troubles but did me no good. While in this condition I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am now strong and well."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat your letter in confidence and advise you free. No woman ever regretted writing her, and because of her vast experience she has helped thousands. Address, Lynn, Mass.
