A CLOTHING REVELATION!

T. S. BORDLEY has just placed with three leading New York Clothing manufacturers, the largest order for ever placed for Chestertown. This stock will arrive about March 15th, and will include all the newest and latest designs of the most perfect fitting Clothing ever shown in this market. The extreme low prices for the coming Spring and Summer, are simply marvelous. I will be able to sell a neat, perfect fitting suit for men for only $5, such as you paid last season $8 for. $2 will buy a fine homespun suit for your boy. As my stock will be the largest in the town, I am determined that my prices will be the lowest. In the meantime, all the winter stock we have left will be sold for less than cost during the next 30 days. When you are ready to buy, search the town over for low prices, then come to me and see if I don't make good my promise, viz: to sell you fine, perfect fitting Clothing for less money than you can get them elsewhere.

Men's, Youths' and Boys' Clothing

Respectfully,
THOMAS S BORDLEY,
Feb. 21, 1895. CORNER CLOTHING HOUSE.

AT CHESTERVILLE'S
New CASH STORE.

You Will Find
PRICES FOR TIRED PURSES. PRICES YOU LIKE,
Prices that anyone can afford.

Prices brought to the very verge of nothingness. If price is an object, your object is to price our goods. Come in and be surprised at our surprising prices. If you have any money to save, save it to-morrow by spending it with us.

If you want the best, come here; if not, anywhere else will do.

You'll learn more in five minutes' talk at the store than in a whole paperful of technical talk. Our advertising is thrown away if you doubt it.

Very truly,
W. A. Williams.

A COMPLETE LINE OF GOODS AT TEMPTING PRICES

to close cash buyers. The year of 1894 is rapidly closing upon us, and while to some the year has not brought much prosperity, yet the encouragement we have received as a merchant spurs us onward with life, and the motto of our store for 1895 will be "Foward March." At the present time we have on our counters entirely too many goods, and the people of this neighborhood shall have the advantages of LOW PRICES in order to reduce this stock. For the month of December and January we have made sweeping reductions in our Dry Goods department, Boot and Shoe department; also Notions, Underwear, etc. This stock embraces a complete line of

GROCERIES, HARNESS, CUTLERY, HARDWARE, TINWARE, CHOICE BRANDS OF FLOUR BY THE BARREL OR SACK, in fact everything usually found in a well-appointed store. Catch-penny advertisements are no longer popular with the masses, and to those who favor me in the future with their patronage, we would say that we will convince them that we advertise only facts. A first-class line of always on hand, and prescriptions compounded with care at all hours, day or night.

☞ EXTRA.—Hats and Caps at rock bottom prices; Also splendid line of Choice Cigars and Tobacco CHEAP.

1st.—At this season of the year I have too many winter goods on the shelves. They must go. The cut in prices for the next two weeks means our loss and your gain.

2d.—We call special attention to our line of CROCKERYWARE, probably the most complete line, and best assortment in the county. Sets of dishes at moderate cost, and a general assortment of Crockeryware to please most any one.

3d.—HOSIERY, BLANKETS, SHIRTS and GLOVES constitute a very important part of our general stock, and the low prices figure conspicuously. Don't forget this department.

4th.—Best of all—OUR GROCERY DEPARTMENT is now a household word. Everything is kept fresh and clean. Nothing stale goes over our counters, and the wife is always satisfied because it came from E. W. F. Simpers'. The Sugar-Cured Hams are always what you want. Flour in the choicest brands, either by the barrel or sack. The reader knows what a Grocery Department means; it means everything sold in a Grocery store, consequently it is useless to itemize every article. What about the prices? They are all right. Never higher than others, but sometimes a little less. Two weeks later we will have more to say about other lines of goods we are determined to clear out. So keep your eyes open on our advertisement. THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME.

Where the Aged and Infirm are Cared for—Mother Aurelia Speaks of Her Charges.

(From the Providence, R. I., Journal.)

Somewhat removed from the city of Providence, on the main highway to Pawtucket, stands that magnificent charitable institution known as the Home for the Aged of the Little Sisters of the Poor. Here a company of sweet faced and soft voiced Sisters care for the old and the infirm who are unable to care for themselves.

Mother Aurelia presides over this well-known institution, and with her associates ministers to the wants of over two hundred old people, women and men. An important feature of the Home is a well-appointed pharmacy in charge of one of the sisters. Their chief remedy is good old Pain-Killer, which most of the old folks used when they were children and which now cures the pains and aches incidental to their declining years.

As is to be expected, the aged inmates of the Home are in constant need of medical attention, although, so carefully are they tended, few are rarely sick enough to be in the hospital wing at any one time. But all of them are subject to the many disabilities of old age, and so Pain-Killer has come to be a remedy of almost daily use.

Mother Aurelia says that Pain-Killer has quite superseded the drugs and prescriptions for use among the old people. When the limbs twitch with rheumatism the fair sister in charge of the pharmacy gives them a massage with pure Pain-Killer. When the old men and old women suffer from their many stomach troubles, a little Pain-Killer with water and sugar offers a certain and quick relief. When the venerable heads are racked with pain, Pain-Killer is again put to service promptly. The old people love it and rely upon it. They testify that its use externally is quickly efficacious, and internally, is unaccompanied by any after ill effects—which, at their age, must never be risked.

STILL POND FOOT-BALL TEAM.

In the fall of the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four,
After the corn was all cut and busy times were no more;
The boys of Still Pond, who must always have something to do,
Determined to have a foot-ball team and play a game or two.
So the gallant countrymen met the college boys in town,
Each with a feeling in his heart that he would win renown;
Still Pond thought twelve men were required on a foot-ball team,
And when we learned we should have eleven, oh! how few it did seem.
Each thought the man he played against the largest on the eleven,
And imagined himself to be a lad about seven,
When the game began, our team was a little confused,
And the crowd of lookers-on seemed very much amused,
And some of our boys disputed which way the ball should go,
But most of them said nothing, because they did'nt know.
Although we did our very best to win, we lost the game,
But we were proud of the Still Pond foot-ball team, just the same.
The next morning some were lame, and others almost deceased,
Yet when asked if they were sore, they replied, "not in the least."
After this battle several of our men lost heart,
But when we went to Dover there were others to take their part.
Because we couldn't teach the Dover boys how to play foot-ball,
We did not give up and say that we knew nothing at all,
But taught a man on the train who was from some unknown town,
The proper way to rush center and then to holter down."
Before our next game, which was played at Still Pond, right guard Jake
Began to think foot-ball, was nothing but a fake.
He did not like to tell us that he was afraid to play,
So he claimed that he could not stop hauling corn that day.
In that foot-ball game the college men would have won the day,
But the umpire would not let them do it, so they say.
Our second game in Chestertown was the most exciting,
Because in that game there was just a little fighting.
We would have won that game without the least bit of doubt,
If our big man had not been hit in the eye and "knocked out."
That is the game in which our right tackle was hit in the face,
And he and the Chestertown man who struck him had a race.
The town man knew that if he stopped his face would be a wreck,
For our man had just hit men on their feet, back and neck.
All the college foot-ball players, without respect to age,
Were afraid to play us till Charley was chained or in a cage.
So, then we had to drive all the way down to Centreville,
A small town about nine and a half miles beyond Church Hill.
This is a place where most of us had never been before,
But we won the game, and four to sixteen was the score.
There is one man on that team, that none of us will forget,
For when he fell on us, we knew he was there, you can bet;
His name is McKenney: if you and he have never met,
He fell on us like a bag of sand that had just been wet.
This Thanksgiving day victory ended our foot-ball season,
And why we can't give a good supper there is no reason. —ALH.

AN INTERESTING OLD "ADD."

The Mansell Academy and Boarding School of Ye Olden Time.

The following old advertisement was handed us by James A. Pearce, Esq., who thinks that it must have been printed about the period of the establishment of the original Washington College:

Chester, Eastern Shore of Maryland.

Mansell's Academy,

AND

BOARDING SCHOOL,

FOR

YOUNG LADIES.

MRS. SARAH MANSELL, lately from London, begs LEAVE to inform the Public, that she has opened an ACADEMY and BOARDING SCHOOL for YOUNG LADIES, in which is taught,

All Kinds of Needle-work in Silk and Worsted, Tambour and Paper in the neatest Taste; with a variety of Darning and Embroidery; likewise Reading and Writing the English Language, grammatically, together with the necessary Branches of Arithmetic.

She hath provided a large and commodious House, with genteel Accommodations for Boarders; her Terms are One Guinea at Entrance Thirty-five Pounds per Annum for Board, Lodging and Washing, and Six Pounds for Education in the above Branches; that is Forty-one Pounds per Annum in the whole, exclusive of Entrance.

Under the same Roof, in commodious Rooms set apart for that Purpose, and under Mrs. MANSELL'S immediate Inspection, the following additional Branches of Female Education will be taught by the most approved Masters, viz.

The FRENCE LANGUAGE, at the usual Rates, by Mr. HUE DUPLESSIS, Professor of French in Washington College, in the Town of Chester aforesaid.

MUSIC, VOCAL and INSTRUMENTAL, at One Guinea per Month by Mr. LIMEBURNER, a Gentleman of the first Eminence in his Profession, and of the most amiable Manners.

DANCING, at One Guinea per Quarter, by Mr. POPENNOT, who has derived great Credit from his School during his Residence here. He likewise teaches Painting and Drawing, at One Guinea per Quarter.

Mrs. MANSELL has only to add, that her Reading and Writting School hath met with the General Approbation of the Chief Masters and other Gentlemen who have the Direction of Washington College, and that the principal Ladies in Chester Town honour her with their Countenance and Protection in the other Branches of Female Education, and she hopes to merit a Continuance of their Favour.

The above is as near an exact reproduction as is possible to make it.

The interesting old copy of the Kent Enquirer, was kindly furnished through the courtesy of Mr. Frank Hynson, whose friendly act we have acknowledged.

Fingernail Omens.

Cut them on Monday, cut them for news.
Cut them on Tuesday, a new pair of shoes.
Cut them on Wednesday, cut them for health.
Cut them on Thursday, cut them for wealth.
Cut them on Friday, cut them for woe.
Cut them on Saturday, a journey to go.
Cut them on Sunday, your safety seek.
The devil will have you the rest of the week.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by M. A. Toulson, Drug store.

FRED. DOUGLASS' sons deny that they have taken any steps to contest their father's will.

DURING the cold spell in Mexico five woodchoppers were frozen to death at Linacantec.
