WARWICK ITEMS.

On Thursday of last week about 3 P. M. a large smoke was noticed a short distance from here, and soon the cry of fire was heard, and upon investigating it was found to be at the home of of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. King, which in a very short time was a total loss, so rapidly did the flames spread that it was impossible to save but a little of the furniture. They have the sympathy of the whole community in this time of loss.

Our pastor, Rev. Frank S. Cain, and wife returned to be with us for another year, and although it stormed quite hard a number of the members and friends from Sassafras and Warwick appointments met at the parsonage on Friday, 21st, to welcome them home, and give them a donation. Quite a good time was reported to have been had by all, and about 10 P. M. all departed for their homes wishing the Rev. and wife a happy and successful year in our midst.

On Easter Monday the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price was the scene of much merriment, the occasion being an egg hunt which was participated in by quite a number of children, and some grown folks. Two prizes were offered, one for finding the largest number of eggs, this was won by Master Richard Tarbutton; the other prize was to the one finding the egg marked Easter 1905, this was won by Miss Alice Waters. After the hunt was over ice cream and cake were served in abundance. As Mrs. Fred Robinson and three children were returning to their home from the egg hunt, the bridle bit broke causing the horse to run away, upsetting and demolishing the carriage, throwing all of the occupants out, and cutting and burising them considerably but fortunately no bones were broken, and at this writing all seem to be improving under the care of Dr. J. J. Wright.

Mrs. Samuel D. Wilson is quite sick but improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wilson were called to Oxford, Pa., last Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Wilson's sister.
