LOCAL MATTERS.

Mill Purchased.—Messrs. John E. Morris and Charles Brown on Thursday of this week consummated the purchase of the mill near St. Paul's church, known as Price & Topping's mill. The mill was formerly owned by Mr. Harry W. Moore, who will continue to act in the capacity of manager. The price paid was $4,500. Messrs Morris and Brown will improve the mill by the addition of some modern machinery and storage room.

Sales Well Attended.—The personal property sales of Messrs. Robert T. Cochran on Monday and Smith H. Burris on Wednesday, advertised in the TRANSCRIPT, drew a crowd of buyers and prices for stock and implements ran high. At the Cochran sale weanling colts sold for $50 and two year olds as high as $145. Cows brought $45 and implements sold in proportion. At the Burris sale stock sold very well horses brought good prices and cows and farming implements sold well. The auctioneer at these were George Padley and Chas. H. Hurlock, respectively.

Bedworth, Jr., Beaten.—The free-for-all races at Electric Park, Baltimore, on Thursday of this week was one of the best of the season in Maryland. Effie Powers, the game little Baltimore mare that has won so many victories for her owner, succeeded in defeating Bedworth, Jr., in three straight heats. Time 2.10¼ 2.11¼. and 2.12¼. Bedworth finished 2, 2, 3 in the race. Other horses in the race were Twinkle, Rockport and Hal Fredda. Bedworth is entered in the great free-for-all at Gentlemen's Driving Park on Thursday of next week with some of the fastest horses in the country.

Sale of Easton Ledger.—Wm. J. Price, Jr., and J. S. Elliott Pardee, editors and publishers of the Centreville Observer have purchased the Easton Ledger, edited for the past 22 years by the late Geogre E. Haddaway. Mr. Pardee will remove to Easton and assume active charge of the Ledger on September 1st. The editors of the Observer are among the prominent journalists of the Shore, and the TRANSCRIPT extends best wishes for the success of the Ledger under its new management. The price paid is said to have been $3,500. The paper will likely be published in new form and dress.

Took a Short Walk.—The-nine-year-old twin sons of Mr. Harry Howard, of Flordia, who has been the guest of his mother, Mrs. Mary J. Howard, in Still Pond, for several weeks, started for a short walk the other morning to see some of the farmers plowing. They had heard of a place called Chestertown, and after they had reached the fork in the road near Still Pond Station, and not finding any of the farmers plowing, they determined to walk to Chestertown, which to their boyish minds, was a great city. They lost their way several times, but by following the telephone poles, and making inquiry of people whom they met along the road, they had reached the top of Goose Hill, when Miss Mattie Davis, of near Still Pond, came along in her carriage and brought the pedestrians to Chestertown, where they have since been the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Mamie Dodd. The little fellows left home at seven o'clock in the morning and reached Chestertown at eleven. They were so much pleased with Chestertown that they decided to spend a while here.

OBITUARY.

ARAMINTA COLEMAN.

Miss Araminta Coleman, daughter of the late Darius and Elizabeth Coleman, died at her residence in Baltimore, 1929 Edmundson avenue on August 20, after a short illness. The deceased with her parents was formerly a resident of the lower part of this county. Funeral services were held at her late residence in Baltimore on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment private.

TOURNAMENT AT ROYSTON.

Mr. Irving Walker Provides an Afternoon of Fine Sport for the People of Kent and Queen Anne's County.

There are many young men in Queen Anne's county who are experts with the lance and ring, and Mr. Irving Walker afforded these young men an opportunity to try their mettle at his beautiful country home, Royston, in Queen Anne's last Saturday afternoon. While the contest was open only to Amateur Knights, the participants proved conclusively that they were no novices at the business, and furnished a most interesting exhibition of skilful riding to the large assemblage from both counties. The knights participating in the riding were as follows:

KNIGHTS.

D. Hopper Smith,	of Sudlersville,
Howard Story	Chester River
Clements Jester	Kent Island
Claud Blackiston	Queen Anne's
J. Townsend Anthony	Wye
J. Ross Corbin	Penn
J. Albert Rochester	Church Hill
J. Rouse Story	Centreville
Benjamin Willis	Round Top
H. Leonard Corbin	Royston
Tilden E. Story	Queenstown
John Leager	I. B.
Edgar Hurlock	Baltimore
Sterling Evans	Rolph

Mr. J. E. Ferguson, of Chestertown, delivered the charge to the knights in a few well chosen remarks. The judges were Messrs. Albert Story, John C. Smith and J. E. Ferguson, Mr. Charles McKee was flagman. Mr. John Leager, Knight of I. B. won first prize, a riding bridle, and Mr. D. Hopper Smith, Knight of Sudlersville, won second prize, a riding whip. Mr. J. Albert Rochester, Knight of Church Hill, won third prize, and won the honor of crowning Miss Louise Urie, Queen of Love and Beauty; Mr. Clemants Jester, Knight of Kent Island, crowned Miss Estella Anthony first maid of Honor; Mr Howard Story, Knight of Chester River, crowned Miss Martha Evans, second maid of Honor. The event was a most delightful social function as well as a pleasant summer diversion.

LITTLE LOCALS.

*†*Oysters will be ripe next Thursday. A good crop is predicted.

*†*Mrs. N. C. Gheen, of Baltimore, is the guest of Miss Mamie Thompson, on High street.

*†*Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bacchus and son James are spending a few days in Baltimore with relatives.

*†*County Surveyor Milton Melvin has been making a survey of the town of Betterton. He has been assisted by his brother, W. Fletcher Melvin.

*†*Mr. Jas. P. Sutton, with his two threshing rigs has threshed nearly 40,000 bushels of wheat during the season. He still has a large quantity in the stack to thresh.

*†*Mr. Wm. S. Carroll has contracted to erect a stable on Hon. C. T. Westcott's farm, tenanted by Mr. Thomas Trew, to replace the building recently destroyed by fire.

*†*Mrs. Clifton L. Jarrell is the owner of one of the finest teams in Kent. She has recently purchased a handsome rubber tire runabout, and the team presents an attractive appearance on our streets.

*†*Mr. Robert G. Nicholson is driving a fine gray horse which Mr. David B. Stewart sent over from Baltimore to be used on the county roads. He is a stylish horse and makes a fine appearance on the road.

*†*While playing on the platform over the tomato vat at the Canning & Mercantile Co.'s cannery this week, one of the little "Bohicks" pushed another over. He fell into the vat and came near being drowned.

† Wilbur W. Hubbard, owner of Hotel Imperial, will fit up the storeroom on the first floor of the building to be used as an office and sample room in connection with the hotel, of which Mr. J. B. Burchinal is proprietor.

*†*One of the largest vessels that has ever entered the Chestertown harbor has been discharging a cargo of 400 tons of fertilizer from Florida, at Wilbur W. Hubbard's factory near town during the week. She is a three masted schooner with three topsails.

*†*The State Council Jr. O. U. A. M. is preparing for the Second Annual Celebration at Gwynn Oak Park, Baltimore, on Juniors Day, Sept. 12th, in commemoration of the successful repulse of the British troops in the campaign against Baltimore in 1814.

*†*Quite a number of young folks enjoyed a "fish fry" on the shore of Mr. Wm. H. Cooper's farm near Melitota, on Thursday. The "fry" was arranged by Walter T. Morris and sister, Miss Sadie, and every one had a delightful time and all the delicacies of the season to eat.

*†*Messrs. G. E. Leary & Son, Rock Hall, have received the contract for the erection of a large dwelling and store for Mrs. Mollie Blackiston, to replace the one recently destroyed by fire in that town. They are also erecting a large dwelling for Mr. Wm. T. Apsley in Rock Hall.

*†*A magnificent night blooming cereus has been on exhibition at Moody & Lusby's large clothing store during the week. It unfolded four beautiful blooms and was admired by many spectators. It is the property of Miss Etta Edwards, who delights in the culture of choice and beautiful flowers.

*†*Mr. John H. O. Stokes, of near Still Pond, has been shipping large quantities of choice fruit to Philadelphia markets during the week On Tuesday he shipped a large consignment of Reeves for which he received $1.35 per basket. Mr. Stokes will have about 6,000 baskets of peaches this season, and has recived excellent prices for all of his shipments.

*†*The canneries at the wharf and depot are running on full time now, packing tomatoes and corn. The cannery at the depot employs Bohemian labor, and the one at the wharf is employing colored labor. The tomato crop is said to be the heaviest and best the county has experienced for years, and those who have contracted are the lucky ones this year.

*†*A meeting for the purpose of selecting a new site for the erection of the Protestant Episcopal Chapel, Millington, was held at the home of Mrs. Emma Cochran last week. No definite action was taken in the matter other than the selection of a committee to look into the matter. Miss Evelyn Cochran was selected to solicit funds to aid in rebuilding.

*†*The Kent and Queen Anne's Fair at Tolchester next week promises to be the largest and best in the history of this association. The race programme is one of the best the company has ever presented to the public, and already the stables are filling up with prominent campaigners. Wednesday, Aug. 31, will be children's day, and there will be lots of little folks there, we are sure.

*†*County Treasurer Walter H. Hadaway has made two changes in his September sittings since last week. He will sit at Kennedyville Friday, Sept. 28, at W. A. Pote's store, instead of Monday, Sept. 19, as heretofore published. He will be at Walter S. Trew's store, Pomona, Monday, Sept. 19, instead of Friday, Sept. 23, as heretofore published. Mr. Hadaway makes these changes as a matter of convenience.

Real Estate Sales.

Capt. Andrew Woodall has purchased the Kennedy farm adjoining the town of Kennedyville, containing 312 acres of land, through Lewin W. Wickes, Esq., attorney, for $53 per acre, or $16,567,25. This farm was advertised for sale a few weeks ago exclusively in the TRANSCRIPT, and is another illustration of the value of advertisements placed in this paper.

Mr. David B. Stewart, of Baltimore, has purchased of Mr. William Hague, his farm of 20 acres, together with the household furniture, crops, implements etc., for $1500. A Mr. Vansant will tenant the farm.

County Commissioner Louis C. Ayres has purchased of Mr. A. L. Judefind the William Maslin property opposite the home of Dr. W. O. Selby near Edesville.

Accidents.

Dr. Frank W. Smith, of Frirlee, was taken to the Maryland General Hospital, Baltimore, on Monday for treatment of an injury received by the kick of a horse several weeks ago.

Mr. Hugh Wallis, rural mail carrier, Route No. 1 from Worton Station, was thrown from his wagon and painfully bruised last Saturday. He was on his regular trip near Fairlee, when his horse became frightened and ran away.

PISTOL SHOT PROVES FATAL.

Albert Constable, Esq., Succumbs to the Wounds Inflicted by a Pistol in the Hands of Some Unknown Person.

Mr. Albert Constable, the distinguished Elkton lawyer, who was waylaid and robbed on the top of Red Hill, near Elkton, last Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock, died of the wuonds inflicted by his assailant's pistol on Tuesday afternoon at 5.30 o'clock at the Protestant Episcopal Infirmary, Baltimore, where he had been taken shortly after the tragedy. The incidents relating to the assault upon Mr. Constable were reported in full in last week's TRANSCRIPT. The remains were brought to Elkton where funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The death of Mr. Constable has cast a gloom over the entire State, because he was a man of great force of character, brilliant mind and magnetic social qualities. His death has caused a most serious loss to the legal profession of which he was a most brilliant member, and in proportion as his loss is great so should the punishment be meted out to the desperado who took the life of the great barrister. Every effort is being made by the authorities of Cecil county and the State to run down the criminal and bring him to speedy justice, and a large reward has been offered for his capture. Up to the present time, however, he has not been caught. Two suspects, John Holland and William Hopps, colored, are in Elkton jail, but there is no evidence to prove their guilt at present. The death of Mr. Constable has aroused the entire State, and the authorities of the law are determined to put a stop to such crimes which are becoming much too frequent in the State.

The funeral of the murdered lawyer was attended by prominent lawyers from all over the State. Harrison W. Vickers, Esq., one of Mr. Constable's most intimate friends, was at his bedside in the infirmary, shortly after he reached the city, and remained with him until shortly before he died. He was present at his funeral in Elkton yesterday. Among others of the legal profession who attended the funeral from Chestertown were: Chief Judge James Alfred Pearce, State's Attorney W. W. Beck, Hope H. Barroll, Esq., and R. D. Hynson, Esq. The funeral was attended by prominent lawyers from all over the State.

Mrs. Dr. Samuel Beck and Mrs. A. E. Physick, of Chestertown, were also in attendance.

ELMER HINSON BREAKS JAIL.

Negro Accused of Firing Cannon Property in Quaker Neck Picks Lock and Escapes in the Night.

Elmer Hinson, the negro who was arrested several weeks ago by Detective Thomas, of the Baltimore Police Force, on the charge of setting fire to the property of Mr. Wesley Cannon, near Pomona, and lodged in jail for the action of the grand jury at the October term of court, broke jail sometime on Thursday night between 9 o'clock P. M. and 2 o'clock A. M., by slipping the chain through the lock on the big corridor door where he had been confined. Hinson made his escape through the kitchen window which Mrs. Keyser found open yesterday morning upon going to the kitchen to superintend breakfast. Sheriff Keyser stated to the TRANSCRIPT reporter that he had been away from home all day Thursday and did not get back until nearly two o'clock yesterday morning. He did not notice anything unusual upon entering the jail and went to his room and retired. When he awoke yesterday morning he found Hinson gone. He immediately telephoned to Baltimore, Philadelphia, Wilmington, Centreville and places in different parts of the county for the authorities to be on the lookout for the prisoner. Deputy Sheriff Samuel Startt spent the day in the upper part of the county and Sheriff Keyser boarded the afternoon train for Wilmington yesterday hoping to find Hinson in that city. Another prisoner who had been using the corridor with Hinson told the sheriff that he had noticed Hinson examining the lock on several occasions but did not think he meant to escape. There was nothing broke about the lock or chain. Hinson made the discovery that the door could be opened by slipping the lock and staple through a link in the chain. It was a slick trick and one which only one accustomed to tampering with locks could perform. The door had been locked in the same manner for four years and no one but Hinson had ever found out how easy it was to escape. Sheriff Keyser has purchased a new lock and should the jail bird be caught, he will not escape so easily again.

Mr. Harrison desires to know and requests growers to inform him of the number of crates of peaches, pears, apples or plums each expects to contribute. The contribution must be ready by September 8, proximo. Vegetables as well as fruits will be received and placed on exhibition. All growers desiring to exhibit their products, whether fruits or vegetables, can get full information by addressing Orlando Harrison, Berlin, Worcester county, Md.

NERVES GAVE WAY—
PE-RU-NA CURED.

Mrs. X. Schneider, 2109 Thirty-seventh Place, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"After taking several remedies without result, I began in January, 1902, to take your valuable remedy, Peruna. I was a complete wreck. Had palpitation of the heart, cold hands and feet, female weakness, no appetite, trembling, sinking feeling nearly all the time. You said I was suffering with systemic catarrh, and I believe that I received your help in the nick of time. I followed your directions carefully and can say to-day that I am well again. I cannot thank you enough for my cure. I will always be your debtor. I have already recommended Peruna to my friends and neighbors and they all praise it. I wish that all suffering women would try it. I testify this according to the truth."—Mrs. X. Schneider.

Mrs. Fanny Klavadatscher, of Summitsville, N. Y., writes as follows:

"For three months I suffered with pain in the back and in the region of the kidneys, and a dull, pressing sensation in the abdomen, and other symptoms of pelvic catarrh.

"But after taking two bottles of Peruna I am entirely well, better than I ever was."—Mrs. Fanny Klavadatscher.

New Advertisements.

The law governing traction engines appears in this issue by order of the Board of County Commissioners. Those interested should not fail to read it.

Ireland's drug store in the town of Galena is for rent for 1905. This is one of the most profitable stands on the Eastern Shore for this business. Terms are moderate. See advertisement on front page.

There will be a splendid supper served by the ladies of St. James M. P. Church on the lawn of Mr. Robert G. Nicholson's home this evening. It will be served in most excellent style and in great abundance. You'll get your money's worth. Don't fail to go. That's all.

Do not forget the horse sale in the Voshell House yard on Tuesday afternoon next at 1 o'clock. This will be a rare opportunity for you to purchase something fine in the way of a speeder, coach, saddle or work horse. It is all finely bred Pennsylvania stock and will sell for the high dollar. See advertisement on front page.

The popular Welsh Brothers Railroad Shows and Monster Trained Animal Exhibition, is one of the institutions of America that has been for the past seventeen years under the same management that created it. Its methods have received the very highest indorsement in every city or town it has visited. Its promises are always faithfully performed and its announcement accepted as meaning exactly what they plainly state. The show is billed to appear at Chestertown, one day only, Aug. 30.

IT WAS ALWAYS SO.

When you go into a store have you ever noticed what a difference it makes in the clerks when some member of the firm is around? It is the same way in other lines — the same way in a business school. In the Wilmington Business School, the proprietor is a teacher, and is constantly in the school room supervising and instructing. To those who know Mr. Beacom, this is a guarantee of success. And the graduates are successful. Not one has failed. While the school is but four years old, it already has over fifty young people with one firm; sixteen with another; eight with another. Any one of these firms would have taken double the number they now have if they could have secured them. If you are interested in a business training, better write the Wilmington Business School, Wilmington, Delaware, for a catalogue. It tells you all about it and gives a list of firms employing their graduates.

DROWMED AT TOLCHESTER.

Leo Winkler, the nine-year-old son of Mr. Alvin Winkler, 136 North Washington street, in an effort to catch a piece of paper drifting toward the water lost his balance on Tuesday morning and fell from the stern of the steamer Louise and was drowned. The steamer was about to make her landing at Tolchester when the accident occurred. The little boy had been left in care of his twelve-year-old sister, while the mother had taken a second sister to another part of the boat. The little girl after she had seen her brother's body plunge head first into the bay, ran, frightened, to tell her mother of the sad accident. The Louise was directed backed over her course to where the boy was supposed to have fallen overboard. Supt. George E. Noland was notified and immediately sent boats to drag for the body. The father of the drowned boy was notified after the arrival of the steamer in Baltimore on Tuesday night. The Tolchester Company is to be commended for the promptness with which they set about rescuing the body of the drowned boy. These accidents are liable to occur anywhere, especilly among reckless and thoughtless children, and there is no blame whatever to be attached to the Company for the above sad affair.
