ROCK HALL ITEMS.

On Monday evening the S. D. A. church was filled, to celebrate the Harvest Ingathering. The following program was well rendered and reflected much credit to those who took part. Song, Sing to the Lord; scripture reading, Miss Irene Coleman; prayer Bro. Vanzart; opening address by Charles Elbourn, song by the choir, For the bounteous harvest, song by the little children, We are little gleaners; recitation, May Willis, Harvest Ingathering; Anthem, Sing unto the Lord; recitation, Willey Akers; recitation, A little pebble, Nellie Apsley; recitation, A chalk talk on giving, Avis Carter; offering, Thanks be to God, by the choir; recitation, Thanksgiving, Eva Edna Blackiston; Harvest Joy, ten children; Seed time and Harvest by choir; solo, Come Unto Me, Prof. Chas. Judifind; Thanks be to God, the choir; recitation, Rilla Coleman and Lillie Hubbard; recitation, George Rollison; duet, LeRoy Stevens and Allen Urie; dialogue, Nothing to do, May Willis and Irene Coleman; We are glad and grateful, the choir; reading, The healing of the daughter of Jairus, Miss Tarbell; closing by the choir rendering, The Little Harvesters.

At 9.30 the massive bell pealed forth its resonant notice to the M. E. congregation to assemble for worship. In the pulpit were Bros. Hardesty, Parris, Koons, Conoway and Burr. Presiding Elder Koons preached, taking for his subject: "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto Me." He said in part; that these words exhibited the character of Christ, his sympathy, his affection and his great love for man. He knew man's weakness and makes provision to enable him to overcome it. Knowing all the needs of man and the temptations to which he is exposed, Christ by His temptation on the Mount left lessons to teach man how to control them. Miss Clara Downey sang a very impressive solo, Come unto Me, then Bro. Burr made the following statement: that when he came here he found a debt of $1800 on the church and that he proposed that each man give the value of one day's work to the church. Through this effort they reduced the debt to $600. They had concluded to complete the church and had done so at a cost of $600. Had purchased a carpet costing $220, a bell for $291.10 the bell was a gift by the Epworth League, the carpet by the Aid Society. They had also purchased a chandelier for $65 and paid for it, that all he asked was to pay for the completion. In a few minutes the sum of $300 was realized. In the evening Rev. Hardesty preached from these words: For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world, and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith. He began by saying, that this world is the center of Satan's kingdom, that conformity to Christ is conflict to the world, that in this conflict man could make no draw, no comprise, but it must be a war to the end. The avenues through which Satan comes to man are through his sense, no where can he tempt but in this world. That faith is the revelation coming from God, through the Holy Ghost, a belief that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. That when men do sincerely believe this, they have life through His name and have overcome the world. Another appeal for help was made and $175 was collected making a total for the day of $475.

BETTERTON BRIEFS.

The young ladies of Betterton held a Hallowe'en Carnival at "the Atlantic" on Tuesday evening. The house was artistically decorated with candles, japanese lanterns, corn husks, corn and pumpkins. The receiving committee was disguised as ghosts, also entertaining committee. In an obscure corner was the tent of Queen Sheba, the palmist. The refreshments consisted of lemonade, chestnuts, ginger cakes, popcorn, candy and apples served by the ghosts. After many games and different amusements the evening closed with a genuine ghost story, every one expressing themselves as having a fine time.

The festival held in Crew's Hall Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the church proved a success.
