"Yes, our new wagon's a Studebaker—the only kind we KNOW"

"The Studebaker idea has been in our family for sixty years. We have never thought of buying any other kind of a wagon."

"It's true, we're continually being offered other wagons costing a little less, with lots of promises as to what they will do. But we know in our family what a Studebaker will do. A few dollars difference in price doesn't mean much. It's the service a wagon gives that we consider most."

"Long service for a fair price means more every time than short service for a few dollars less."

"That's why we stick to Studebaker—and 'Stick to Studebaker' is a pretty good motto for a man who uses wagons."

"Studebaker wagons are built of good stuff. They're made right by people who've had years and years of experience in making them right—people who are trusted the world over."

"Studebaker wagons last, because they're made to last."

"Look out for the dealer who tells you his wagon is just as good as a Studebaker. That's my advice after a good deal of experience—and the experience of all of my people. You get a Studebaker and you've got a safe investment."

HICKS' FORECASTS FOR JUNE.

A reactionary storm period extending over the 2nd, 3rd and 4th. Moon is in conjunction with Sun and Earth on the 4th. This, of course, gives us new Moon at high north declination. The new Moon is always at or near its greatest north point in the heavens in June. This, we hold, is one of the prime causes of maximum lightning, thunder and rain, in this solistice month. The falling barometer, and storms of rain and wind, which will develop in the west about the 2nd, will reach different longitudes in their eastward progress on and touching the 3rd and 4th. These storms will reach their greatest extent and strength on and next to the 4th. The barometer will rise, and cooler, westerly winds will follow the storms from two to three days—say about the 5th to the 7th. The first June seismic period covers the 1st to the 7th, having its center on the 4th.

A regular storm period involves the 6th to the 12th. This period is coincident with the annual magnetic and electrical crisis, which is at its center each year on and about June 11th. Its peculiar influence is noticable from about the 5th, to the 15th, notably on the 9th, 10th 11th and 12th. Heavy storms of wind, rain and thunder will touch many sections in their eastward sweep over the country on and touching the 10th, 11th and 12th.

The Venus equinox, which is central in July, will add its disturbing energy to that of the Mercury period during the last week in June, calling for a prolonged spell of cloudy and threatening weather. Upon the whole, the general outlook for June is not abnormal, excepting the fact that the Jupiter influence will tend greatly to local downpours and cloudburst, with lack of diffused rains in wide sections of the country.

80,000 LOADED CHICKENS DYING

Crops Were Stuffed With Sand To Make Weight.

Twenty carloads of live chickens, 4000 chickens to the car, were being held in Jersey City because angry jobbers in New York city had refused to receive them. Hardly a live chicken was handled by dealers.

The trouble arose over a recent complaint of jobbers that receivers were stuffing the chicken's crops with weight producing sand and gravel to make up shrinkage sustained in transit. Until receivers agree to abandon the practice the dealers say they will boycott all live poultry. Ordinarily about 125,000 live fowls are handled daily.

Hundreds of chickens were dying in their crates and it was said the attention of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals had been called to the matter

The situation is blamed by the wholesalers on the jobbers and by the jobbers on the west shippers of live poultry.

"The shippers are the guilty parties," said one of the leading receivers. "They send caretakers along with their stock with instructions to keep the birds hungry all the way to Jersey City. Most of the poultry comes from as far west as Missouri. The day the chickens are to be sent across the river to our market the caretakers feed them great quantities of bread and meal, mixed with sand and gravel

"Each chicken gets about a quarter of a pound of additional weight stuck in its crop, and when you figure there are 4000 birds to a car you can easily see what a big proposition this feeding up process is.

Weeding Out Poor Cows.

Guy E. Wolcott, representing the dairy division, bureau of animal industry in the United States Department of Agriculture, returned on Monday from Carroll county, where he has organized another cow test association. The object of these organizations is to make the milk business profitable by weeding out the poor animals, the idea being that the food expended on cows which do not make returns represents a loss which, if saved, would increase the profits of the business Those cows whose yield is unsatisfactory should be utilized by butchers.

The result in the investigation in Harford where an association was organized, has just been announced, and will be interesting news to owners of cows. A record was kept of 500 cows owned by 26 farmers. In one herd of 20, which contained the best animals, it was found that the best cow yield was 8,603 pounds of milk per annum, and the poores. cow in the same herd 1,516 pounds To feed the best cow entailed an expense of $50.80, while the poorest cost $32.31. The profit from the best cow was $143 97 and from the poorest $8 54. In another herd of 20, which contained the best average stock, the best cow furnished 4,783 pounds and the poorest 3,915 pounds. Mr. Wolcott found that these animals had not been properly fed, otherwise there would have been a wider difference between the best and poorest animal. In the First Maryland Cow Test Association in Baltimore county a summary for two years shows the best cow in the association yielded in that time 13,090 pounds. Her feed cost $97.60 and 75 cents for every hundred pounds of milk. The poorest cow gave 1,973 pounds of milk. It cost $36 70 to feed her and $1.87 for every hundred pounds of milk. In other words, it cost one-third as much to feed the poor cow, but the best cow gave six times as much milk.

BILL TO PROTECT THE FISH.

Representative J. Charles Linthicum, of Maryland, intends to incorporate in the bill he is preparing for the Federal regulation of fisheries in navigable streams, a provision for the regulation of the use of nets and seines at the mouth of rivers leading to the spawning and breeding grounds of fish. This is intended to meet the situation in the lower Chesapeake Bay, where there are so many nets that the fish have a difficult time passing up to their spawning grounds. Dr. Smith, the new commissioner of Fish and Industries, who is furnishing Mr. Linthicum with suggestions in connection with the drafting of the bill, has informed him that this is a very important matter, and that unless something is done to prevent the interference of nets and seines with the fish during the seasons when they run toward their breeding grounds the supply of food fish in the Chesapsake will be greatly diminished

WOMAN COULD NOT WALK

She Was So Ill—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pentwater, Mich.—"A year ago I was very weak and the doctor said I had a serious displacement. I had backache and bearing down pains so bad that I could not sit in a chair or walk across the floor and I was in severe pain all the time. I felt discouraged as I had taken everything I could think of and was no better. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am strong and healthy."—Mrs. ALICE DARLING, R.F.D. No. 2, Box 77, Pentwater, Mich.

Read What Another Woman says:

Peoria, Ill.—"I had such backaches that I could hardly stand on my feet. I would feel like crying out lots of times, and had such a heavy feeling in my right side. I had such terrible dull headaches every day and they would make me feel so drowsy and sleepy all the time, yet I could not sleep at night.

"After I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a week I began to improve. My backache was less and that heavy feeling in my side went away. I continued to take the Compound and am cured.

"You may publish this if you wish."—Miss CLARA L. GAUWITZ, R.R. No. 4, Box 62, Peoria, Ill.

Such letters prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for woman's ills. Why don't you try it?
