OBITUARY.

MRS. ANNA HUBBARD WATTS.

Mrs. Anna Hubbard Watts, wife of Prof. Rowland Watts, of Western Maryland College, died at their residence at the College in Westminster, on Friday evening last, of heart failure, superinduced by pleuro-pneumonia, aged 40 years. The news of Mrs. Watts' death reached Chestertown on Saturday morning, and came like a bolt from a clear sky. It is not necessary for us to pen a eulogy of this good woman. The life that she led, her noble christian character, and lovely disposition, are too well known in this town, the scene of her girlhood days, to need any comment. In her life at Western Maryland College, associated as she was with strangers, and coming in contact with so many different dispositions, none knew her but to love her, none named her but to praise. Her life was a beautiful yet simple demonstration of the power of the influence of a sainted christian mother and lovely home, and wherever she went and in whatsoever sphere of life she was placed, in all things she was pleasant. Her influence, like the perfume of a beautiful rose, will live long after the body has crumbled to dust, and while the clay lies sleeping beside mother on the hill in the City of the Dead she has left to her loved ones the rich legacy of a noble and useful influence. The remains were brought to Chestertown on the 6 20 train on Saturday evening and taken to the residence of her brother, Wilbur W. Hubbard, on Washington avenue, where funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Rev. D. L. Greenfield officiating, assisted by Dr. Thomas H. Lewis, President of Western Maryland College. Interment was made in Chester cemetery. The pall bearers were Dr. James Roy Micou and Prof. E. J. Clarke, of Washington College, Dr. Fred Malone, of Greensboro, Md., and Messrs. J. D. Bacchus, Fred G. Usilton and R. H. Collins, of Chestertown. The floral tributes were large and beautiful. Christ M. P. Sunday School, in which Mrs. Watts was at one time a faithful teacher sent an appropriate tribute, others coming from Western Maryland College, where the deceased had exerted such a lovely influence over the student body. Undertaker John N. Dodd had charge of the funeral arrangements. Her bereaved husband, father and relatives have the sympathy of the entire community.

CHARLES BOYLES.

Mr. Charles Boyles, a prominent and highly respected young business man, died at the home of his uncle, Mr. J. T. Matthews, Golts, on Tuesday evening, of consumpton, aged about 28 years. Mr. Boyles was for some years engaged in a successful mercantile business with Mr. A. S. Turner at Worton Station, but owing to ill health was compelled to give up his business and seek a restoration to health. He spent sometime at Ashville, N. C., and felt so much improved in health that he removed to Golts Station about a year ago where he had been engaged in a prosperous business. The deceased was an honorary member of Washington Camp No. 51, P. O. S. of A., and was unmarried. Funeral services were held from the residence of his uncle yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. C. K. Morris officiating. Interment was made in St. Peter's cemetery, Smyrna, Del. The pall bearers were Messrs. Leon Stein, Isaac Jones, Manlove S. Jones, Elwood Morris, Charles Davis and Wm. Carrow.

JAMES OGDEN.

James Ogden, the sixteen year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McGuire, died at the home of his parents in Galena on Friday last of Typhoid fever. Funeral took place in the M. E. Church on Monday at 2 o'clock, Rev. C. K. Creed officiating, assisted by Rev. C. T. Prettyman. Interment was made in Galena cemetery. Undertaker W. H. Krusen had charge of funeral. The pall bearers were Edward Cannan, Wm. Steel, David Steel, Philip Ireland, Raymond Prettyman, James H. McIntyre.

MRS. WM. H. DADDS.

Mrs. Wm. H. Dadds died at her late residence on Calvert street, on Sunday morning last of throat consumption, aged 32 years. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon from the residence, Rev. D. L. Greenfield officiating. Interment was made in Chester cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. Joseph H. Hurtt, Harry H. Dadds, S. Clarence Dadds, Wm. F. Swab, Louis Lane and George Lowe. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Woman's Auxiliary.—The semi-annual convention of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Easton, will convene in the Holy Cross Chapel, Millington, Tuesday evening, Oct. 20th at 7.30. Address of welcome by the Rev. Albert Ware; sermon by Bishop Adams, celebration of the Holy Communion 10 A. M. Wednesday morning, followed by a business meeting. A Missionary Meeting at 3. P. M., with address by Miss Mahoney, of South Africa. Service at 7.30 in the evening, address by the Rev. R. S. Claiborne, of Swanee, Tenn. All are cordially welcome.

Mr. J. C. Jones, of Lynch's, was called to Middletown last week on account of the illness of his brother, Lieutenant Jones.

WEDDING BELLS.

PERKINS—HAYES.

Midst a scene of rare beauty and in the presence of a brilliant assemblage, Mr. Thomas Wickes Perkins, the popular teller in the Kent County Savings Bank, and Miss Beulah Hayes, the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Theodore E. Hayes, were pronounced husband and wife on Thursday evening at 6.30 o'clock in Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church. The beautiful ring ceremony was impressively performed by the rector, Dr. H. B. Martin. The church had been gorgeously decorated by the friends of the happy couple, and as the bridal party stood around the chancel it presented a scene of splendor and beauty. The strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Frances Olivia Wilkins, announced the arrival of the bride-elect. She entered the church leaning on the arm of Mr. Joseph Trapnell, of Charlestown, West Va., by whom she was given away, gowned in a superb costume of white liberty silk over taffeta, with tulle veil, and carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Immediately preceding the bride was the Maid of Honor, Miss Elizabeth Walnut, of Philadelphia, wearing a beautiful gown of white Paris mousseline, trimmed with lace over white taffeta. The bride was met at the chancel by the groom and his best man, Mr. George Perkins, of Philadelphia, dressed in evening suits. The ushers, in full dress suits, Messrs. Lewin W. Wickes, Clarence W. Perkins, Eben F. Perkins, Chas. F. Warwick, Jr., of Philadelphia, Dr. C. P. Gilpin and George Vickers, preceeded the bride and Maid of Honor, and grouped themselves very gracefully about the chancel, the whole completing one of the prettiest and most fashionable weddings ever solemnized in Chestertown. Immediately following the ceremony a charming reception was given at the home of the bride's mother on Washington avenue. Those receiving were the bride and groom, Miss Walnut, the Maid of Honor, Mr. George Perkins, the best man, and Mrs. Theodore E. Hayes. Refreshments were in charge of a Caterer from Baltimore, and were served in the most approved style. Each guest upon departing received a dainty little box containing bits of the wedding cake. The home decorations were beautiful. Among the out of town guests were Ex-Mayor and Mrs. Charles F. Warwick, of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trapnell, of Charlestown, West Va., Mr. and Mrs. Jones, of Cecilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Williams, of Cecil county. The presents consisting of handsome cut glass, solid silver, etc., were numerous and useful, among them being a handsome Onyx clock from the Directors of the Kent County Savings Bank. The bride and groom left for a Northern tour shortly after the reception. The bride's "going away" gown was of blue broadcloth. Congratulations.

HURLOCK—HURLOCK.

A very pretty, though quiet wedding was solemnized at Greenfield, the home of Mr. D. Thomas Hurlock, near Church Hill, Wednesday morning at 11.30 o'clock. The contracting parties were Mr. Samuel Stephens Hurlock, of Massey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Hurlock, and grandson of Mr. Samuel Hurlock, of Cecilton, and Miss Maude Alberta Hurlock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Thos. Hurlock, and grand-daughter of Mr. David Hurlock. The bride and groom's grandfathers are brothers. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room, which had been tastefully decorated with chrysanthemums, autumn leaves, evergreens and potted plants, the color effect being green and gold. At the strains of Lohengrin's bridal march, beautifully rendered by Miss Coppage, of Hayden, the bridal party entered the room in the usual order, viz, the Maid of Honor, Miss Florence Hurlock, sister of the groom, wearing a beautiful gown of blue silk mull, trimmed with lace. She carried a white prayer book bound in ivory, from which the ceremony was read, then the bride, leaning upon the arm of her father, dressed in a magnificent gown of imported lace over white taffeta with a long veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower boquet of white roses. The bride-elect was met under the triple arch of yellow flowers and evergreens by the groom and his best man, Mr. R. Bradford Johnson, of Sassafras. They were attired in [illegible] grey trousers grey gloves and white ties. The centre arch represented a double heart, beyond which was a bank of evergreens, and under this arch they were made husband and wife by Dr. H. B. Martin, of Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church, of Chestertown. At the conclusion of the ceremony the newly married couple received the best wishes and congratulations of their friends, after which breakfast was served, consisting of oyster, salad, sandwitches, coffee, chocolate, orange ice and cake. Among the guests were the following: Mr. Clarence Hurlock and family, Dr. Coppage, Mr. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John Lucas, Miss Meginniss, Miss Bertha Downes, Mrs. Downes, Mrs. Martha Hall and family, Mr. William Hurlock and family, Mr. and Mrs. Palmatory, Mr. Joe Roberts, Miss Mary Coppage, Miss Lily Rochester, Mr. E. G. Coppage and family, Mr. Faithful, Dr. Norman Dudley and Misses Dudley, Miss Valliant, Miss Nellie Valliant Miss Sallie Chance, Misses Sallie and Margaret Coppage and others.

KENDALL—WARREN.

Fairlee M. E. Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening. The contracting parties were Miss Alice Naomi, the popular and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Azariah M. Kendall, of Fairlee, and Mr. Francis Burton Warren, a popular young business man of the same town. The church was beautifully decorated with potted plants and fall flowers and the soft light of the chandeliers added a charm and dignity to the scene. Promptly at the appointed hour, 7.30 o'clock, the bride, leaning on the arm of the groom entered the church, preceded by the Maid of Honor, Miss Ida Hudson, attired in a gown of becoming blue, the flower girl, Miss Gertie Emerson, dressed in cream and carrying a basket of white roses, and the ushers, Messrs. Thomas Kendall and William Maslin, dressed in conventional black. The bride's costume was a beautiful creation of white mousseline, and she carried a large boquet of white roses. The groom wore the conventional black. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Poole, pastor of Fairlee M. E. Church, and the wedding march was rendered by Miss Fannie Ward. A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony, at which only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The couple left on the following morning for a trip to Washington and elsewhere. They were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Clarence Bradley has moved from Lankford to Crumpton, where he will engage in the blacksmith and wheelwright business.

One day last week School Examiner George Biddle, of Elkton, picked from his garden on East Main street, a number of ripe strawberries which were delicious in flavor. They were a part of a second crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Hurtt, of Wilmington, has been visiting friends in Chestertown. Joe has not visited his old home for more than eight years.

Mr. Spencer Hurtt, of Philadelphia, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in town.

Mrs. George C. Atkinson celebrated her 85th birthday on Thursday at her home on High street. Mrs. Atkinson is perhaps the oldest woman in Chestertown and one of the oldest women in the county. Notwithstanding her age her faculties are well preserved and she and her aged husband enjoy the respect of the entire community. The TRANSCRIPT wishes her many more years of happiness and good health.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Howarth, and Miss Robena Rolph, of Baltimore, were guests at Hotel Vosbell this week. Mr Howarth is Chief Auditor in the B. & O. Railroad Office, Baltimore.

Miss Marianna Hardcastle, of the Washington College Faculty, attended the wedding of her sister in Easton on Thursday.

Rev. Thos. B. Gardner, of New York, is the guest of friends in town.

Mrs. K. M. Bull is spending a few days visiting her parents at Fremont, Pa.

We are informed that Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Brown have no intention of moving to New York next year, as was announced in the TRANSCRIPT some weeks ago. They have given up the house on Queen street, but have made no plans for the future. We shall be very glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Brown remain in our community.

Mrs. Margaret Stephens, of Baltimore, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reese Beck, on Maple avenue.

Mr. Harry Lynch, of Havre de Grace, spent Sunday with friends here.

Dr. James W. Chapman, Jr., spent Sunday in town.

Miss Cecilia MacMeniman, of Philadelphia, is the guest of her brother, Mr. David B. MacMeniman and his wife, on Washington Avenue.

Mr. Edward Usilton, of Philadelphia, has been the guest of his brother, Mr. William B. Usilton and family, this week, on High street.

Mr. Samuel Ford, of Middletown, formerly a resident of Chestertown, spent Friday night with friends here.

We regret to report that Mrs. Carrie Sheetz, of Washington, D. C, is ill of appendicitis. A successful operation was performed the other day and the patient is resting easy at this writing.

We are very glad to state that Miss Rebecca Eliason is very much improved.

Mr. Unit Rasin, of Philadelphia, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of his aunt, Mrs. James Alfred Pearce.

Mrs. J. E. Hurlock, of Millington, is the guest of friend in Allentown, Pa.

Cards are out announcing the wedding of Miss Anna Roberta Loud to Prof. W. M. Bosworth. The ceremony will be performed in Mt. Royal M. P. Church, Baltimore.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Griffith Cliff, of Massey, fell out of a milk wagon on Tuesday sustaining a fracture of the arm.

Mrs. Wm. J. Vannort has returned from a pleasant visit to her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Rayner, of Baltimore. Mrs. Vannort will leave shortly to spend the winter with her daughter Mrs Sheppard in Chicago.

Mr. John R. Rollison has accepted employment in Philadelphia and left for that city last week.

Mr. Harrison Vickers spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs Harrison W. Vickers, at "Lauretum Place."

It is reported that Capt. Joseph W. Thompson, of Philadelphia, formerly of Chestertown, has formed a company with a capital stock of $100,000 to operate a steamboat line between Milton, Del. and Philadelphia.
