DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT:

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN,

OF NEBRASKA.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT:

JOHN WORTH KERN,

OF INDIANA.

FOR CONGRESS:

J. HARRY COVINGTON,

OF TALBOT COUNTY.

HON. WM. J. BRYAN, Democratic candidate for president, will speak in Baltimore, Sept. 14. Railroad and Steamboat lines will make reduced rates to the city on that date.

HON. J. HARRY COVINGTON, the Democratic nominee for Congress is making a most favorable impression throughout the First District. Can't help it. Mr. Covington in a good, clean, simon pure Democrat. There is no question about his carrying Kent county and the entire District.

THE NEGROES, who have the good of their race at heart, are organizing all over the country for the defeat of the Republican national ticket. They have been voting the Republican ticket ever since the war practically, and what recognition have they gotten? Nothing except to be treated like slaves in every election. If the negro knows what political independence means we should think that he would recognize that the time had about arrived for him to exercise his independence and vote for the party that will at least accord to him fair treatment.

THE CECIL WHIG is bewailing the apathy among its Republican adherants throughout the State. Editor Williams is scared out of his boots because he feels way down deep in his heart that Bryan is going to carry Maryland this trip, and he frantically urges the leaders of his party to get to work hard. Never mind, Bro. Williams, the people are awake to their interest this presidential year, and the sneers and jeers of the Republican and quondam Democratic newspapers about Mr. Bryan and his policies will avail nothing. Bryan is going to carry Maryland and will have votes to spare.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY has not a single issue upon which to go before the people of the country in this presidential campaign. The full dinner pail is empty, there ic a deficit of $60,000,000 in the national treasury, and the iniquitous Dingley tariff law has caused one of the greatest money panics in the history of the country. With such a record what are the Republican campaign speakers, newspapers and Candidate Taft doing? They are going around the country and publishing stuff in an effort to belittle the character of Mr. Bryan, endeavoring to create the impression that it would be a calamity to elect him, and that hard times always follow Democrat rule. Could the election of Mr. Bryan possibly be any worse than the condition which the country faces to-day? The Republican campaign is a sham from beginning to end, and they can never elect Mr. Taft under the sun except with the assitance of an immense campaign fund to debauch the electorate. The people are tired of Republican extravagance and deception. We need a change of government before it is too late, and Mr. Bryan's election will be a blessing to the great mass of the people.

MR. BRYAN, the Democratic candidate for the presidency, has made one swing around the circle, and the speeches he has made are so forceful and the ovations he has received are so pronounced that he expresses the confidence that he will be elected. The TRANSCRIPT firmly believes that he will. The people of this country know Mr. Bryan. They know him to be a man who believes in the divinity of Christ, who, being a christian gentleman, will do everything in his power to preserve the sanctity of our religious institutions, and who will by his conduct strive to embody in all his acts, the principles of his religion. The United States is distinctively a christian nation. It is through the influence of its christian rulers, and by the teachings of its churches that our country occupies a unique position among the nations of the world, and it has always been the pride of the people of this country that we have had in the White House a man who believes in the divinity of Christ, and who has guarded jealously our religious institutions. Let there be no deviation from this custom. The safety of our country lies in her religious teachings, and it is a most dangerous thing to place at the head of our government, a man whose religion does not recognize the greatest principle of our religious faith. Judge Taft may be mentally and socially qualified to fill the office of president of this great country, but if his religious faith is contrary to the prime principle of our country's religion he is a dangerous man to preside over the destinies of our country. Mr. Bryan is not only a Christian gentleman, but he is one of the most brilliant men this country has ever produced. He is fearless in his attitude, independent in his thinking, and is broad-minded enough to handle any international question that may arise. It is only the "Moneyed Intersets" of the country that sneer at his brilliancy, but the plain people, the mass of voters who desire to see equality of opportunity, who love justice, and who seek the highest good to the greatest number desire Mr. Bryan's election because they have the utmost confidence in him personally and in his ability as a statesman. Mr. Bryan's election will be for the best good of the country, financially religiously and every other way. Let Kent give him a rousing majority.

MR. BRYAN IN THE WEST.

The following very interesting letter was received this week from Mr. L. Wethered Barroll, who has spent the entire summer in the West. It is extremely interesting, and every Democrat in the State of Maryland should read it. We hope to hear more from Mr. Barroll's brilliant pen. He is a most interesting writer, and a keen observer of human nature, and knows how to express well what he observes.

Canon City, Colo., Aug. 23, 1908.

THE EDITORS OF THE TRANSCRIPT—
DEAR SIRS: The "sense of public duty" felt by the Baltimore Sun and it's tender solicitude "for the material interests of the people during the next four years," shown in supporting Taft for the presidency is interesting. Hypocricy is the flattery which vice pays to virtue. Your contemporary certainly has his own honesty under control, but he cannot cause the intelligent white voters of the State to swerve from their staunchly honest Democratic principles for a single instant.

It is pathetic the way that eastern papers, especially those in the North, continue firm in the delusion that all they say in politics, goes. All the journals and politicians in this world and the next, could no more have prevented Bryan's nomination by his southern and western following, than they could have turned Niagara backward up over the falls; and no more will they be able to stay the irresistably victorious democracy now sweeping him on to inevitable victory. To anyone with eyes other than those of a fish the reason for this state of affairs is simply this, Bryan has gained the regard, the confidence and the allegiance of the masses of the people who have no financial or political ax to grind; he has also gained the hatred, the opposition and the sincere distrust of those sane, safe and conservative gentlemen who have manipulated this government solely for their own selfish advantage ever since Grover Cleaveland ceased to hold office. Bryan is strong because he has ever refused to confuse just ce with expediency; he has striven for the God-made man, against the man-made God—the almighty dollar—and he has proven to the American people that he would rather be right than be president.

Bryan is stronger in the west than he has ever been by far. It is the opinion of a prominent lawyer, an editor and a judge of this city, that outside of California he will carry all the western States and nearly the entire Middle West. The great Democratic leader's strength has been latent here for eight years, but it is now all the more present and powerful.

The tremendous enthusiasm of the Denver convention has spread like a prairie fire after months of drought. The onward rush of triumphant Democracy spreads increasing consternation amid the strongest and most debauched citadels of Republicanism. Bryan will carry Colorado beyond the shadow of a doubt. He has the votes of the laborers, miners and Socialists throughout the west, besides tens of thousands of ranchmen, heretofore solid Republicans who have tired of G. O. P. prosperity and have promised to support the Nebraskan in no very temperate terms. The cattlemen will vote for Bryan as a unite because of the intense unpopularity of Roosevelt's paternalistic and meddling policies; one of which is the introduction of a tax of twenty-five cents per head on cattle grazing upon unclaimed forest reserves in the mountains. This tax is extortionate and absolutely uncalled for, as the mountain pastures are nearly inaccessible fastnesses to which the herds are driven for a time in mid summer and which would be entirely worthless except for this purpose. It is understood that our prophet of imperialism also contemplates an assessment on all bee hives because the bees suck his honey out of his flowers which grow on his forest reserves. These taxes no doubt do much good as they furnish Dr. Cortelyou with dope to fill up the gashes left in the nation's credit by those sacred patriarchs of Wall Street into whose keeping God in His infinite wisdom has entrusted the property interests of the country. Those patriotic men of finance who nearly wrecked the country in 1893 and tried again in 1907; for whom and by whom this government through the Senate is absolutely controlled.

The farmer, east or west, who can afford to vote the Republican ticket cannot afford to lay any claim to judgment, discretion, or even a faint knowledge of what he is doing. It is this party more than any other force that has made his labor scarce, his income small, his profit smaller and his lot unbearable. By a robber device known as the protective tariff it has raised the price of everything except his grain to double its true value. So that he pays $10 for $5 worth of sugar and $25 for a $12 suit of clothes as is proven by the price American goods sell for abroad. And the farmer has gone on voting for his own personal swindler because his tricky opponents assure him that unless he does so the whole fabric of our commonwealth will fall crashing about his ears; when in truth the prosperity or ruin of the country alone absolutely depends on the success or failure of agriculture. Everyone snatches a hand full of wool off the farmer until quite often he is entirely stark and bare, leaving him a shorn sheep or as poor as Job's turkey when to him should belong the fat of the land and the fullness thereof.

By repeating and reiterating and continually hitting one note, that all is well, the Republican organization is trying to lull the country to sleep with its prosperity nightmare, its full dinner pail, etc., as the Hindoo beats his tom, tom in religious rites until his listeners fall into a sort of trance. Are we to be so deceived?

Four years of Taft will give the country over to Wm. R. Hearst and the Socialists. Nothing but a war with Japan could prevent this.

It is time to choose now between a military despotism which would inevitably follow the tremendous centralization of governmental power caused by a Japanese conflict, or a voyage on the uncharted sea of Socialism without compass or pilot, or an ideal democracy as conceived by Washington and Jefferson and personified by that man of the people, Wm. Jennings Bryan. I am

Very truly yours,
L. WETHERED BARROLL.

Miss Mary Nickerson and friend have returned to Philadelphia after a pleasant visit here at her father's, D. T. Nickerson. Charley Nickerson accompaied them.

Miss Louise Bennett spent several days in Philadelphia the past week.

Mrs. Wm. Lipscomb passed away quietly on Friday morning last. She had been an invalid over twenty years, her husband and children were attentive to her day and night through all these years, and while death relieved her suffering and she is at rest, they miss mother. The funeral was held in the M. P. Church on Sunday afternoon at 2 P. M., Rev. E. S. Fooks officiating. In the absence of W. H. Kensen, his assistant, Mr. Penn Toulson, had charge of the funeral. The pall-bearers were: Isaac Cleaver, John R. Bennett, Tilghman Shafer, W. J. Hurlock, C. C. Ball and William Hague.

Mr. F. C. Miller is on on the sick list this week. The sick in our community are improving very slow. We hear that Mr. George Jones is quite sick at his home with Mr. Thos. Jones.
