AUTUMN WEDDINGS

WATTS—WATTS.

Prof. Watts is a member of the faculty of Baltimore Polytechnic Institute. They will reside at 2846 N. Calvert street, Baltimore.

BOGGS—JEFFERSON.

Lillington Castle, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Jefferson, near Chestertown, was the scene of a brilliant wedding at noon Wednesday The bride was Miss Helen, the attractive and accomplished daughter, while the groom was Mr. Charles W. Boggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Boggs, of Crumpton, and now in business in Davenport, Iowa. The home was beautifully trimmed with autumn leaves and cut flowers while nature finished the picture with her artistic brush.

To the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Violet Evans, of Baltimore, the bridal party entered the parlor, where the wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Janney. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel Jefferson, who was tasti y dressed in yellow silk and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. William Boggs, of New York, was best man. The bride never looked handsomer, being attired in a white radium Princess dress, white tulle veil caught with orange blossoms and carried bride's roses and maiden hair ferns.

An elegant luncheon was served to the 150 guests by Caterer Stevenson, of Smyrna.

The presents were indeed beautiful and costly, among which was a diamond and pearl necklace, gift of the groom.

The bride's going-away gown was brown broadcloth with hat and gloves to match. After an extensive wedding trip they will be at home at Davenport, Iowa, after November 1st.

WALES—WOODMENDER.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the year was solemnized on the evening of October 7, when Miss Julia R. Woodmender youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Woodmender, of Quaker Neck, was married to Mr. R. D. Wales, of St. Michaels, Md. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. McCoy, pastor of Bond Chapel M. E. Church, at the home of the bride's parents at Quaker Neck.

The parlor was tastefully decorated for the occasion, a huge bell occupying one corner of the room under which the marriage took place. The bride was costumed in white silk with lace trimmings and carried white carnations. The groom wore black. The bride's going away dress was of dark blue broadcloth. The bridesmaid who was the groom's sister, was dressed in pink and carried pink carnations. Mr. Blades, of St. Michaels, was the groom's attendant. Miss Bertha Woodmender, a sister of the bride, played the wedding march. Members of the immediate family and a few friends attended the ceremony and reception which followed. The couple left on October 9, for their future home which will be at St. Michaels, where the groom is in business. The bride received quite a number of handsome presents.

PEVERLY—PARSONS.

Mr. George Cuthbert Peverly, son of Mr. Geo. V. Peverly, of Middletown, Del., and Miss Helen Jenkins Parsons, of St. Mary's county, Md., were married on Wednesday noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Bradley in Chestertown. Mrs. John G. Westcott, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Messrs. S. Scott Beck and Thomas Massey acted as ushers. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Peverly will reside at Mechanicsville, Md. They left on the afternoon train for a trip North. A reception will be given at the home of the groom in Middletown upon their return from their wedding trip.

A Worthy Cause.—On Friday and Satday afternoon October 23 and 24 between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock the Ladies Improvement Association of Chestertown will give a Japanese tea at the home of Mrs. H. H. Barroll, for the purpose of raising funds for improving the town. This is a worthy cause and a large attendance of the citizens of Chestestown is asked.

A flower show will also be held sometime at which prizes will be given for best chrysanthemums, dahlias, roses, etc.

BRYAN WINS ON THEATER VOTE

Straw Ballot Gives Him More Than Twice As Many As Taft.

From Baltimore Evening News (Republican.)

According to a straw vote taken among the audience in seven Baltimore theaters last night, William Jennings Bryan ought to sweep Baltimore and Maryland by a majority which will make further argument unnecessary. The vote was a go-as-you-please affair, however, and the results shown are just as valuable as any other straw vote where there are no restrictions with penalty attached for the merry crime of repeating. The returns as counted up this morning show:

Theater.	Taft.	Bryan.
Academy of Music	78	163
Auditorium	61	248
Maryland	123	176
Ford's	10	138
Holliday Street	91	168
Gayety	122	263
Monumental	105	151
Totals	592	1307

The News printed and sent out 5000 cards requesting those to whom they were presented to fill in the voting blanks. Six hundred each were sent to the Monumental and Holiday Street Theaters, 700 each to the Academy of Music and Maryland Theate; 800 to the Auditorium and 900 to Ford's. The Monumental returned 261 votes. Holiday Street 169, Academy 241, Maryland Theater 300, Auditorium 313 and Fords's 148. The cards were given to men as they entered, and were collected by the ushers during intermissions. It will be seen that more than 50 per cent, of the cards were not voted.

It was, at any rate a great diversion for the theater-goers, who can see a play any old time, but can straw vote in a Presidential campaign only once in four years. They went after the balloting cards eagerly—that is, most of them did. Some threw them into the discard, and some others amused themselves by writing facitious opinions of things in general all over the face of the ballot. At the downtown theaters, especially, there was enthusiasm. At the Holiday Street Theater boys at the entrance both downstairs and in the gallery wers kept busy handing out cards, and the ushers went around with baskets to collect them. At the two stag houses—the Gayety and Monumental—the audiences were composed chiefly of voters, and they took the balloting with perfect seriousness. Because these were exclusively voting audiences.
