22 DROWN IN CHESAPEAKE BAY

The steamer Julia Luckenbach, from Port Tampa to Baltimore, was sunk off the Tangier gas buoy, in the Chesapeake Bay, just before 7 o'clock Friday morning, having been in collision with the British steamer Indrakuala. The Luckenbach was struck in the bow.

Twenty-two lives were lost, including Captain Gilbert and his wife. Eight men, including the second mate were taken from the rigging of the sunken ship after they had clung to life for six hours in the gale which was sweeping the bay. Others in the rigging with them, numbed by the cold, dropped off one by one and drowned.

SHORT COURSES OF M. A. C.

I want to write you a few lines about the short courses offered at the Maryland Agricultural College this year, especially the woman's departments. Last year I took the Domestic Science course of one week, and I am not able to figure exactly, but the cash money return has been over $400 as one result. The time I learned to save I could not figure on, and the knowledge of increased food values cannot be put down in dollars and cents.

I want to urge every farmer to insist on his wife taking the Poultry Course and the Domestic Science course this year. The expenses will not be over $15.00 for the whole time. There is no cost for tuition, the fare and board being the only expense. So farmers, loosen up a bit; get your wife a new hat and a note book (don't forget the note book, as that will be a good reference book) and send her off this month. Write a letter to Prof. Patterson or Prof. Symons and they will see that everything possible is done to make your visit pleasant and profitable. They also attend to reserving boarding houses.

Now here is your chance to learn how to get more eggs per hen and more meals per hen.

REPORT OF THE AUDITING COMMITTEE

OF KENT COUNTY, MD.

To the Honorable Board of County Commissioners for Kent County, Maryland,

GENTLEMEN: In compliance with an act of the General Assembly of Maryland, passed January, 1904, we who have been appointed auditors for Kent county, beg leave to state that we have examined the books, accounts, vouchers and papers of the office of County Commissioners, Treasurer, Board of School Commissioners and Trustees of Almshouse, and submit the following report as shown in EXHIBITS 1-6.

In the items of expenditure we find bills for delivering Delinquent tax notices aggregating $249.80. Also in the items of receipts we find the Treasurer collected from Delinquent tax-payers $195.40 for 1911-12, also $17.40 for 1910-11.

He according to his books received 8 per cent. commission on taxes collected after April the 1st, 20 cents of which went to the county. It was the opinion of the Attorney to the County Commissioners that if the Treasurer actually levies he is entitled to compensation for such levy. If he does not actually levy he is entitled to no fee for the delivery of Delinquent tax notices.

We are also advised upon what we consider other competent authority that these charges are not legal.
