(In the foregoing statement the company does not include such assets as furniture and fixtures, unsecured premium notes, etc. These additional assets, as they are converted into cash by their payment to the company, will increase the total resources.)

The Company

The Continental Life Insurance Company was organized after the close of the insurance investigations in response to the demand for safe life insurance in a home company managed and controlled by home people—by men known throughout the peninsula for their integrity and sound business judgment.

The Directors

At least one director was selected from every county in Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland, whose very name should at once command the completest confidence in the proper administration of the company's affairs.

The Plan

In order to secure the interest and co-operation of as many as possible of the peninsula's leading citizens, it was determined to offer to each person who should insure in the company, an opportunity to purchase a limited amount of its stock, five years after the company commenced business and at a price considerably below what it would probably be worth at that time.

The Result

The plan met with immediate success. Upon its presentation to the soundest business men in almost every community, they at once availed themselves of the opportunity to participate in the establishment of this peninsula, of a life insurance company which should stand forever as a lasting monument to the sagacity, thrift and public spirit of those, who, by their early patronage, made possible its establishment.

The Acid Test

Extravagance and graft go hand in hand. The investigations disclosed the greatest abuses in the companies with the highest expense rates. Good or bad management first shows itself in the expense account.

Our Record

The administration of the Continental has drawn from competent critics such comments as these:

"I do not think it has been matched in the first year's experience of any other life insurance corporation." — Miles M. Dawson, Consulting Actuary, expert adviser of the Armstrong Investigating Committee.

"A good showing, especially for a new company." —Best's Life Insurance Reports

"A remarkable record."—The Spectator (Insurance) New York.

"An extraordinarily creditable record—probably unprecedented—evidence of the skill, enterprise, rigid economy and integrity of the management." —The Chronicle (Insurance) New York

Success

At the close of March, just eighteen months after the company opened its doors, it had on its books no less than two and a quarter millions of insurance, principally on the lives of citizens of this peninsula.

Security

The resources of the company now aggregate some $150,000, of which more than $10,000 is deposited with the State of Delaware for the protection of policy-holders. Under the law, this deposit must be increased with the growth of the company's business, and in consequence thereof the Delaware Insurance Commissioner executes on each policy issued the following certificate:

STATE OF DELAWARE

Insurance Department

This Policy is registered and secured by a deposit of approved securities with this Department as provided by law.

(SEAL) .....
Insurance Commissioner.

Quite Dry Enough.—Each Sunday the parson rode three miles to church. On this particular Sunday it was raining very hard. He rode the distance on horseback, and when he reached the church was soaking wet. Several of the good old sisters who were there early placed a chair before the fire for him and hung his wet coat up to dry. "I am so afraid that I won't be dry enough to preach," he said. "Oh," said one of the sisters, "when you get in the pulpit and start preaching you will be dry enough."—The Circle Magazine.

During the spring every one would be benefitted by taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. It furnishes a needed tonic to the kidneys after the extra strain of winter, and it purifies the blood by stimulating the kidneys, and causing them to eliminate the impurities from it Foley's Kidney Remedy imparts new life and vigor. Pleasant to take. Sold by all druggists.

Fooled The Hens.—A Delaware farmer who has a very large poultry farm, tells how he fooled his hens which were only laying an egg or so a day, while eggs were selling for 35 cents per dozen. For a long time he puzzled over how to make the hens lay better, when a sudden thought struck him. Getting a paint brush he lettered on white paper "Eggs, 12c. a dozen," and placed it where all the hens could see it. Since then he claims that he has been getting plenty of eggs from his flock. We don't think hens in Maryland, especially in Kent, could be fooled in this manner.

Shooting Ducks From Boats.—Considerable complaint has been made lately of persons shooting ducks from launches and sail boats in Chester and Corsica rivers and tributaries. This method of killing ducks is contrary to the law of this State. The proper authorities should be notified and the guilty parties should be severely punished for this offense.

Good Crop Candidates.—It is currently reported that in the neighborhood of twenty candidates will enter the contest for the office of sheriff in Queen Annes county. A goodly number have also expressed a desire to fill the other vacancies in the county. Judging from the number of offices to be filled it looks like many are called—but few will be chosen.

Medical Society.—The Kent County Medical Society held their annual election of officers at the regular meeting last Saturday afternoon. The following offices were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. H. G. Simpers; Vice President, Dr. W. S. Maxwell, of Still Pond; Secretary and Treasurer, Dr. Frank B. Hines; who was also elected delegate to the Medical and Chirugical Faculty of Maryland which meets in Baltimore in May. Dr. F. W. Smith of Fairlee was elected as alternate.

Postmaster Appointed.—Enoch F. Davis has been appointed postmaster at Golt's, Kent County, vice S. J. Ford removed.
