MILLINGTON MATTERS.

The Annual Convention of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, was held in Trinity M. E. Church (South) June 11th and 12th and 13th. Saturday evening a reception was given the delegates commencing at 8 P. M. Mrs. James Baxter presided over the meeting. A very enjoyable program was rendered. Rev. J. H. Kuhlmann made the address of Welcome, which was heartily responded to by Mrs. B. F. Davis, of Trinity Church, Baltimore. Mrs. Kuhlmann sang a solo; Miss Bessie Hurlock recited a selection, "The Street Musican," and Miss Evelyn Rolph recited, "God is no-where." Several selections were sung by the congregation. Sunday morning Services were held in the church at 10.30 A. M. Rev. J. H. Kuhlmann, pastor of the church preached, and after the sermon the sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Kuhlmann gave a delightful talk to the Sunday School which was enjoyed exceedingly. Mrs. Frampton, of Royal Oak, addressed the school. Recitations were given by Miss Margaret Brinsfield, of Chesterville, and Master Victor Pennington. Miss Bessie Hurlock recited "The Volunteer Organist;" Misses Margaret Jones and Lulu Benton each sang a solo, and Misses Lulu Benton and Daisy Felton sang a beautiful duet. Master James Pennington made the closing address after which devotional services were held, led by Mrs. Davis, of Baltimore.

Sunday evening a devotional service was held, over which Mrs. Davis presided. Monday a service was held at 8 A. M. Miss Bevan, of Arlington, near Baltimore, presided. Mrs. J. L. Smith made a brief talk on the work, and Rev. Edwin Gardner, pastor of Asbury M.E. Church, addressed the society. Mrs. Kuhlmann sang a solo, "I'll go Where You Want Me to go." At 10 A. M. a business meeting was held. Mrs. Kuhlmann and Mrs. Davis addressed the meeting, each giving a very interesting account of the Home Missionary work. A paper was read on missionary and deaconess work by Miss Edith Linthicum, the secretary. At the conclusion of the business meeting a devotional meeting was held. At the close of the meeting lunch was served on the church green by the ladies of the church and society. Monday afternoon at 2 P. M. Rev. Mr. Ridner, of Church Hill, opened the meeting by a scripture reading and prayer. Mrs. Kuhlmann presided over the business meeting which followed. Calling of the delegates of the societies they represented for the reports of the work done by their societies. The reports were very interesting, showing the work being done among the women of all branches of the work. Fine reports were read by delegates from Trinity Church, Baltimore, Millington, Chesterville, Church Hill, and Royal Oak auxiliaries. Miss Bevran, of Arlington, made a very interesting address, and read a paper. Dr. C. P. Gowman sang a solo entitled, "Calvary," and little Miss Marjory Maynard, of Baltimore, sang a solo, "Hear the Pennies Dropping." An invitation was extended by Rev. Mr. Kidner, of Church Hill, in behalf of the auxiliary there to hold their next convention there, which was accepted, with the proviso, should any thing occur to prevent, the Church Hill Society should be notified. Resolutions were read and adopted, after which the minutes of the convention were read by the secretary, Miss Edith Linthicum. Miss Edith Bevran thanked the ladies in behalf of the convention for their kind entertainment while they were here. The convention closed with prayer by Rev. J. H. Kuhlmann and the congregation singing. "God be With You 'Till We Meet Again." Rev. Mr. Kidner pronounced the benediction. The delegates from a distance were: Miss Bevan, of Arlington; Mrs. J. C. Maynard, Mrs. B. F. Davis, Mrs. A. U. Pollard and Miss Edith Linthicum, of Baltimore; Mrs. Frampton, of Royal Oak; Mr. and Mrs. Kidner, Mrs. Brown and the Misses Walls, of Church Hill, and several visitors from Chesterville, Sudlersville, Barclay and the surrounding country.

Children's Day was observed in Asbury M. E. Church last Sunday. The program was skillfully rendered by the children who had been trained by an untiring committee. The pastor Rev. Edwin Gardner made an interesting address, telling when Children's Day was first observed, showing the picture of the church and giving the pastor's name who first started it. The children sang and recited well, and the music was fine. Several vocal and instrumental solos were rendered. Earnest Radjesky played a beautiful selection on the Violin accompanied by Mrs. C. P. Gowman, organist. The church was beautifully trimmed with potted plants, cut flowers and the national flag; the collection was very liberal.

Holy communion will be celebrated in Holy Cross Chapel next Sunday morning at 10.30 o'clock A. M., by the rector Rev. Albert Ware. Several young ladies took a boating picnic down the river Tuesday, they left about 10 A. M. and returned about 5. P. M.
