HOLLYWOOD STAR-LITES

By Chuck Cochard Vacations will be few and far between this year in Hollywood for the movie After a slow year of making films, the motion picture companies have suddenly started on a drive to fill the shortage of pictures in the theaters, which caused the film companies to reissue old pictures to meet the demand of theater owners.

Motion picture production will soar to an all-time high during this month, with more films in work and more people employed in every phase of production than at any time in the industry's history. The number of films simultaneously in work is expected to reach 70 far-exceeding the old mark of

Fans Protest 'Scarlett' Choice: Evidently Norma Shearer is not the unanimous choice of movie fans for the role of Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind" because ever since the announcement leaked out of David Selznick's studio he has been flooded with thousands of letters protesting this

And so the search maw continue for another Scarlett. Our choice without question would be Tallulah Bankhead, who really hails from the south (Alabama).

In One Ear: Margaret Sullivan is busy baby buggy shopping and out of the role of Melanie in "Gone With the Wind."

A new Turkish law prohibits children under 16 years of age attending film theaters even when accompanied by

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" has just been dubbed in the tenth foreign language. Janet Gaynor's part in "Three Loves Has Nancy" with Robert Montgomery and Franchot Tone will be a definite departure from the sweet girl role she always has played.

Inside Gossip:

Hedy Lamarr is the biggest potential star in Hollywood. She set this film city on its ear with the preview of "Algiers." She is the nearest thing to the late Jean Harlow this town has seen with plenty of glamour and sex appeal, but a brunette.

What is the name of the male star who has been accompanying the first lady of the screen to recent Hollywood gatherings? That's all for today. See you next week. Cut.
