LOCAL MATTERS.

Still Not Decided.—The will case of Hoffman versus Hoffman was again taken up by the Orphans' Court of Kent county in special session on Wednesday. All evidence in the case was gotten in and argument by counsel was heard. The court will render its decision in the matter on Tuesday next.

Has Commenced Work.—Mr. Thos. D. France has had several cases in his new capacity as Police Justice for Chestertown. The first case brought before the Police Magistrates Court was a difficulty between Kate Gibson and her husband, both old-stand-bys in the magistrates' courts.

Should Philippines be Free?—The members of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society, of Washington College, will tonight discuss the question: "Resolved, that the Philippine Islanders Should be Free." The affirmative will be represented by Messrs. J. W. Sutton, J. T. Baden, M. Trader and Duke Brown The negatives will be Thomas Garey, E. Coughlin, Ernest Biles and L. B. Smith.

The Kent And Queen Anne's County Fair.—The races for the Tolchester Fair are about completed. Four classes, consisting of the 2 30 pace, 2 30 trot, 2.14 pace and 2 20 trot have all been filled. The 2.18 class for pacers failed to fill and was declared off. It will, however, be substituted as an open class later. Superintendent Noland is making extensive preparations for the fair and the premium list will be made an interesting feature.

Preparing to Rebuild.—Rev. E. C Makosky, pastor of the Lynch's M. P Church, recently destroyed by fire, has collected between $425 and $430 on the proposed new building. This, with the $1,000 insurance, gives the trustees a sure fund of about $1,500. The new structure will cost about $2,000. Awaiting the completion of the pretty new church, the store-room of Mrs. Hossenger has been fitted up and will be used for religious services.

The Vegetable Market.—In spite of the late season, Chestertown's vegetable market is well stocked. Strawberries at 2 quarts for a quarter or fifteen cents single quart, tomatoes, pineapples, greens, onions, asparagus, radishes, are in addition to the general line of winter stock. Mr. William Kirby had a sample of peas from his Queen Anne truck farm in Chestertown yesterday. With favorable weather conditions, he will have plenty of peas on the market next week, which will be about a month earlier than last year.

First of The Season.—The first local strawberries of the present season made their appearance in the Chestertown market on Saturday last, May 10, and consisted of one pint. Mr. John F. Copper, living on the Kentuck farm, in Queen Anne's, was the grower and Mr. D. Arthur Bacchus the purchaser. The berries were of the Michael's Early variety and sold for 10 cents a pint. The first local berries last year reached our market about the 18th to 20th of May, one week later than this season.

Queen Caroline Launched.—The Queen Caroline, the handsome new steamer for the Queen Anne Railroad Company, was launched at the yards of the Baltimore Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, on Tuesday. The Queen Caroline is named in honor of Caroline county and will ply between Lewes, Del., and Cape May. Capt. W.C. Ellason and many other prominent steamboat men witnessed the successful launch. Miss Marie E. Bosley, daughter of President W. H. Bosley, of the Queen Anne Railroad Company, christened the new vessel

Students From Kent.—Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md., has just issued the announcements of its 32nd Commencement, beginning June 6th and closing with Commencement Day on Wednesday, June 11th. The class roll shows a list of 16 young men and 14 young women to be graduated. It is the most distinctively Maryland class the College has ever graduated, every county in the State being represented except four. In honor of this unusual fact, Governor Smith will preside and deliver the diplomas on Commencement day. Among the students we note from this county, Mr. George Medders, of Kennedyville; Mr. Charles M. Elderdice of Edesville; and Miss Mary K Gooding, of Chestertown.

County Bonds.—Tuesday last was the day specified for the opening of the bids for the $10,000 county bonds authorized to be issued for the refunding of the outstanding bridge and jail bonds Upon the opening of the bids a protest was made by Hope H. Barroll, Esq. attorney for the Second National Bank, against the acceptance of certified checks as the deposit required under the advertisement. The commissioners held the matter under advisement and will announce the award next Tuesday. The bids were for the full amount of $10,000, as follows: Mr. Wm. Walter Chapman, [illegible]; Second National Bank, $10,-[illegible] Kent County Savings Bank, $[illegible],040.00; Seasongood & Mayer, Cin., $10,-588 00; Smith Brothers, Edesville $10,-250.00.

A Rare Treat.—The ladies of the Town Improvement Association have arranged an entertainment to be given in Stam's Hall, Thursday, May 22. The entertainment will consist of musical selections from Floradora, by a party from Baltimore, and the John's Hopkin's Glee Club. A charming drama, full of fun and amusement, will also be rendered by Baltimore parties. The proceeds derived from this entertainment will be used by the ladies in the commendable work of beautifying our town.

Queen Anne Big(?) Wheat.—Col. W. Scott Roberts and Assistant Editor Coursey are nothing if not loyal to that county of big Democratic majorities and big crops. A just pride never fails to swell the "home product" into magnificent proportions when viewed by these loyal sons of a loyal county. Hear them as they rejoice and jubilate—how they "flop" their exuberant wings and crow over the small blessings which abundant nature has seen proper to bestow. The Record says:

"Fine Field of Wheat.—Mr. Thomas H. Dodd, of Wye Neck, has the finest field of wheat in Queen Anne county. The field contains 50 acres. The growth of wheat is 2½ feet high, thick and a beautiful dark green color. His prospects are good for 35 or 40 bushels per acre."

Has the army worm or the dreaded 17 year locust swept over the goodly land, that the wheat in her fields of "a beautiful dark green color," stand only 2½ feet high, and give promise of the beggardly returns at the approaching harvest of but "35 or 40 bushels per acre"? Mr. Garrett Foxwell, Mr. Wilbur Eliason, Mr. L. C. Hayes, Mr. C. C. Wood, and hosts of others in Kent; Mr. W. Irving Walker, Mr. James T. Anthony, Mr. S. R. Hurlock or Treasurer Albert Story, tell the Record editors, and Mr. Dodd of Wye Neck, something about "wheat what is wheat."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Perkins are now resting in London after the thrilling experiences of the Deutcheland in which they were passengers two weeks ago. The vessel lost her rudder in mid-ocean and her commander steered her into port by means of her screws alone. So great was the nervous strain upon the captain of the ship that within six hours after landing his vessel he was dead. Prince Henry cabled the company that Captain White's performance was one of the greatest feats of seamanship on record. Mrs. Perkins was ill during nearly all of this remarkable voyage, but Mr. Perkins suffered no inconvenience. They will spend several months touring Europe.

Mrs. J. W. Crouch and daughter, Mrs. J. B. McIntire, are visiting relatives and friends in Wilmington.

Miss Katie Truitt is visiting her aunt, Mrs. William Steel, of Galena.

Mr. William McIntire, of Philadelphia, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McIntire.

Most prominent in the splendid hospitality extended to the delegates to the National Convention, was Mr. G. Wright Nicols. On Tuesday afternoon, all the old officers of the association were taken by trolley to the Maryland Bicycle Club, near Pikesville, where they were entertained at dinner by Mr. Nicols, of the Sanders & Stayman Company, Baltimore. Mr. Nicols is one of the officers of the association. He made an ideal host. Mr. Nicols is a brother of Mr. Harry Nicols, of Worton station, and is often a guest at the hospitable home of his brother in Kent.

Dr. J. B. Swatka, son of Mr. John A. Schwatka, of Rock Hall, and himself originally a Kent countain, conferred the degrees at the commencement exercises of the Maryland Medical College, on Tuesday night. Capt. Richard Pearson Hobson, the hero of the Merrimac, was the orator of the occasion.

Miss Mary Fennimore, the youngest member of Scroll, won first prize in the poetical contest of the Scroll and T. S. clubs last week. "The Hay of the Haunted Can" is a thrilling romance and is of quite a different type of poem from Vara Villetta, the poem which won first honors for Miss Fennimore in the same contest last year.

Mr. August Dreka, one of the oldest citizens of Sassafras, has returned to his Kent county home after spending the winter and spring with his son, G. A. Dreka, in DeLand, Florida.
